

Sarah Coit Murder: Raul Barrera, former NYC publicist, pleads guilty to stabbing girlfriend

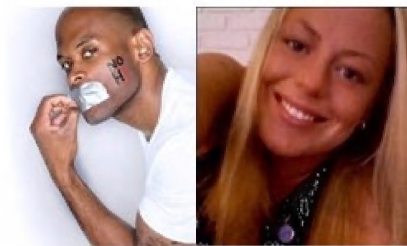

(CBS) NEW YORK: Raul Barrera, a 34-year-old publicist, plead guilty to murdering his girlfriend Sarah Coit, a 23-year-old former Hunter College student, during a fight last year where Barrera nearly decapitated Coit in their Manhattan apartment, the New York Daily News reports.

The former Propaganda NY and Coleman Entertainment group publicist stabbed Coit 24 times, cut her face repeatedly, and sliced Coit across the mouth and jaw with such force that the tip of the blade broke. The blow that ultimately killed the 23-year-old blonde was a stab to the left side of her back, leaving a "gaping stab wound to the left side of the torso from which internal organs were protruding," court records show.

The law-enforcement official said that police were called in January to a location in Midtown, where Ms. Coit complained that she and Mr. Barrera had gotten into a verbal dispute.

In March 2010, Mr. Barrera was arrested for an assault in which the victim, a male friend, had been granted an order of protection against Mr. Barrera.

He also has several domestic incident reports stemming from disputes with a woman with whom he had fathered a baby. The dispositions of those cases weren't immediately available.

Fashion publicist who brutally stabbed his young girlfriend to death with steak knives sentenced to 25 years to life in prison

Friends of Coit told the Daily News that she had finally decided to leave the abusive relationship and was moving out of Barrera's apartment days before her grisly murder.

"He didn't want her to leave and he didn't want her to be beautiful for anyone else. It was pure anger," a source told the Daily News.

Neighbors once called the police after one of their heated fights grew so loud that her blood curdling cries woke them, witnesses told the paper.

<https://www.cbsnews.com/news/sarah-coit-murder-raul-barrera-former-nyc-publicist-pleads-guilty-to-stabbing-girlfriend/>

<https://www.wsj.com/articles/SB10001424052748704641604576255260091826914>
<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2232498/Raul-Barreras-sentenced-killing-Sarah-Coit-brutal-murder.html>

Doctor sought in fatal shooting of former girlfriend at ECMC;

'She was deathly scared he would kill her': Friends reveal fears of hospital receptionist 'gunned down by prominent surgeon lover now on the run'

- Jackie Wisniewski, 33, lured into stairwell and shot at point-blank range
- Had previously dated alleged shooter Timothy Jorden Jr. for a year
- Jorden 'once held her captive and installed GPS device on her car'
- Prominent surgeon and former Army weapons expert still at large

Jacqueline Wisniewski, 33, was lured into a stairwell at the Erie County Medical Center in Buffalo, New York on Wednesday morning and shot multiple times in the head and upper body, police said.

The woman, who had a young son and was training to be a nurse, was allegedly gunned down by her ex-boyfriend Timothy V. Jorden, a former Army weapons expert who is still at large.

'She told me, "I'm scared",' her friend, Heather Shipley, told the Buffalo News. 'She said: "If anything happens to me, you know who did it".'

Shipley said Wisniewski had lived with Jorden but left him as she believed he was having affairs with other women. When they broke up after more than a year of dating, he refused to move on.

Wisniewski said the surgeon had put a GPS tracking device in her car to keep track of her movements. After she discovered the device, she filed a police report, Shipley said.

On another occasion, he held her captive in her home for a day and a half with a knife and stabbing her deep enough to draw blood, the friend said. He also once gave her a black eye, she said.

https://buffalonews.com/news/doctor-sought-in-fatal-shooting-of-former-girlfriend-at-ecmc-surgeon-not-found-at-home/article_fa71544a-7aa7-521d-9e85-42fa13be4984.html

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2159247/Timothy-Jorden-Jackie-Wisniewski-deathly-scared-surgeon-lover-kill-her.html>

A trauma surgeon at Erie County Medical Center suspected of luring his ex-girlfriend into a hospital stairwell before fatally shooting her multiple times at point-blank range remained at large late Wednesday.

A SWAT team had surrounded Dr. Timothy V. Jorden Jr.'s half-million-dollar Lake View home for nine hours before police completed their search and determined he was not there.

The victim, Jackie Wisniewski, 33, a single mother from West Seneca who was looking forward to her son's pre-K graduation today, had confided to friends that Jorden had abused her and that he had been stalking her.

"She told me, 'I'm scared,'" said her friend, Heather Shipley. "She said: 'If anything happens to me, you know who did it.'"

Jorden, 49, who had served in the Army Special Forces as a weapons expert, had been exhibiting strange behavior and had recently lost a dramatic amount of weight, colleagues and neighbors said.

Jorden recently had been driving by Wisniewski's house and taking down license plates of vehicles in the driveway, Shipley said.

Wisniewski, who had worked on the psychiatric floor at ECMC, found a GPS system that Jorden apparently planted on her car to keep track of her movements, Shipley said.

Toronto Surgeon Pleads Guilty to Murdering Doctor Wife

Love and Death

He was a brilliant neurosurgeon. She was a beloved family doctor. Their life seemed like a fairy tale—until her body was discovered in a suitcase by the Humber River. The untold story of Mohammed Shamji and Elana Fric Shamji.

BY MICHAEL LARSEN | MAY 9, 2019

Toronto neurosurgeon, 43, who strangled his physician wife, 40, stuffed her body into a suitcase and left it by a river days after she filed for divorce is sentenced to life in prison

- Mohammed Shamji pleaded guilty to second-degree murder last month
- He was sentenced to life in prison with no chance of parole for 14 years Thursday
- The neurosurgeon killed Elana Fric-Shamji, then 40, in 2016 after an argument
- The court was told Mohammed Shamji broke his wife's neck and ribs and choked her to death as their three children slept nearby
- Fric-Shamji alleged a marriage marred by domestic violence in divorce papers
- Couple were highly regarded doctors and Elana's mom said justice wasn't done

By LAUREN FRUEN and PAUL VALE FOR DAILYMAIL.COM

PUBLISHED: 18:25 EDT, 9 May 2019 | UPDATED: 21:15 EDT, 9 May 2019

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-7012641/Toronto-neurosurgeon-43-strangled-physician-wife-40-sentenced-life-prison.html>

<https://torontolife.com/city/crime/brilliant-neurosurgeon-beloved-family-doctor-untold-story-volatile-marriage/>

Milan Ross: Vegan chef 'shoots dead estranged wife and two children on Christmas Day'

Two women came forward to reveal a depraved past of Milan Ross.

He abandoned his family to be with Iris Sutherland who he married and killed on Christmas day, but two of his daughters from the abandoned family disclosed they were able to overcome the horror of Milan Ross by the help of counseling and therapy. Ebony Shuniece Ross and Shalonda Ross, two of his daughters he abandoned believed his mental and behavioral issues came back to haunt him.

Milan Ross left his family in 2003- Wife and four children, all girls in Missouri, the wife Nicol Ross file for divorce five years later after an effort to locate him were "unsuccessful", he went on to marry Iris Sutherland in 2009

The man thought to have killed his estranged wife and two children on Christmas is a well-known vegan chef, author and motivational speaker who suffered from depression but recently turned his life around.

Man accused of shooting, killing wife, two kids on Christmas was famed vegan chef, motivational speaker, report says

- Anthony Ross has been arrested after he allegedly shot his wife and two kids dead on Christmas Day at an upscale apartment complex in Phoenix
- He has been charged with three counts of first-degree murder and more than a dozen counts of aggravated assault on an officer
- Killed were 38-year-old Iris Ross, 11-year-old Nigel and 10-month-old Anora
- Ross was a vegan chef, author and motivational speaker who lost a significant amount of weight in his 20s when he cut out animal products
- His former sister-in-law described him as 'dark' and said he suffered depression
- Authorities say the Ross and his wife were in the middle of divorce proceedings

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-5214201/Vegan-chef-shot-dead-two-ex-wife-Christmas.html>

<https://konet-tv.com/2018/01/06/the-secret-life-of-anthony-milan-ross-the-vegan-chef-that-killed-his-family-on-xmas-day/>

Retired judge kills girlfriend in Ventura, then kills self

A retired Ventura County Superior Court judge shot and killed his girlfriend in a domestic dispute, then killed himself with the gun, Ventura police said Monday.

The deceased were identified as former Ventura County Superior Court Judge Herbert Curtis III, 69, and Patricia Payne, 54, both of Ventura.

The sister of a Ventura woman who was shot and killed this week by a former judge said her family was appalled at the outpouring of empathy for "the person responsible for the heinous death of our sister and mother."

"Family and friends are outraged at the press statements released showering this murderer with accolades and best wishes for HIS family," Shauna Payne-Boyd, wrote in an email to The Star. "We are sick to our stomachs."

Attorney Angela Curtis-Quintero, Curtis' former wife and longtime friend, said Curtis met Payne around the time a wrongful-termination lawsuit was filed on her behalf against a former employer in mid-2014. Curtis served as Payne's attorney during the case, according to Ventura County Superior Court records.

Sometime in November or December, Payne began living at Curtis' home on Dorsey Street, according to police. In January, their troubles rose to the attention of police.

Arroyo said Monday that officers had been called to the home several times, including two calls Jan. 18. When police arrived at the home, they said, Curtis and Payne were arguing. No arrests were made the first time they went to the home on Jan. 18.

But police again were called to the home about an hour later and arrested Payne on suspicion of misdemeanor public intoxication, Arroyo said. Payne was scheduled to be arraigned March 17 in that case.

Police said the shootings occurred during a domestic dispute that began Sunday at Curtis' home.

Police went to Curtis' home at 11:05 p.m. Sunday after one of his neighbors told them the two had been fighting. Police said they tried to talk with Curtis and Payne. A Ventura SWAT team was called to the scene after police said they heard numerous gunshots coming from inside the home.

Police spoke with Curtis by phone. They said Curtis told them he had a gun and refused to surrender. Police continued to negotiate with Curtis for about two hours. During that time, they placed a listening device in Curtis' home and said they heard Payne express that she had been shot.

More gunshots rang out, police said. SWAT members then entered the home through an unlocked door to rescue Payne. As they did so, Curtis turned the gun on himself and committed suicide, police said.

Herbert Curtis III was born on October 17, 1947 to Evelyn King Curtis and Herbert Curtis II, in Cleveland Ohio. He accepted Christ as his personal savior at a young age at Mt. Olive Baptist Church under the direction of Reverend Leroy Kelly.

Herb, or Herbie, as people lovingly called him, made great achievements in his short lifetime. He was a true "self-made man," earning a cross country track scholarship to college, where he majored in history and political science. After graduating, Herb taught civics at Roxboro Middle School while attending Cleveland-Marshall College of Law at night. In 1975, Herb moved to Ventura, CA, where he worked as a District Attorney. In October of 1984, Herb achieved a lifelong goal and was appointed to the Ventura County Municipal Court. He was reelected twice and began teaching contracts at Ventura College of Law. Ultimately, Herb became a Superior Court Judge: the first and only African American to hold this role in the history of Ventura County.

<https://www.vcstar.com/story/news/local/communities/ventura/2017/02/09/kin-murder-suicide-victim-express-outrage/97666672/>

Detroit Police officer shoots, kills wife then self in parking lot of Canton Public Library

CANTON TOWNSHIP -- An off-duty Detroit police officer fatally shot his wife, who was also a Detroit police officer, in the parking lot of a suburban library on Tuesday before killing himself, authorities said.

Patricia Catherine Williams, 33, was pronounced dead upon arrival at an area hospital, while Edward Gordon Williams II, 36, died later Tuesday after he was taken off life support, said Sgt. Mark Gajeski of the Canton Township police.

"The male shot the female and then turned the gun on himself," Gajeski said.

Police said a woman they now identify as Patricia Williams had gone to the Canton Township police station early Saturday and told authorities she was assaulted, but declined to file a formal complaint or provide her or husband's name.

A day later, officers responded to the couple's home in Canton, which is on the western edge of Wayne County about 20 miles from Detroit, after a call about a "possible domestic situation" — but no one was home, police said.

Patricia Williams was going to the police station, which is near the library, when she was shot around 9:15 a.m. EDT Tuesday, Gajeski said. Witnesses said she and Edward Williams were sitting and talking near the Canton Public Library beforehand.

...Friends said Patricia Williams was contemplating a divorce, and her husband had been distraught about it....

Sgt. Mark Gajeski of the Canton Township police tells The Detroit News the letter written by 36-year-old Edward Gordon Williams II "wasn't quite a suicide note, but it was a note indicating that he wanted his mother to have all his possessions if something happened to him."

Police say Edward Williams fatally shot his wife, 33-year-old Patricia who was also a Detroit police officer, Tuesday morning outside the Canton Public Library.

https://www.mlive.com/news/detroit/2009/09/note_found_in_home_of_detroit.html
<http://behindthebluewall.blogspot.com/2009/09/mi-officer-involved-murder-suicide.html>

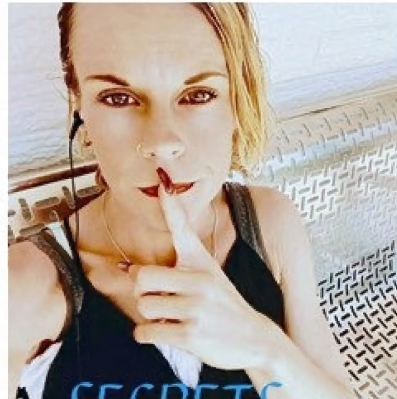

...Police knew the marriage between a Detroit homicide detective and his police officer wife may have been growing violent, particularly after finding a disturbing note written by Ed Williams after a report of domestic violence at the couple's Canton Township home... "It wasn't quite a suicide note, but it was a note indicating that he wanted his mother to have all his possessions if something happened to him" ...

Kenyan basketballer arrested in Australia over girlfriend's bizarre murder

Basketball star is charged with murder after body of his girlfriend and mum of five was found in home destroyed by 'suspicious' blaze - as Kenyan-born suspect faces mental health check

- Chudier Thowath Pal, 29, charged with murder after girlfriend's body was found
- Stephanie Lee Robinson, 30, was found dead in a home in Doubleview, Perth
- Pal appeared in court on Sunday which heard he was showing signs of psychosis
- Was refused bail and remanded in custody to undergo mental health assessment

By SAHAR MOURAD FOR DAILY MAIL AUSTRALIA
PUBLISHED: 04:43 EST, 3 January 2021 | UPDATED: 10:17 EST, 3 January 2021

Police in Perth, Australia on Saturday arrested a Kenyan-born semi-professional basketballer in connection with the murder of his girlfriend.

Chudier Thowath Pal, 29, was apprehended after the body of his 30-year-old girlfriend, Stephanie Lee Robinson, was found in a burning house which the two shared.

On November 2, 2020 Ms Robinson had posted on Facebook that she was in a "complicated relationship", with one of her male friends replying "you deserve better".

A resident claimed on social media to have seen the couple walking together the day before, "laughing happily" before entering the flat.

Pal had grown up in Kenya before moving to Western Australia where he played in NBL1 teams including the Rockingham Flames and the Mandurah Magic.

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-9107959/Basketballer-Chudier-Thowath-Pal-charged-murder-girlfriend-Perth.html>
<https://www.msn.com/en-au/news/australia/basketball-star-accused-of-murdering-girlfriend-denies-mental-illness/ar-BB1cs3oV>
<https://nairobineews.nation.co.ke/editors-picks/kenyan-basketballer-arrested-in-australia-over-girlfriends-bizarre-murder>

Lashawn Johnson sentenced to life in prison for killing 24-year-old Pinal County woman

Phoenix man found guilty of killing Maricopa woman he met online

Angela Russo was found in a shallow desert grave in May 2016 after they'd arranged to meet at his apartment April 19, 2016.

Author: Ryan Cody

Published: 4:17 PM MST August 8, 2018

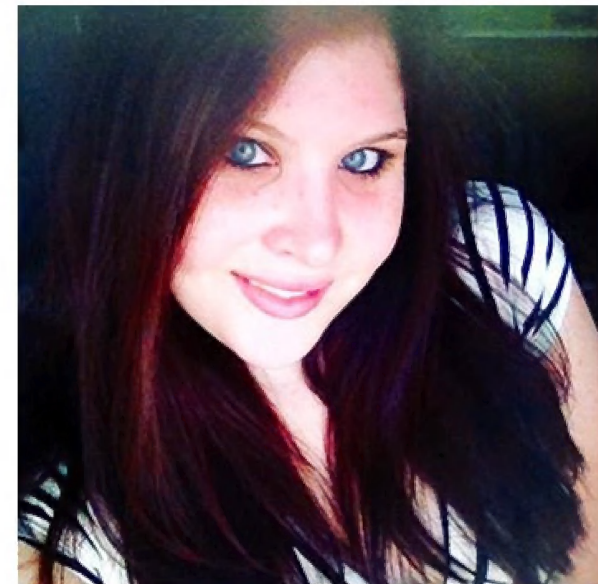

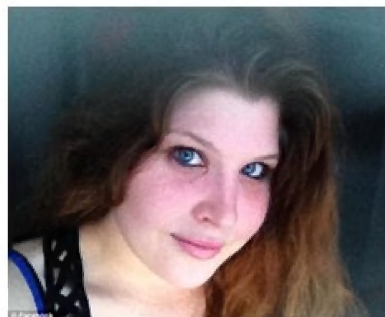

Updated: 10:56 PM MST August 8, 2018

PHOENIX - A jury found LaShawn Johnson guilty of first-degree murder Wednesday in the 2016 death of 25-year-old Maricopa woman Angela Russo.

"It's a day of celebration, but it's a day we never should have to endure in the first place," Russo's mother, Diana Schalow, said after leaving the courtroom.

Russo's body was found in a desert grave in the west Valley in May of 2016, a month after leaving for a blind date. Russo and Johnson met on a website called Plenty Of Fish, and arranged to meet at his apartment on April 19, 2016.

Detectives say the evidence tells a different story. It's what led them to Johnson, who was already in jail on a misdemeanor charge for not showing up for court in an unrelated assault case according to court documents.

"We have enough to charge him with first degree murder and we do believe he is the main suspect," said Maricopa County Sheriff's Detective Doug Matteson.

<https://www.abc15.com/news/region-phoenix-metro/central-phoenix/lashawn-johnson-update-wife-defends-man-charged-in-angela-russos-death->

<https://www.12news.com/article/news/local/valley/phoenix-man-found-guilty-of-killing-maricopa-woman-he-met-online/75-581820394>

He accompanied the 38-year-old back to her south Belfast home where he stabbed, strangled and raped her.

A man who raped and murdered a woman from Belfast has lost his appeal against the severity of his sentence.

The 24-year-old man, with an address in Co Carlow, was ordered to serve a minimum 22 year prison sentence for the murder of Grace Moore in November 2006.

Kristoff Emmanuel Alauya travelled from his home in Co Carlow to Belfast where he met his victim in a city centre nightclub.

He accompanied the 38-year-old back to her south Belfast home where he stabbed, strangled and raped her.

Grace Moore's body was found lying on the kitchen floor by her teenage daughter.

Alauya ransacked her house, stealing cheque books and electrical items, before getting a taxi to a nearby shop to buy food.

The jury had heard that Alauya had come up to Belfast a couple of days before he met Ms Moore at Skye nightclub and had gone back with her to the flat.

The jury heard that Alauya had come to Belfast a couple of days before he met Ms Moore at Skye nightclub, and had gone back with her to the flat. After leaving Ms Moore for dead, Alauya ransacked her home, stealing perfume, jewellery, documents, a DVD player, cheque books and a switch card.

The jury also heard that crime scene investigators uncovered Alauya's bloody fingerprint on a wall and the post mortem examination revealed Alauya's semen both inside and underneath Ms Moore's body.

http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/uk_news/northern_ireland/7858808.stm

<https://www.rte.ie/news/2009/1009/122789-mooreg/>

MICHIGAN

<https://www.detroitnews.com/story/news/local/michigan/2019/08/08/testimony-begin-rape-trial-mateen-cleaves/1948779001/>

Mateen Cleaves' attorney tells jury: 'Regret is not rape'

Oralandar Brand-Williams The Detroit News

Published 6:00 a.m. ET Aug. 8, 2019 | Updated 2:54 p.m. ET Aug. 8, 2019

Cleaves and the woman, a Mount Morris resident who was in her mid-20s, allegedly met hours before at a charity golf outing.

The Detroit News does not typically identify those who say they have been sexually assaulted.

At a December 2016 preliminary examination hearing, the woman said she had gone to a gathering at a bar with Cleaves at the Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club, where the charity golf event was held.

She said she and Cleaves stopped at a gas station and that she fell asleep before waking up at the room at the motel with Cleaves. She said he began kissing her and that she told Cleaves he was a married man and that she had a boyfriend, but things still progressed.

The woman said she told Cleaves she "wanted to go home" when she first got into the motel room with him. She did admit she kissed him even after saying that.

She said she didn't want to be "rude" to Cleaves, a celebrity donor to her employer because she didn't want her rejection of his advances to affect her job.

Manley said: "These are adults. She never suggested she said no. Consent is consent is consent."

Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Lisa Lindsey disagreed.

Lindsey told the jury of 10 women and four men that the woman told Cleaves she wanted to leave but he continued to force himself on the woman even having alleged unwanted sex with her.

"She rode voluntarily with him but she didn't want to be in the motel with him," she told jurors. "She escaped two times (from the motel room).

Lindsey said Cleaves "had complete control of what happened in that room."

The prosecutor said the woman ran out of the motel room and ran into another motel guest who witnessed Cleaves pulling the woman back into the room.

"She was crying, she was hysterical, she was terrified," said Lindsey. The prosecutor said once police arrived to investigate the incident, they "favored" Cleaves over the woman.

Ex-Playboy model Christina Carlin-Kraft beaten to death in her home by drug dealer

When police entered, they found Christina dead. Her bloodied, beaten body was under a blanket.

Her nose was broken, her eyes were black where she'd been brutally beaten and punched. An autopsy revealed Christina had died from strangulation.

It was a devastating discovery and because of Christina's work with Playboy, her death quickly hit the headlines.

Police set about working out Christina's final movements. CCTV showed she'd met a man outside a pizza shop in downtown Philadelphia in the early hours and a Lyft driver confirmed they'd come back to her apartment together.

There was CCTV at the property that showed them entering and the images were released to the public.

Several tip-offs led them to a suspect – Jonathan Harris. A man who had recently been released from prison after serving time for armed robbery.

Records showed that in the early hours of August 22, he'd messaged a friend to say that he'd just met a 'sexy' woman and that he was at her house.

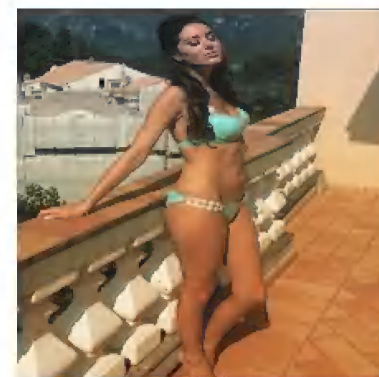

Jonathan said that he did go back with Christina, where they drank wine and had sex – but then a fight had broken out.

He claimed he'd brought with him an ounce of cocaine that Christina wanted but she'd refused to pay the $1,200 for it – saying that she didn't owe him any cash as she'd just had sex with him.

Christina Carlin-Kraft was strikingly beautiful. With her stunning looks, enviable figure and a love of fashion, it came as no surprise that she became a successful model.

Christina, 36, was a small-town girl from New Jersey who worked her way up to appear in top magazines such as Vanity Fair and Maxim, and model for brands including cosmetic companies and Victoria's Secret.

Christina had even been a Playboy model and had been photographed with the late Hugh Hefner at events.

<https://www.mirror.co.uk/news/real-life-stories/ex-playboy-model-christina-carlin-21386497>

Georgia man gets 30 years for '76 Missouri murder

Johnny Wright: Indicted for 1976 Murder of Columbia Waitress, Becky Doisy

Posted By Chad Garrison on Mon, Mar 8, 2010 at 12:43 pm

A grand jury in Boone County last week indicted 65-year-old Johnny Wright for the 1976 disappearance of Becky Doisy.

Doisy was 23 and working a job as a waitress at Ernie's Cafe & Steak House in Columbia when she disappeared never to be seen again. Friends reported last seeing Doisy -- a graduate of Kirkwood High School in suburban St. Louis -- with Wright.

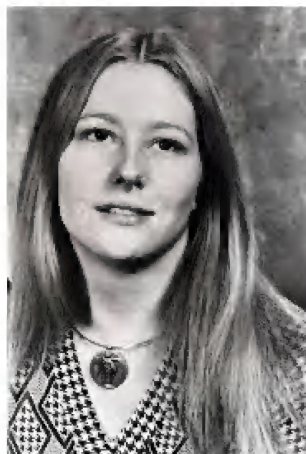

"He (Wright) had been showing up at work and pestering her, trying to get her to go out with him," recalled Doisy's sister Kathy in an interview last year. "He showed up at her apartment the afternoon of the day she disappeared and rang the bell."

Doisy told her housemates that she planned to have a drink with Wright and tell him in no uncertain terms to leave her alone. She never returned from that meeting.

Wright was always the chief suspect in Doisy's disappearance, but without evidence of a body it would take police nine years to eventually issue an arrest warrant in 1985. By then Wright, too, had gone missing.

Wright had repeatedly asked Becky Doisy to have a drink with him and finally she agreed, Kathleen Doisy previously told the A.J.C. Several co-workers and friends saw Becky Doisy with Wright on the last day she was seen alive: Aug. 5, 1976.

Prosecutors used a timeline calendar to show the events surrounding Becky Doisy's disappearance. Dan Aspenwall lived in the same apartment house as Becky Doisy. Aspenwall testified he saw Wright pick up Doisy for an afternoon date just before she went missing.

Aspenwall said, A man was there asking for Becky. I went back up the stairs. She was at her door. I said a black guy for you, Becky. She said that's Johnny. He's been pestering me for a date.

The timeline continued as Victoria Norman Eisner testified she saw Johnny Wright and Becky Doisy having a drink at Columbia's Heidelberg restaurant just before Doisy went missing.

The prosecution's star witness Harry Moore took the stand Thursday afternoon.

Moore told jurors that his former roommate admitted he killed Becky Doisy in August of 1976. Moore said Wright showed him Doisy's body in the trunk of his car in a Columbia nightclub parking lot nearly 35 years ago.

Moore said, There was a blanket in the back. It was kind of obvious that something was covered up in a big clump. He pulled it back. I saw Rebecca Doisy. I responded to something like, what the f---. He said, I f---ed up, or either she f---ed up. I had to croak this b---h.

<https://www.ajc.com/news/local/georgia-man-gets-years-for-missouri-murder/ke7NDPnp6LvdkcyK8v8aIL/>

<https://krcgtv.com/news/local/update-jury-finds-wright-guilty-of-murder>

<https://www.riverfronttimes.com/newsblog/2010/03/08/johnny-wright-indicted-for-1976-murder-of-columbia-waitress-becky-doisy>

Prosecutors believe that Tellis had sex with Chambers before he set her and her car on fire and left her to die the night of Dec. 6, 2014, in Courtland.

Man, 29, 'mistakenly thought he had accidentally suffocated cheerleader, 19, during sex in car so torched it but actually burnt her alive'

- Quinton Tellis has been charged in December 2014 death of Jessica Chambers
- Chambers was found burning alive on a rural road in Mississippi by her car
- Prosecutors say the two were having sex and Tellis suffocated Chambers
- Fearing he killed her, he then set her body and her car on fire, prosecutors said
- But defense attorneys said Chambers told first responders who found her that a man named Eric had set her on fire
- Tellis pleaded 'not guilty' and faces life in prison if convicted of capital murder

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

PUBLISHED: 14:19 EDT, 10 October 2017 | UPDATED: 08:02 EDT, 11 October 2017

Prosecutors had said cellphone evidence showed Tellis and Chambers at similar locations, and they played videotaped interrogations in which Tellis repeatedly changed his story when confronted with new evidence.

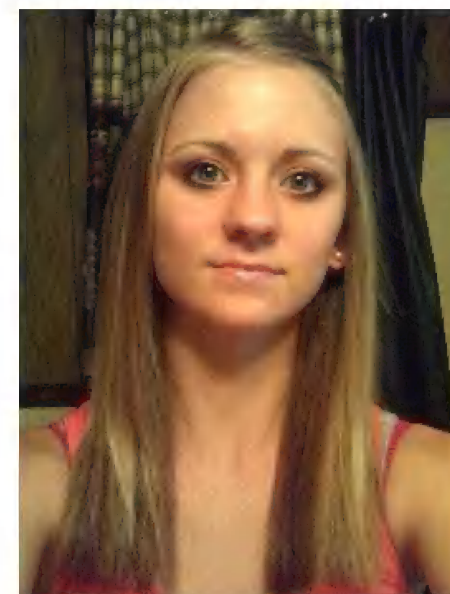

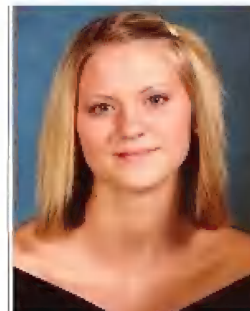

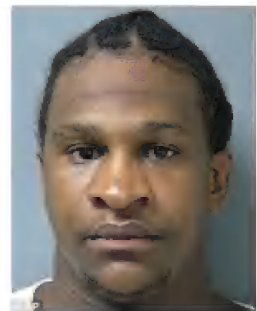

Tellis initially denied seeing Chambers late in the day, but later admitted he had been with her up until about an hour before her death.

Travis Sanford, 33, was killed Friday morning at a home in Courtland, Panola County Sheriff Dennis Darby said.

District Attorney John Champion confirmed that he was Jessica Chambers' boyfriend when she was burned to death in Courtland in 2014.

Sanford was incarcerated at the time and was cleared in her death, Darby said.

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-4967430/Trial-Mississippi-womans-burning-death-set-begin.html>

<https://www.clarionledger.com/story/news/local/2018/10/01/point-point-jessica-chambers-last-day/1485381002/>

Man Convicted Of Beating Craigslist Roommate Into A Coma Sentenced To Life In Prison

'There was no relationship': Mother of woman, 23, who 'was beaten into a coma by her Craigslist roommate' ridicules claims they were romantically involved

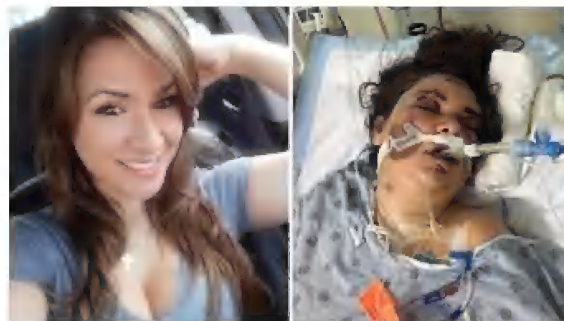

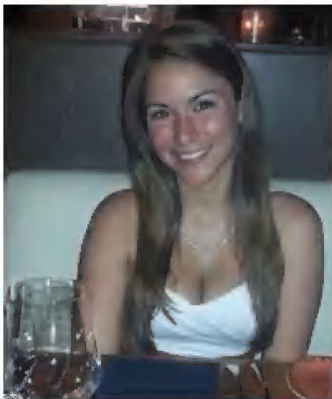

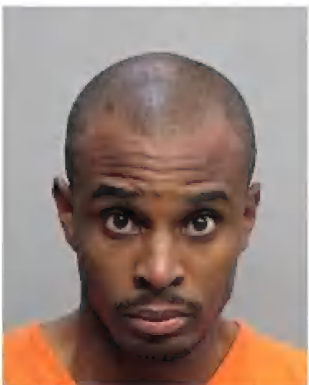

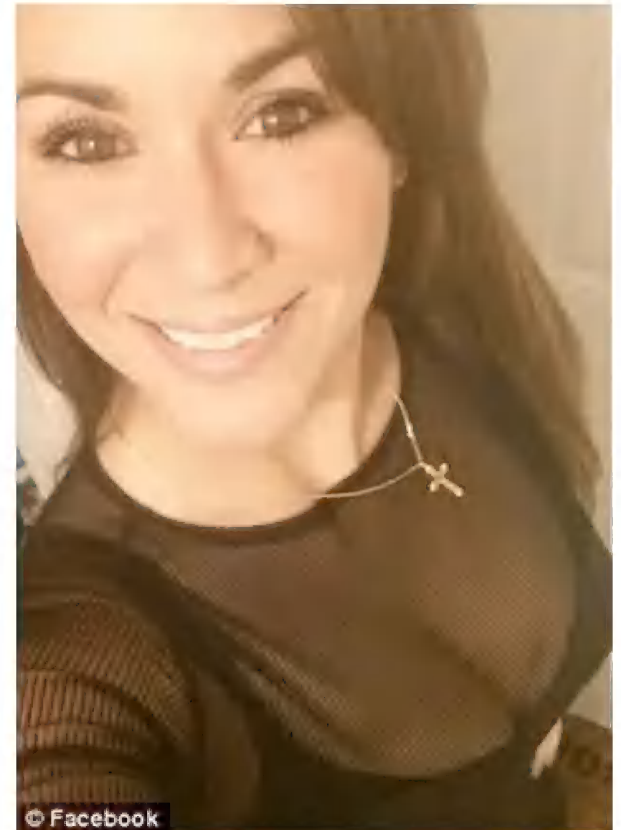

- Aimee Cabo Nikolov says her daughter Danielle Jones, 23, is beginning to move but is also showing signs of serious brain damage
- Jones has been in a coma since February 14, when she was allegedly attacked by her roommate Byron Mitchell, 35
- The victim reportedly found Mitchell on Craigslist and he moved in just a week before the attack
- Police say they are investigating Mitchell's claim that the two had started a relationship and that she tried to stab him with a knife during the attack

Nikolov says her daughter has started responding to pain by making little movements, but doctors say the longer she remains in coma the greater the possibility she sustained serious brain damage.

'She's making fists with both her hands and curving them towards her body, which is indicative of brain damage.'

Nikolov said. 'The longer she is in a coma, the more problems arise. Every day gets harder and harder, and every morning, I get up and cry.'

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-3458987/Mother-23-year-old-woman-beat-coma-Craigslist-roommate-ridicules-claims-trying-defend-himself.html>

Keeley Bunker murder: Wesley Streete convicted of raping and killing friend he was 'trusted' to walk home

BARMAID 'MURDER' 'Trusted' friend, 20, 'raped and strangled barmaid, 20, before dumping her face down in a pond with her pants down'

Ben Hill

Jul 13 2020, 11:11 ET | Updated: Jul 13 2020, 21:29 ET

AN ALLEGED killer who was "trusted" to walk his female friend home instead raped and murdered her before dumping her face down in a pond with her pants down, a court heard today.

Keeley Bunker, 20, was discovered by her uncle who screamed "No!" when he found her body at a park in Tamworth, Staffordshire, on September 19 last year, after she went to see rapper Aitch with a pal.

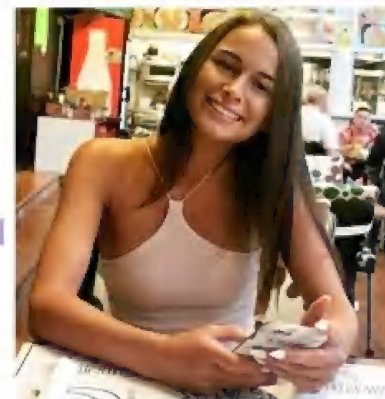

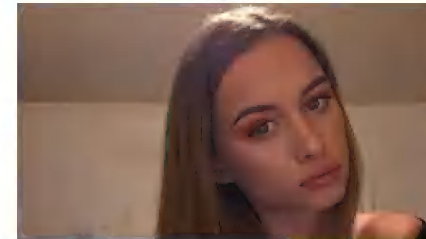

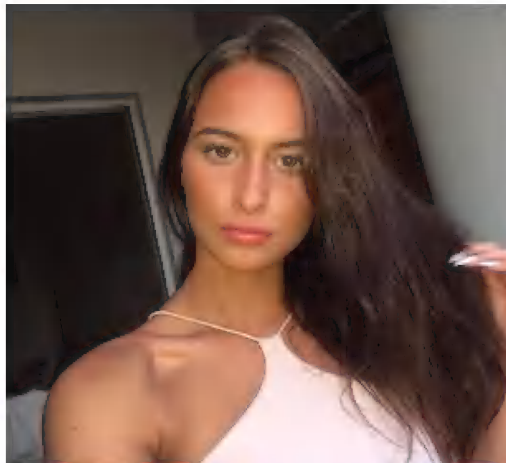

The prosecution allege that Ms Bunker, who was just 4ft 11in and weighed six-and-a-half stone, was killed by "trusted" friend Wesley Streete, who tried to cover up her body with branches in Wiggington Park, a jury was told.

Streete, also 20, of no fixed address, told the victim's best friend that he would walk Ms Bunker home safely, but prosecutors have alleged he told "lie after lie", claiming she was still alive when they parted ways.

After getting a taxi back to Tamworth, Ms Bunker's pal offered her a bed for the night, suggesting she "walk home later in the morning", said Jacob Hallam QC, opening the Crown's case.

He added: "But Keeley refused - tragically - saying she was tired and wanted to sleep in her own bed."

She told her friend: "I've got Wes, Wes lives near me, Wes will walk me back, it'll be fine."

<https://www.the-sun.com/news/1130416/keeley-bunker-murder-rape-trusted-friend-wesley-streete-tamworth/>

Thug said he'd blow up girlfriend's house if she exposed vile domestic abuse

Thug, 39, who smashed his girlfriend's head through car windscreen after she told friends about his abuse is jailed for eight years

- Leon Thompson, of Solihull, Birmingham, subjected Danielle Perry, 27, to abuse
- After one attack he cooked for her and promised it would not happen again
- Attacks continued so Ms Perry told friends how he had almost broken her nose
- Following windscreen attack, Ms Perry told nurses at hospital about the abuse
- He was arrested the following day and charged with wounding before trial

By HARRY HOWARD FOR MAILONLINE

PUBLISHED: 06:55 EDT, 16 September 2019 | UPDATED: 06:57 EDT, 16 September 2019

But the thug then smashed her head through his car's rear windscreen and kicked her as she lay on the ground.

Before she was treated in hospital for her injuries, Thompson told Ms Perry to tell medics that she had been attacked from behind by a group of people.

The abuse came to light when Ms Perry told nurses while she was being treated.

Speaking after he was jailed for eight years at Birmingham Crown Court, Ms Perry explained how she 'wanted to believe' his promises to change.

Ms Perry, who was in a relationship with Thompson for two years, said:

<https://www.dailystar.co.uk/news/latest-news/thug-said-hed-blow-up-20076624>

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-7468687/Thug-smashed-girlfriends-head-car-windscreen-told-friends-abuse.html>

Thug Leon Thompson, 39, of Arden Road, Chelmsley Wood, West Midlands, is now behind bars for eight years, but Danielle says he has "ruined her life" and wishes she'd sought help earlier.

"He'd hit me about eight or nine times before," Danielle told Birmingham Live.

"I'd been given a fat lip and bruises but each time the following day he'd always plead for forgiveness, cook me a meal and say how it'd never happen again. But it always did."

"But there were times he'd also threaten me and even said he'd blow up my house if I ever told anyone about the abuse."

Finally, when Thompson smashed her head through a car windscreen Danielle realised she couldn't protect him any more.

"Even on the night he told me to tell hospital staff that I'd been attacked from behind by a group of people.

Katie Michelle is with Travis Eckman.

Yesterday at 5:46 PM • 🌐

This is one of the hardest posts I have ever written. And given what our family has been through the last 6 months, that is saying a lot.

On Friday evening, my daughter Kenzie...on the heels of her 18th birthday, was horrifically assaulted by her boyfriend Kunyae. She had went to his house after school as was their usual routine, and she was met ... See More

Queens woman killed by ex in murder-suicide contacted NYPD twice in days before killings

'They did nothing and now she's gone': Queens woman, 31, is gunned down by her obsessive ex-boyfriend, 47, in a tragic murder-suicide after she contacted NYPD TWICE in the days before the killings

- Regan Smith, 31, was killed Friday in her Queens, New York, apartment
- Her ex-boyfriend Nelson Giron, 47, shot her in the head and stabbed her new boyfriend twice before turning the gun on himself
- Smith had filed three complaints against Giron in the weeks before her murder
- Officials are upset at how their domestic violence units handled the complaints

By KAYLA BRANTLEY FOR DAILYMAIL.COM

PUBLISHED: 19:16 EDT, 22 September 2018 | UPDATED: 02:35 EDT, 23 September 2018

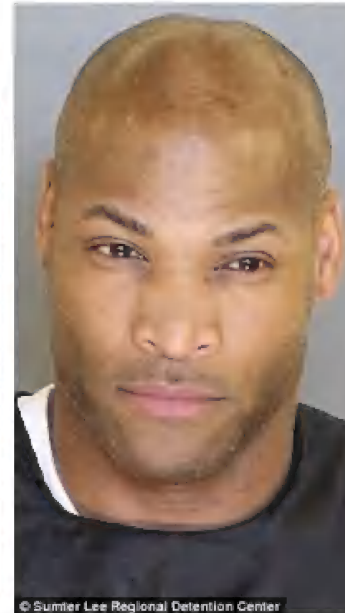

A Queens woman who contacted police three times to report her ex-boyfriend's obsessive behavior has been killed by the man in a tragic murder-suicide.

Regan Smith, 31, had filed three complaints against her ex-boyfriend, 47-year-old boyfriend Nelson Giron, in the weeks leading up to her death Friday, according to NYPD.

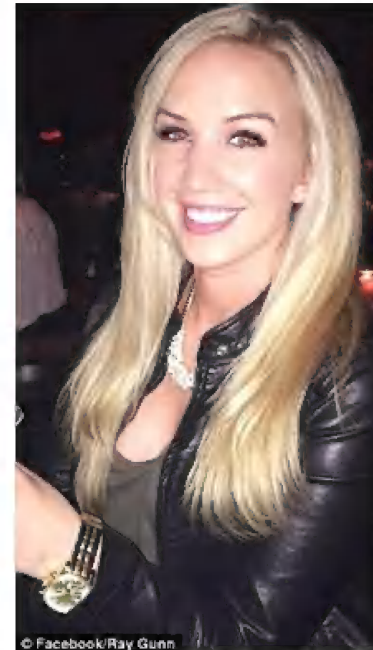

Two of those complaints came in the days before she was gunned down in her Queens apartment before Giron killed himself - leaving officials upset at how their domestic violence unit handled her complaints.

Smith had filed three complaints against Giron in the weeks before her murder

© Sumter Lee Regional Detention Center

© Facebook/Ray Gunn

According to Mino, the ex-boyfriend had come to Smith's apartment twice and pounded on the door so hard that it was left badly damaged.

In the hours leading up to her murder, Giron had called Smith multiple times.

He then showed up to Smith's apartment early Friday, shot her in the head, wounded her current boyfriend who was inside and killed himself.

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-6197503/Queens-woman-gunned-ex-boyfriend-tragic-murder-suicide-contacted-NYPD.html>

Utah student killed by abusive ex was ignored

The 21-year-old had broken up with Melvin Rowland, 37, just weeks before he murdered her in the backseat of a car in her dorm's parking lot.

University of Utah Police Chief Dale Brophy revealed a detailed timeline of events on the days of harassment that led up to Lauren's death.

The star athlete had met Rowland at a bar on September 2, where he worked as a bouncer.

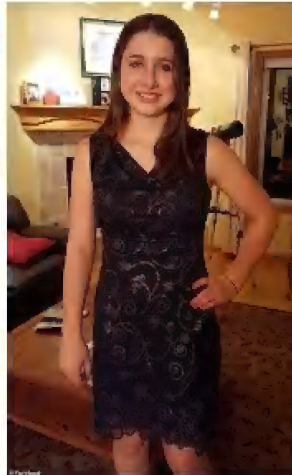

Brophy said they 'immediately' started dating, but their relationship came to an end when Lauren found out he was lying about his name, age, and criminal history.

Lauren invited Rowland to her dorm room on October 9 and confronted him with the information about him she had learned while on vacation.

'He admitted to the sex offender status, but denied the age difference,' Brophy said.

Lauren told Rowland that she was breaking up with him but allowed him to stay the night. The next day, she allowed him to borrow her car to run errands.

Rowland was a resident of Salt Lake City and in 2004 was convicted of attempted forcible sex abuse and enticing a minor over the internet, according to court records. He was released from Utah State Prison in 2013 after nine years behind bars.

On October 22 Lauren emailed the police department, saying she received a message from an unknown number claiming to be a detective and asking that she come to the police station.

'She knew it was fake and didn't respond,' Brophy said. 'University police now believed Rowland sent that text to get her out of her dorm room.' He was outside of her dorm, waiting for her to leave.'

From the hours of 3pm to 6pm that day, Rowland spent the afternoon waiting for Lauren with some of her friends in her dorm building.

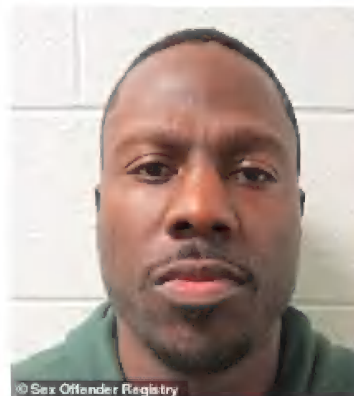

'He had spent 30 days in a relationship with Lauren and became friends with many of her friends,' Brophy explained. 'They allowed him into the dorm at any time.'

At 8.20pm Rowland spotted Lauren as she was returning to her dorm from a night class and speaking on the phone with her mother.

He confronted her and quickly dragged her into the parking lot, causing her to drop her phone and belongings.

Rowland then forced Lauren into the backseat of a car, where he shot her multiple times.

Lauren's mother heard her yell 'No, no, no!' before the phone went silent.

Melvin Rowland, 37

Lauren McCluskey, 21

Star Utah athlete paid her boyfriend-turned-killer $1,000 so he wouldn't post intimate photos of her online, and had told police about the blackmail

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-6318525/Lauren-McCluskeys-killer-blackmailed-went-date-murder.html>

Thug who bludgeoned his ex-girlfriend with a claw hammer before strangling her to death is jailed for life

A 'selfish' man who jumped off a bridge after attacking his ex-girlfriend with a hammer in a Leeds flat and strangling her to death has been jailed for life.

Teaching assistant Kileo Mbega was sentenced to life imprisonment with a minimum term of 15 years and 10 months, after pleading guilty to the 'dreadful and savage' murder of social worker Sarah Henshaw today (Friday).

Prosecutor Jonathan Sharp said the pair had been in a relationship for more than a year, but Mbega repeatedly cheated on her and was demanding. She ended the relationship in late 2018.

The couple continued living together at a flat in Athlone Grove in Armley as Miss Henshaw, 40, was concerned for 32-year-old father-of-two's well-being, believing he was a borderline alcoholic.

On February 11 this year, Miss Henshaw found out that her application for a new job in Berkshire had been successful and later that night confronted Mbega about using her bank card without permission.

Mr Sharp said Mbega attacked Miss Henshaw after she went to bed and was probably asleep.

Kileo Mbega, 32, attacked Sarah Henshaw, 40, in the flat they still shared after a split.

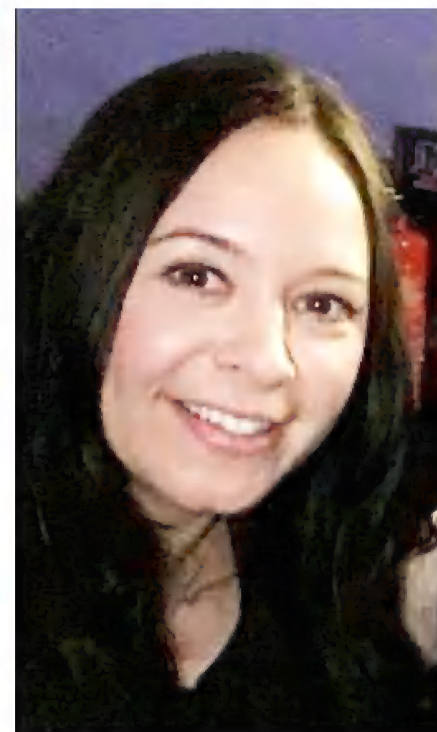

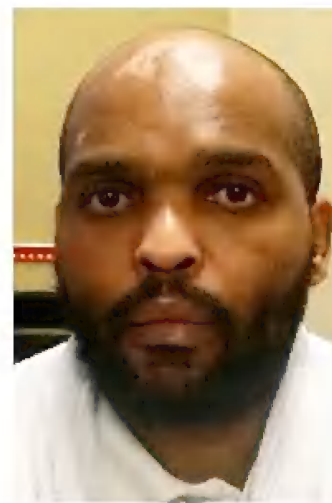

Two days earlier social worker Sarah reassured her dad that Mbega was not violent, adding: "I will sort things out."

The court heard Miss Henshaw had done charity work at a home for street children in Tanzania, Africa, and went on to set up a charity for street and Masaai children where they were taught carpentry skills.

The court heard she felt sorry for him because he had little money working as a teaching assistant and she believed he was a borderline alcoholic.

Just two days before her death, Miss Henshaw's father had asked his daughter if Mbega was violent and she had reassured him he "wasn't like that".

In a victim impact statement read to the court, her father David said: "My last words to her were, 'Is he likely to turn violent?' She replied, 'No Dad, he's not not like that, I will sort things out.'"

<https://www.thesun.co.uk/news/9501704/thug-bludgeoned-ex-girlfriend-jailed/>

<https://www.leeds-live.co.uk/news/leeds-news/selfish-man-strangled-ex-girlfriend-16577049>

<https://news.yahoo.com/man-who-jumped-off-a-bridge-after-beat-exgirlfriend-to-death-with-a-claw-hammer-jailed-for-life-104430157.html>

Man gets 24 years to life for killing girlfriend in Saugerties

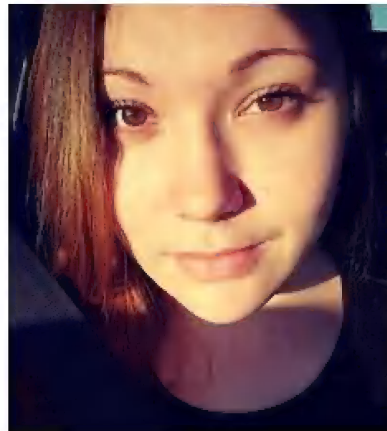

Karon Bowden, 42, entered his plea in Ulster County Court three days before his trial was to begin.

In pleading guilty, Bowden admitted he killed Amy L. Burger, 21, the night of May 31, 2016, in his apartment at 26 Randle Court in Saugerties.

With Burger's mother and sister looking on, Bowden simply answered "Yes" when Ulster County Court Judge Donald A. Williams asked whether he intended to kill Burger when he shot her.

Authorities said at the time that Bowden shot Burger with a handgun during a domestic dispute in the apartment and that the weapon was recovered.

The Ulster County District Attorney's Office said Friday that Bowden and Burger had lived together for more than three years and that she had decided to break off the relationship. Authorities said previously that there was a history of domestic violence between the two and that Bowden had a prior criminal record.

<https://hudsonvalleypost.com/hudson-valley-man-charged-with-killing-girlfriend/>

Psychiatrist says Silva Koshwal should be held responsible for ex-girlfriend's murder

Janice Johnston · CBC News · Posted: Aug 20, 2019 6:33 PM MT | Last Updated: August 20, 2019

By Claire Theobald Star Edmonton
Wed., Nov. 20, 2019 4 min. read

Warning: This story contains graphic content.

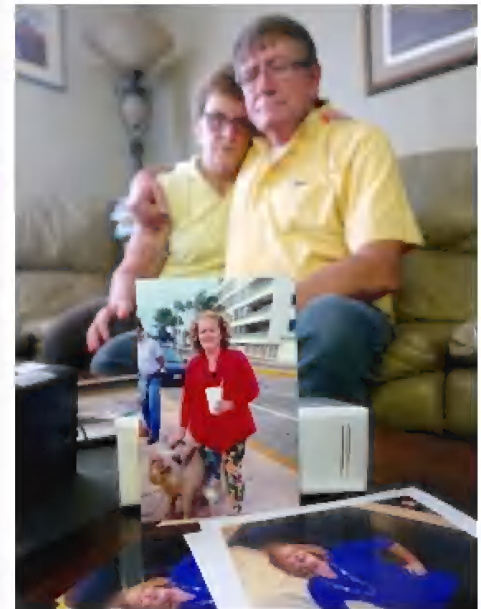

EDMONTON—A man who murdered and mutilated his ex-girlfriend — including cutting her heart from her chest and pinning it to the wall of her apartment with a knife — sat silently as her friends and family expressed their unending grief during his sentencing hearing Wednesday.

"This family has been torn apart piece by piece," said sister-in-law Virginia Skow, in a victim impact statement read aloud in Edmonton court by Crown prosecutor Laurie Trahan.

In August, Justice Sterling Sanderman rejected Silva Koshwal's claim that he was too insane to be held responsible for the gruesome August 2015 slaying of Nadine Skow, 38. Koshwal stabbed Skow more than a hundred times, 63 while she was still alive, and cut out her heart, ovaries, uterus and part of her lung with knives from her own kitchen.

"He butchered her, then after her death he eviscerated her," said Trahan.

According to an agreed statement of facts, Skow and Koshwal, 43, were in a romantic relationship for three years before they broke up in 2014, but the relationship between them remained volatile.

<https://www.thestar.com/edmonton/2019/11/20/crown-calls-for-harsh-sentence-for-edmonton-man-who-stabbed-ex-girlfriends-heart-to-wall-in-brutal-2015-murder.html>

Boyfriend of woman killed in Mississauga charged in connection with her death

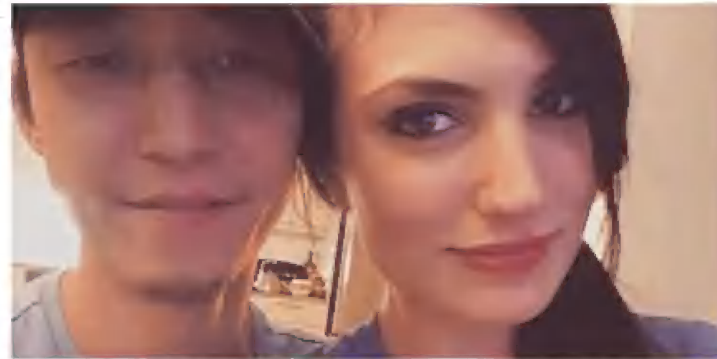

Police uncovered the Mississauga homicide around 5 a.m. Monday after receiving calls about shots fired in the area of Rathburn and Dixie roads.

When police arrived on scene, they found the body of a 25-year-old woman outside a townhouse complex.

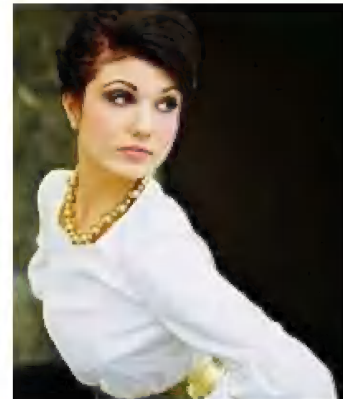

She was pronounced dead at the scene. Police have since identified the victim as Alicia Lewandowski.

Lewandowski's best friend, Ashley Deoliveira, told CTV News Toronto that Chang is Lewandowski's boyfriend of four years but that the relationship had been rocky. They say the couple had broken up a few times over the years.

Police confirmed the suspect and victim knew each other.

Alicia Lewandowski, 25, with her boyfriend Joseph Chang, who is now accused of murdering her. - Photo courtesy of Facebook

<https://www.cp24.com/news/boyfriend-of-woman-killed-in-mississauga-charged-in-connection-with-her-death-1.3828858>

Boyfriend on trial in Kent model's slaying

Originally published March 7, 2011 at 5:39 pm | Updated March 7, 2011 at 7:46 pm

Randall Connor, a felon, is on trial for the 2007 slaying of his girlfriend, Merianne Lorentson, in her Kent apartment.

Lorentson, 24, an aspiring model and a single mother of a then 5-year-old daughter, was found March 9, 2007 stabbed to death in her living room at an apartment in the 10400 block of Kent-Kangley Road. She was stabbed more than 30 times in her head, neck and body, according to the King County Medical Examiner's autopsy report.

Connor, who once lived in SeaTac, had dated Lorentson, according to the charging papers.

Lorentson had told friends that she feared Connor because he had assaulted and threatened her at gunpoint, according to the charging papers. Connor also had reportedly told Lorentson he would kill any man he saw with her. Relatives of Connor told police that Lorentson had broken up with him.

Friends of the slain woman told detectives she was afraid of a man named "Randy" -- who police determined to be Connor, an ex-convict who had participated in a prison riot while serving time in California.

Connor and Lorentson had been dating off and on since 2005, according to court documents. Connor's family told investigators they had broken up shortly before she was killed.

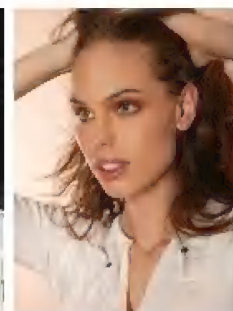

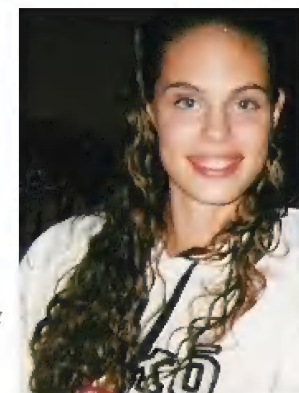

Lorentson told a friend that Connor had handcuffed and assaulted her, and asked her friend to call the police if she fell out of touch " 'cause that means something is wrong."

Speaking after charges were filed, Lorentson's father, former deputy prosecutor Jerry Lorentson, said he has no illusions that Connor's trial or conviction would remove the hurt he shares with Merianne's daughter, Jade.

During her opening statement Monday, King County Senior Deputy Prosecutor Cheryl Snow portrayed Connor as a bully, somebody who overpowered the slim model. She said that the 6-foot-4 Connor was a muscular 250 pounds at the time of Lorentson's slaying. Snow said police found no defensive wounds on the much smaller victim.

"Marianne Lorentson was completely overpowered. She offered little to no resistance to her killer," Snow told jurors.

Prosecutors said Connor served six years for armed robbery at Pelican Bay State Prison in California. Since his initial release in December 2004, Connor has been returned to California three times on parole violations.

<https://www.kentreporter.com/news/jury-finds-connor-guilty-of-murdering-kent-woman-in-2007/>

<https://www.seattlepi.com/local/article/Guilty-verdict-in-slaying-of-Kent-mother-1337855.php>

Boston woman's fiancé charged in her murder outside bar

Updated: January 13, 2017 - 6:58 AM

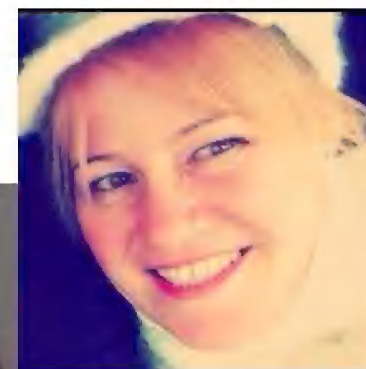

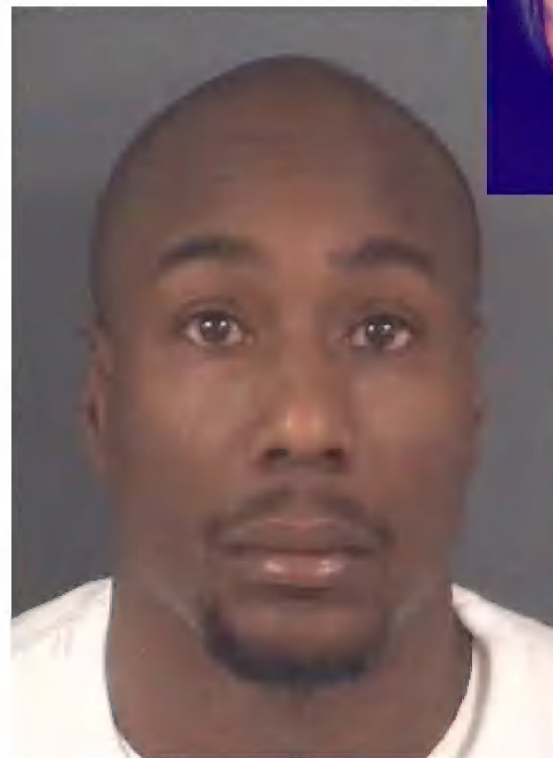

Albana Nika was found suffering from a gunshot wound outside of a bar in Fayetteville, North Carolina on Nov. 8, 2016. She was transported by ambulance to a nearby hospital where she was pronounced dead.

About a month before she was killed, Nika called her life insurance broker in Massachusetts and asked about her policy, according to an affidavit filed in North Carolina court and obtained by the Fay Observer.

Two weeks later, her fiancé David Martin also called and took out a policy naming Nika as the beneficiary.

Shortly after Nika's death, Martin contacted her family saying the pair had married and he was named in her will, the Fay Observer reports. Additionally, he said in a text message to a relative, that no autopsy would be performed on Nika "due to religious beliefs."

Police say they have been unable to find a marriage certificate showing the two were married and that an autopsy has been ordered as the death is being treated as a homicide.

https://www.masslive.com/news/boston/2017/01/fiance_of_slain_boston_woman_a.html

Tyler man accused of cooking dead girlfriend dies in jail

Man accused in mutilation death dies in jail

EXPRESSEN

<https://www.expressen.se/nyheter/darfor-at-han-upp-flickvannen/>

That's why he ate his girlfriend

Published 10 Jan 2008 at 09:59, updated at 10:21 Carl V Andersson

Christopher Lee McCuin, 25, and his girlfriend Jana Shearer, 21.

Now the cannibal Christopher Lee McCuin, 25, tells why he cut up his girlfriend and boiled her ear.

- God told me to do it.

<https://abc13.com/archive/5864245/>

<https://www.theguardian.com/world/2008/jan/07/usa>

<https://www.expressen.se/nyheter/darfor-at-han-upp-flickvannen/>

Police: Man cooked parts of slain girlfriend

abc13 By ABC13

Sunday, January 6, 2008

TYLER, TX Christopher Lee McCuin, 25, called 911 on Saturday and told an emergency dispatcher he had killed Jana Shearer, 21, and was boiling her body parts at his mother's home, said Smith County Sheriff J.B. Smith.

When authorities arrived at the home, they found Shearer's mutilated body, one ear boiling in a pot of water on the stove and a fork sticking out of some human flesh sitting on a plate on the kitchen table.

Authorities said it was unclear whether McCuin consumed any part of Shearer's body.

McCuin was known to authorities, Smith said, and had "a history of violence" including assaulting his estranged wife, his girlfriend and his sister. His criminal record includes driving while intoxicated and aggravated assault with a deadly weapon.

Louella Michie: Holby City star's daughter filmed dying by boyfriend after he gave her drugs, court hears

A Holby City actor has said 'truth stands when the law falls' as he blasted the decision to free the drug-dealing rapper who gave his daughter a fatal overdose at Bestival after his manslaughter conviction was quashed.

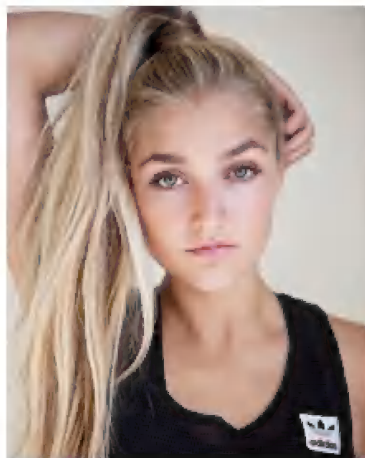

Dealer Ceon Broughton, 31, supplied John Michie's daughter Louella Fletcher-Michie with the hallucinogenic 2-CP at Bestival in Dorset but was released from prison on August 18 after his eight-year sentence was overturned.

He was originally convicted after he shot harrowing footage of his younger girlfriend overdosing on his mobile phone for six hours, as she screamed 'this ain't acid. I was not expecting this'.

Broughton, who was 30 at the time of the trial, was also found guilty of supplying Fletcher-Michie with 2CP at the festival, which takes place at Lulworth Castle in Dorset.

Prosecutor William Mousley said the rapper – known as CeonRPG – had failed to take “reasonable” steps to seek medical help for Fletcher-Michie.

He said Broughton did not get help because he had been handed a suspended jail term a month earlier and feared the consequences.

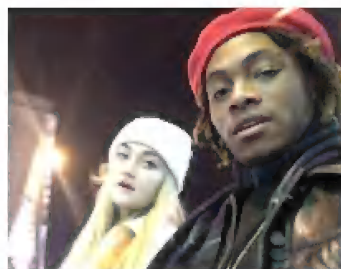

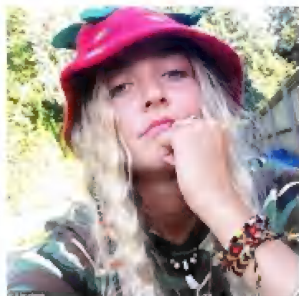

Jurors at the 2019 Winchester Crown Court trial had sobbed as they viewed footage of Louella's distress as the effects of the drug showed her at one point trying to eat thorns.

Clips showed musician Broughton turn his iPhone on himself at one point to show him smiling and playing with a fidget spinner toy and also plugging his hoodie brand.

During one 50-minute video Louella had yelled: 'Make sure you're filming this. Put a camera on me now. You better be f recording Ceon. Don't f put this on YouTube.'

The videos appalled former Taggart star Mr Michie and wife Carol, who had welcomed Broughton into their home and thought he was innocent in the hours after Louella's death in September 2017.

He was so trusted he had even spent Christmas at the Michies' £1.2 million house in North London, worked with Louella's brother Sam and had been a guest at Mr Michie's 60th birthday dinner.

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-8730251/Holby-City-actor-says-law-fallen-slams-decision-free-drug-dealing-rapper.html>

<https://www.independent.co.uk/news/uk/crime/ceon-broughton-appeal-conviction-manslaughter-louella-fletcher-michie-death-bestival-a9545756.html>

Winter Haven Man Gets Life For Killing Girlfriend

By JASON GEARY / THE LEDGER

Posted Feb 7, 2014 at 6:36 PM

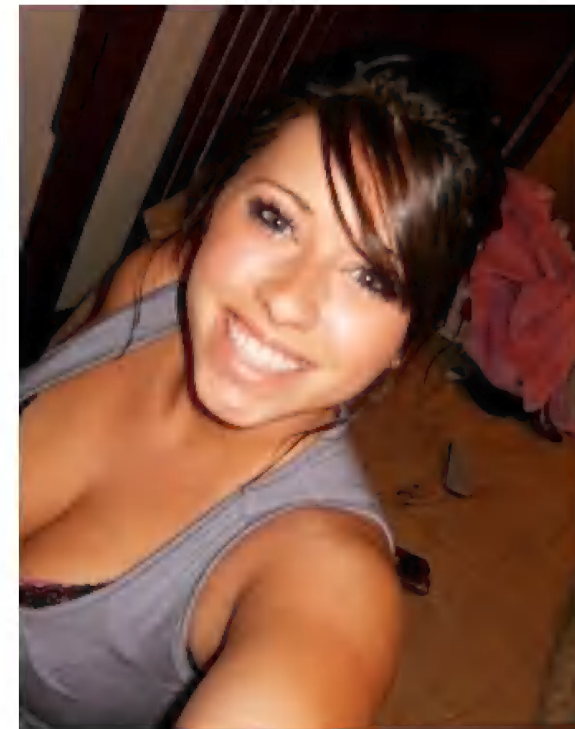

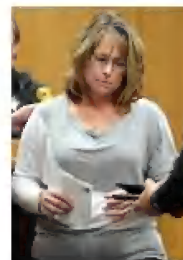

BARTOW | A Winter Haven man was sentenced Friday to spend the rest of his life in prison for fatally shooting his 22-year-old girlfriend.

BARTOW | A Winter Haven man was sentenced Friday to spend the rest of his life in prison for fatally shooting his 22-year-old girlfriend. A jury found Michael Hagan guilty last month of fatally shooting Alicia McDonald during the early morning hours of Feb. 7, 2012, at her home on Sunshine Way in Winter Haven. Prosecutors argued Hagan was a controlling boyfriend who shot McDonald during an argument, which began because McDonald was jealous that Hagan was cheating on her with another woman. Before receiving his punishment, Hagan, 27, heard tearful testimony from McDonald's family. Last year, Hagan was sentenced to 45 years in prison for violating conditions of his probation on robbery-related charges from 2003, court records show. A judge concluded Hagan violated various conditions of his probation, including by being arrested for McDonald's killing, and possessing a firearm and ammunition. In total, Hagan's punishment amounts to 50 years in prison followed by life imprisonment. However, he could still receive more time in prison. Hagan continues to face charges of being a felon in possession of a firearm and ammunition, which will be handled at a separate trial.

Details of the arrest were provided by the State Attorney's Office about the investigation, and they say McDonald's family described her relationship with Hagan as tumultuous.

Some friends and family members noticed bruises and abrasions upon her body, but McDonald would minimize how Hagan had caused the injuries.

<https://www.newstalkflorida.com/news/boyfriend-arrested-in-22-year-olds-shooting/>

<https://www.theledger.com/news/20140207/winter-haven-man-gets-life-for-killing-girlfriend/1>

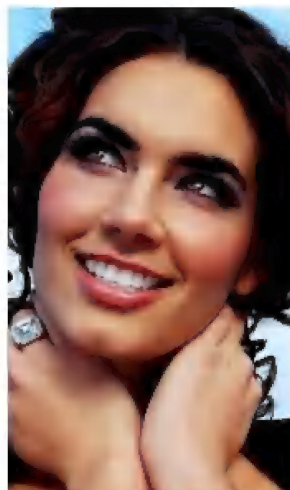

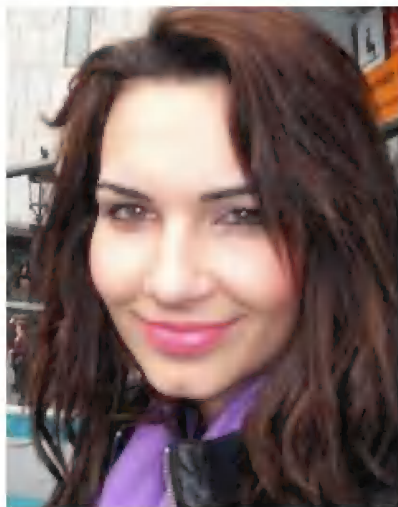

Shock as model knifed to death by boyfriend

A PROMISING Tasmanian model and university student fought to fend off her ex-boyfriend before he fatally stabbed her and took his own life.

Police believe Sammi Hewitt, 24, and Kuol Piom, 29, had been arguing over the weekend about the status of their long-term relationship.

The disagreement turned violent when Ms Hewitt, who was a student at the University of Tasmania, Australia, visited Mr Piom at his rented home in Hobart on Monday.

Ms Hewitt had suffered several stab wounds to her abdomen and her hands, which indicated she had tried to defend herself.

Sadly, the 24-year-old was wrong. She was not OK and would never return from her final showdown with Piom, a Sudanese refugee who was living and studying at the University of Tasmania.

What exactly sparked the murder-suicide last Monday has yet to be confirmed, but police believe the couple had argued fiercely before Piom stabbed Ms Hewitt several times in the abdomen as well as inflicting a knife wound to her neck.

Friends were shocked an argument between the couple - together since last May after meeting at a nightclub - had ended so violently.

"They were both sensitive people who were passionately in love," a close friend, who asked not to be named, said.

"Every so often they would have a disagreement which was equally as passionate - you would know it was happening.

"Their fights were heated, but then they ended.

"They were doing well and were very much in love, as far as I could tell."

Police said Ms Hewitt told her family in the days before her death there had been problems with the status of their relationship.

"She told her family that there had been some sort of falling out, but we're yet to discover exactly what that was," Inspector Powell said.

Piom came to Australia from Uganda in 2007. He lived with his aunt and brother in Sydney before moving to Tasmania.

<https://www.scotsman.com/news/shock-model-knifed-death-boyfriend-1681148>

<https://www.news.com.au/national/woman-stabbed-by-ex-boyfriend/news-story/87c26f213c39c4217512f3781fd2fb06>

Man gets heavy sentence for girlfriend's murder

Published Monday, July 27, 2009 7:56PM EDT

Arsel Hindessa had been convicted of second-degree murder. Parole eligibility in second-degree murder cases can range from a minimum of 10 years to a maximum of 25 years, the same as a first-degree murder conviction.

"The sentence that was handed down today sends a strong message that this crime — and all violence against women, which is so pervasive in our society — is being taken seriously. And it will no longer be tolerated by our society," said Dawn Novak, mother of murder victim Natalie Novak, on Monday outside court.

"I wanted to see if there was any blood in his veins," said Ed Novak, the victim's father. "He's not shown a moment's worth of remorse. Even in his sentencing, he stood blank as can be."

Hindessa, who is originally from Ethiopia, was found guilty of stabbing Natalie to death on May 15, 2006.

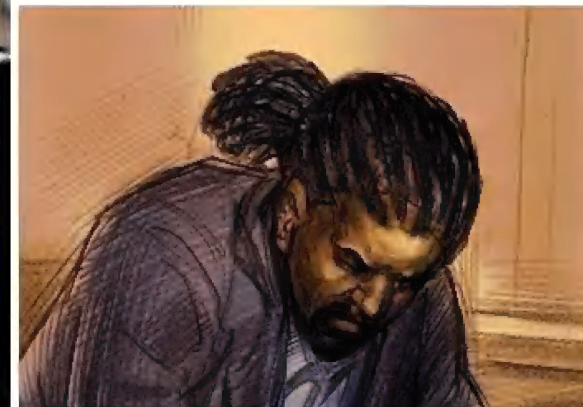

Police found Natalie with nine stab wounds to her chest and her throat slit.

Novak had been working towards a degree in hotel management studies.

Police said at the time there had been an "on-and-off, hot-cold" relationship between the victim and the accused. At the time of the killing, Hindessa was not supposed to be in contact with Novak due to previous domestic assaults.

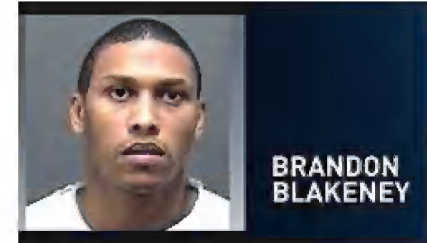

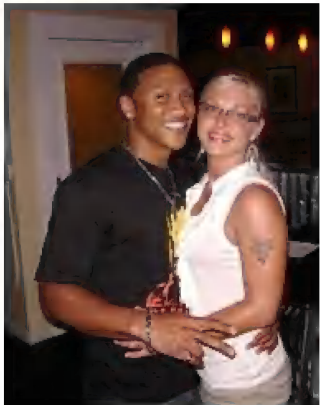

Superior Court Justice Anne Malloy said the normal sentence range for a case in these circumstances is life in prison without parole for between 12 and 15 years.

However, aggravating factors in Hindessa's case, such as how he only appeared sorry for himself, pushed the sentence higher, she said.

<https://toronto.ctvnews.ca/man-gets-heavy-sentence-for-girlfriend-s-murder-1.420390>

Man pleads guilty to killing wife, gets 20 years in prison

Brandon O. Blakeney, 32, pleaded guilty to second-degree murder for killing his 34-year-old wife, Catherine E. Ahern Blakeney. He was sentenced to a 20- to 25-year prison term, said Max Dias, an assistant district attorney in Mecklenburg County, N.C.

Catherine E. Ahern Blakeney was a 1995 graduate of Dighton-Rehoboth Regional High School and moved to North Carolina in 2001, where she had worked in the banking industry.

She was married to Brandon Blakeney, her second husband, for less than a year, and had been separated from him since February 2011, according to her parents.

Her mother, Karen Ahern of Rehoboth, did not attend the proceedings in the Charlotte, N.C. court, but spoke with friends of her daughter who were present in the courtroom when Blakeney admitted to the murder.

"He showed no remorse," Ahern said she was told.

Blakeney even admitted to killing his wife's beloved pet dog, which brought an audible reaction to spectators in the courtroom, Ahern said she was told.

The murder was discovered soon after Ahern and her husband Daniel called police to check on their daughter when they had not heard from her in three weeks. They said Blakeney had previously abused their daughter.

Ahern Blakeney's body was discovered by police in a second-floor bedroom of her apartment Dec. 27, 2011, after Blakeney allowed police to search the dwelling.

He told them the day before that his wife was on a trip.

The Aherns said Blakeney was not supposed to be at the apartment after the separation.

<https://www.wsocvt.com/news/local/man-pleads-guilty-killing-wife-gets-20-years-priso/334275648/>

https://www.thesunchronicle.com/news/local_news/estranged-husband-guilty-in-north-carolina-murder-of-former-rehoboth-woman/article_dabb4f26-d0e0-5453-9f53-eec9f2652402.html

Former football player sentenced for killing of wife in Utah

April 30, 2019

Anthony McClanahan, 48, was sentenced to at least 15 years and up to life in prison for the November 2017 death of 28-year-old Keri McClanahan, The Deseret News reported Monday.

McClanahan pleaded guilty last month to first-degree murder, two weeks after his former cellmate testified McClanahan confessed to stabbing his wife 16 to 20 times.

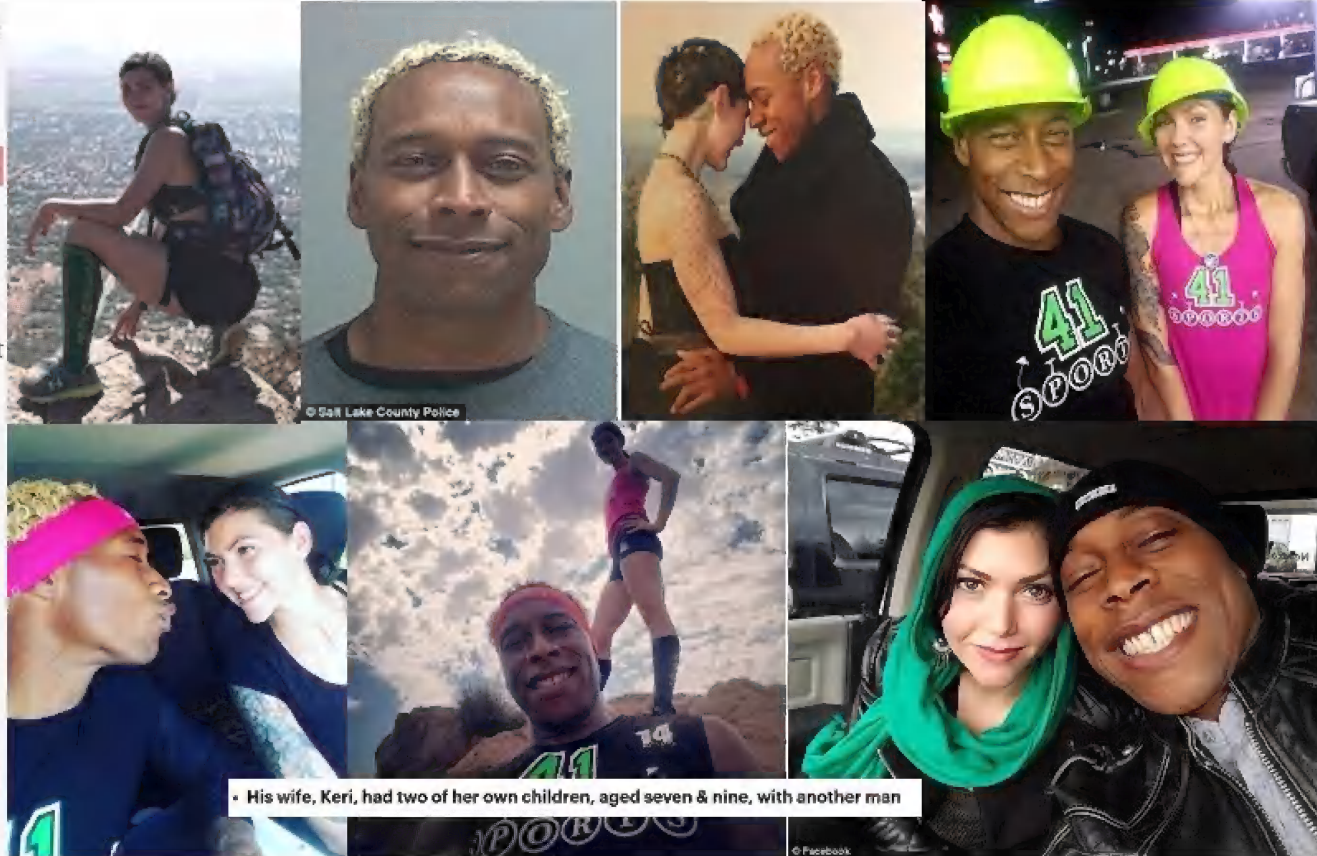

McClanahan had blood on his face and hands when he flagged down Park City police outside the Park Regency hotel in the resort community about 33 miles (53 kilometers) east of Salt Lake City.

McClanahan told police the couple was attacked by white men wearing black jackets, but surveillance footage showed no one matching that description.

One officer testified that McClanahan appeared to fake a seizure while talking to police.

McClanahan said he would use a history of concussions to give the appearance of "memory problems," his cellmate testified.

Keri McClanahan's family members testified that McClanahan physically and verbally abused her during their relationship.

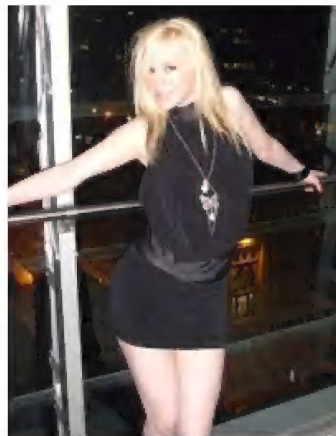

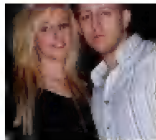

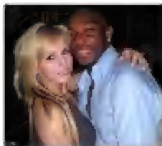

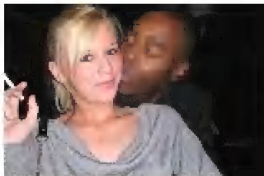

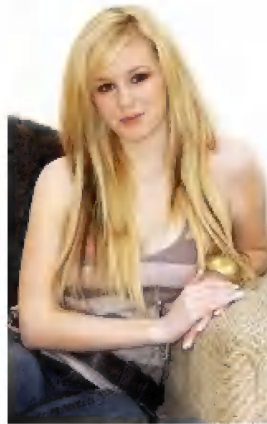

<https://apnews.com/article/93f1ee431461462bbd4e1f0a66e4c9f0>

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-6777877/Ex-Dallas-Cowboys-linebacker-accused-murdering-wife-appeared-fake-seizure-cops-came.html>

Boyfriend guilty of murdering model

A football coach who stabbed his model girlfriend to death in a frenzied knife attack has been jailed for a minimum of 24 years after being convicted of her murder.

Amy Leigh Barnes, 19, was left dying in a pool of blood after being repeatedly stabbed in the face and chest by Ricardo Morrison.

They first met each other through Facebook and he soon moved from Birmingham to Bolton to live with Miss Barnes and her mother and stepfather, Karyn and John Killiner.

But his true nature was revealed while her parents were on holiday. Morrison held a knife to her throat, the police were called and he ran into the street with the blade.

Morrison was asked to leave the family home. Miss Barnes's grandmother took them in at her two-up, two-down terrace house in Farnworth, just outside Bolton.

On the morning of November 8 her grandmother left the house for work, leaving the young couple alone in the house. Morrison then attacked Miss Barnes, punching her, spraying an aerosol in her face and slamming a door on her arm. He left to go into Bolton, locking her in the house.

The row continued by text message. She called him a "wife beater" and told him the relationship was over. She cut off his mobile phone and he texted her back: "Evil bitch."

When he returned to the house, he picked up the knife from a block in the kitchen and launched the attack. Her face was slashed open from the corner of her mouth to her right ear and she was stabbed with "severe force" all over her body. Then he left her for dead.

Miss Barnes enjoyed going to nightclubs in Manchester frequented by professional footballers - much to Morrison's annoyance. He once sent her a text saying he "hoped she got raped".

Miss Barnes told friends that Morrison, to whom she referred as "psycho", had been beating her up for months, held knives to her throat and threatened to kill her.

With the help of her mother, she had been to see a domestic violence project but was not yet ready to leave Morrison, the court heard.

A follow-up appointment was made but five days later she was dead.

Miss Barnes had texted friends in the weeks before her murder to say she feared for her life at the hands of her boyfriend who had been hitting her and threatened to kill her if she left him.

<https://www.business-live.co.uk/economic-development/ricardo-morrison-jailed-life-murder-3943398>

Augusta man who stabbed girlfriend gets 50 years for murder

Justin Pillsbury, 41, of Augusta was convicted in March of murder by a Kennebec County jury, according to a previously published report.

At the trial, jurors rejected Pillsbury's testimony that he, in self-defense, stabbed Jillian Jones, 24, to death Nov. 15, 2013, in the Augusta apartment they shared.

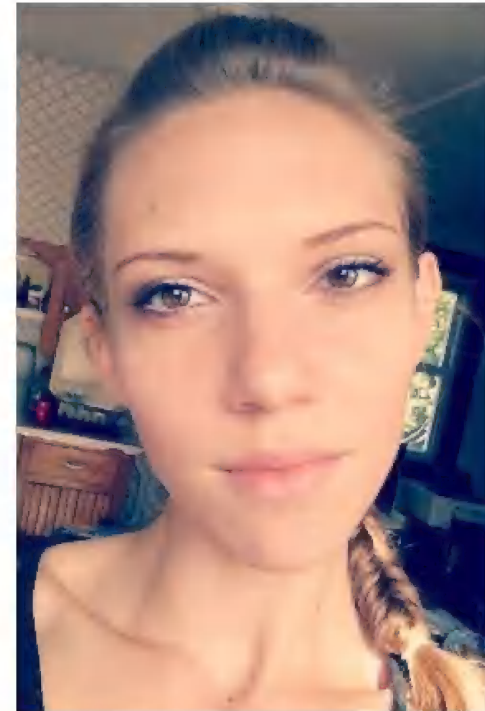

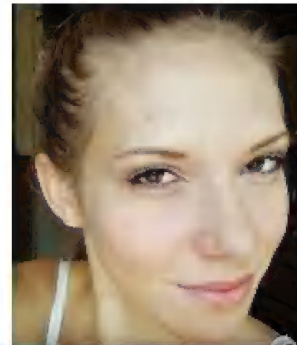

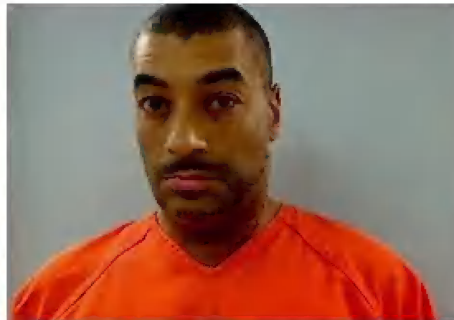

Pillsbury killed the 24-year-old Jillian Jones his girlfriend in November of 2013, prosecutors say he was jealous after catching Jones on the phone with another man and stabbed her 12 times, twice through the neck. Pillsbury took the stand earlier today saying they both had been drinking when he took her phone and she held a knife in a joking manner, Pillsbury's defense attorney argued the situation spiraled out of control quickly, that Jones came at Pillsbury with a knife and that's when he stabbed her until she was dead.

Jones made headlines in 2011 after she was arrested along with her then-boyfriend after Brooklyn, then 18 months old, swallowed cocaine.

In February 2012, she was sentenced to 90 days in jail after a conviction. Jones sobbed as she expressed her sorrow and shame during her sentencing. Her attorney, Sherry Tash, said at the time that Jones had sought counseling for substance abuse soon after.

There were setbacks on the road to recovery. Jones was back in court later in 2012 after Skowhegan Police found her in a parked car with alcohol on her breath and a marijuana pipe next to her. She was sentenced to another 33 days in jail. Family members continue to care for the child, police said this week.

https://www.centralmaine.com/2013/11/15/arrest_made_in_augusta_homicide/

On Friday, friends remembered Jones as a woman who was trying to better her life and the life of her daughter, Brooklyn. It was a simple dream, but it was all Jones wanted.

<https://bangordailynews.com/2016/07/21/news/augusta-man-who-stabbed-girlfriend-to-serve-50-years-for-murder/>

<https://foxbangor.com/news/item/13794-justin-pillsbury-found-guilty-of-murder-of-stabbing-and-killing-jillian-jones-in-2013/>

Boy, 5, beaten to death by stepdad as he pleaded 'I'm sorry'

A BOY who was punched to death by his stepdad as he pleaded "I'm sorry" after he lost his shoe while playing may have been let down by the authorities, an inquest heard.

Alex Malcolm, 5, was beaten black and blue by Marvyn Iheanacho until he was left with a fatal brain bleed.

Iheanacho, who had a history of violence against past girlfriends and a child, was jailed for life with a minimum of 18 years for the little boy's murder.

The child suffered 22 bruises all over his body after the thug flew into a rage when he lost a shoe in Mountsfield park in Catford, south east London.

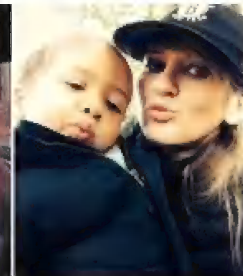

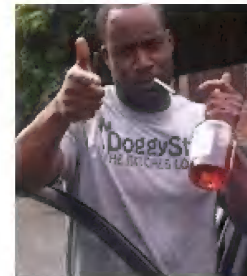

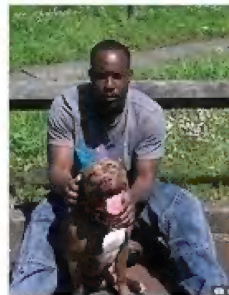

Witnesses heard the strikes ringing against a metal gate - and recalled hearing the lad plead he was "sorry".

Twisted thug Iheanacho carried Alex's body home following the assault - and then punched his mum Liliya Brehia.

She was assaulted as she screamed at the sight of her son's body and was desperately trying to call an ambulance.

Iheanacho had a history of violence including six convictions for domestic abuse after he attacked five partners and a child.

It was also revealed at his trial that Iheanacho admitted in his diary to previously beating the little boy during his and Liliya's six month relationship.

<https://www.dailystar.co.uk/news/latest-news/london-murder-alex-malcolm-marvyn-17149368>

Man Convicted of Murder in Stabbing of Estranged Girlfriend

Gibson murder trial: Brother testifies he saw his sister stabbed

Quinn Miller, 26, the victim's brother, was on the scene at the Dollar Car Wash on Bridge Street in the city's Moxham section on the night of the stabbing.

Described as being "learning disabled," he told the jury of driving with his sister to the car wash in order to meet Gibson and retrieve her cellphone.

"I asked them (his sister and Gibson) if I could stay overnight," he said. The couple, who shared a townhouse in Tire Hill, said yes.

Around midnight he said he heard his sister screaming.

He went upstairs and saw Elizabeth Miller on her back with Gibson crouched over her, his hands on her neck.

Her brother told Gibson to stop. At first Gibson did not listen, then he got off the bed and picked up a hammer from somewhere on the floor. He threatened Miller with it, Miller testified.

Miller said he was frightened and went downstairs to plan his next move. Soon afterward, Elizabeth Miller and Gibson came downstairs.

They started fist fighting going down the stairs," he said.

Miller said he began to text his mother about what was going on when Gibson threatened him with a kitchen knife.

"He said 'Do you want to die tonight,'" to both Quinn and Elizabeth Miller.

Miller said that he and his sister left the house and started toward his grandma's home, when Elizabeth Miller realized she had left her cellphone behind.

She called Gibson a half dozen times and told him that she wanted her phone.

His sister then suggested that Gibson meet her and her brother at the Dollar Car Wash along Bridge Street in Moxham to return the cellphone.

Miller and his sister parked in the car wash lot. Gibson arrived soon afterward and drove around them, stopping in one of the wash bays. Elizabeth Miller walked over to the red Chevy Blazer Gibson was driving and got into the passenger side. Miller said only a minute or two passed when he heard his sister scream for the second time that morning. "I heard her scream, 'Call mom, call mom,'" he said.

He went over to the bay and saw that the passenger door was open and his sister and Gibson were physically fighting inside.

"I was trying to get her out," he said. Miller said he asked him if he had a knife, and he answered, "Yeah, what are you going to do about it," then he stabbed her," Miller testified.

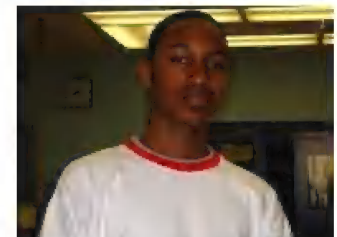

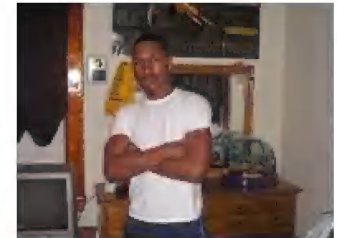

He described how his sister clung to the open car door as Gibson began to speed away. Miller testified that he saw Gibson throw the large knife out of the driver's side window before he left.

Elizabeth Ann Miller, 21

Demetrius Gibson, 22

Man Charged In Murder Of Girlfriend And Unborn Child

February 13, 2020

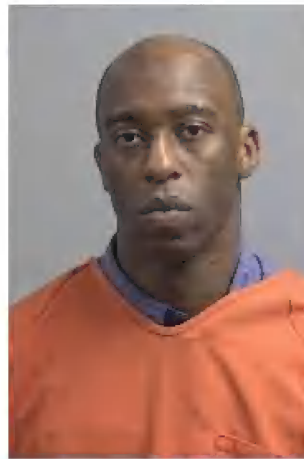

Pregnant woman's body is found in her car after she was 'run off the road and shot dead by her boyfriend' who is charged with murdering her and their unborn child

- James Jones, 33, was charged on Thursday over the murder of his 29-year-old girlfriend Cassia Renee Duval and their unborn daughter
- Duval was found shot dead in her car that was crashed in a ditch in Wayne County, south-east of Raleigh, on January 29
- Soon after Duval's body was discovered, Jones had said the couple had been excited about being parents
- The couple, who lived together and dated for about eight years, had planned to name their daughter Aspen
- Duval's family said they were relieved about Jones being charged in her murder

By EMILY CRANE FOR DAILYMIL.COM

PUBLISHED: 17:20 GMT, 16 February 2020 | UPDATED: 17:59 GMT, 16 February 2020

An online obituary at Surgill Funeral Home describes her as “full of life, happy, energetic, outgoing and loved her daughter Aspen and family. She had a passion for her work place and Brazilian Jiu Jitsu family.”

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-8009915/Man-charged-murdering-pregnant-girlfriend-unborn-daughter.html>

19-year-old accused of strangling girlfriend

Boyfriend pleads guilty to strangling girlfriend, gets life sentence

Two years after 19-year-old Alyssa Wright's death, her boyfriend Elijah Ramouta was sentenced to life in prison after confessing to strangling her.

Author: Menelda Bailey
Published: 2:50 PM EDT June 7, 2019

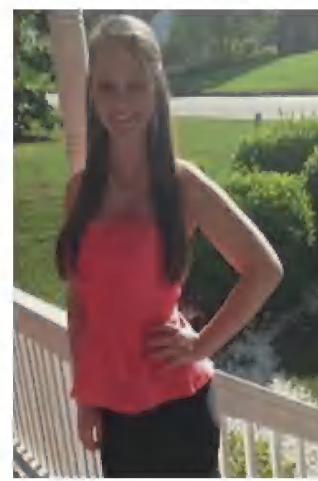

The victim's mother, Melinda Wright (pictured), told WSB-TV: 'He was always a real well-mannered boy. I never had any problems with him, always been respectful'

'Well-mannered' 19-year-old is accused of strangling his high school sweetheart to death at his parents' home

- Elijah Ramouta allegedly strangled Alyssa Wright to death on Tuesday
- They attended prom together in April and graduated in May
- Alyssa's mother Melinda Wright said: 'He was always a real well-mannered boy'
- A vigil took place at Alyssa's alma mater, Alcovy High School, on Friday night
- Ramouta was arrested Wednesday and is in the Newton County Jail

By ZOE SZATHMARY FOR DAILYMIL.COM

PUBLISHED: 01:36 EDT, 11 December 2016 | UPDATED: 07:29 EDT, 12 December 2016

Melinda Wright said that Ramouta 'was always with us at family functions. He was... whatever she needed, he would do'

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-4021554/Well-mannered-19-year-old-accused-strangling-high-school-sweetheart-death.html>

<https://www.11alive.com/article/news/crime/boyfriend-pleads-guilty-to-strangling-girlfriend-gets-life-sentence/85-5cd7f36e-4242-4316-bf45-e7aae939b648>

Man accused in girlfriend's suspected heroin death

A Carbondale man is jailed on $250,000 bond on charges linked to the suspected heroin overdose of a girlfriend found dead in a Mount Vernon convenience store's bathroom.

A Carbondale man is jailed on $250,000 bond on charges linked to the suspected heroin overdose of a girlfriend found dead in a Mount Vernon convenience store's bathroom.

Jefferson County prosecutors charged 41-year-old Aaron Burton with drug-induced homicide and domestic battery with bodily harm in Monday's death of 25-year-old Lacey Kimpel of Mount Vernon.

Kimpel's body was found after a store employee called police after a woman entered the restroom and didn't come out for about an hour.

S13032 - BURTON, AARON D.

¶ 12 After the close of the evidence, counsel presented closing arguments. The State argued that the victim died of a heroin overdose and that the heroin that killed her was "delivered to her from the defendant ." The State further argued that the defendant and the victim brought heroin back from Chicago to Mt. Vernon and that the defendant admitted he had used heroin with the victim in Mt. Vernon on the Monday morning after returning from Chicago. In reference to how the heroin came to be in her possession, the State argued:

"Now, I suspect that you may be tried to give this [sic], well, she's connected somehow. I think that was mentioned in the opening, [the victim's] connected. There's no evidence brought up at trial that she's connected. The only connection she has to heroin is to the defendant. That's her connection. She relies on him to use his car. It's his city. It's where his mom lives. She's from here. It's his connections in Chicago. It's him all the way. That's where—that's her connection to heroin."

Parent Institution: JACKSONVILLE CORRECTIONAL CENTER
Offender Status: IN CUSTODY
Location: JACKSONVILLE

SENTENCING INFORMATION

MITTIMUS:	11CF211
CLASS:	X
COUNT:	1
OFFENSE:	DRUG-INDUCED HOMICIDE
CUSTODY DATE:	06/13/2011
SENTENCE:	17 Years 0 Months 0 Days
COUNTY:	JEFFERSON
SENTENCE DISCHARGED?:	NO

<https://www2.illinois.gov/idoc/Offender/pages/inmatesearch.aspx>

Toronto

Friend remembers young woman allegedly shot to death by her boyfriend as a 'beautiful soul'

Jessica Cheung · CBC News · Posted: Aug 02, 2020 5:00 AM ET | Last Updated: August 2

en

Court documents detail repeated no-contact arrests leading up to 25-year-old woman's Brampton killing

By Jason Miller Local Journalism Initiative Reporter
Alyshah Hasham Courts Reporter
Fri., Aug. 7, 2020 | 5 min. read

Before Darian Hailey Henderson-Bellman was shot dead last week — allegedly by her on-and-off-again boyfriend Darnell Reid — a close friend says the 25-year-old had mustered the courage to end the relationship for good.

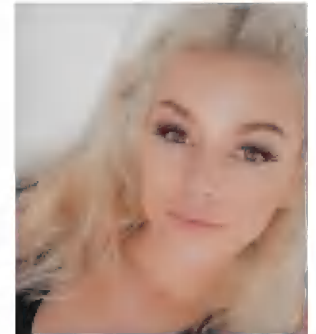

"Darian was ready to leave and (Reid) knew that," Henderson-Bellman's long-time friend Rachael said Friday.

Rachael said that on the day she was killed, Henderson-Bellman went to Reid's home where he'd been on house arrest since May after being charged with possessing a loaded handgun, impaired driving and breaching a no-contact order after he allegedly assaulted Henderson-Bellman last summer.

Reid, 27, is accused of shooting Henderson-Bellman and then shooting himself.

He has been charged with second-degree murder, possession of a loaded firearm and two counts of failure to comply with a release order. He remains in critical condition at a hospital, according to his mother.

A series of court documents obtained by the Star this week show Reid was accused three times of violating court orders not to be in contact with Henderson-Bellman in the year before her death, including once around the time of his most recent arrest for possession of a loaded firearm in May 2020.

<https://www.thestar.com/news/gta/2020/08/07/court-documents-detail-repeated-no-contact-arrests-leading-up-to-25-year-old-womans-brampton-killing.html>

<https://www.cbc.ca/news/canada/toronto/henderson-bellman-brampton-shooting-1.5671918>

Preston pleads guilty to killing wife, gets 16 to life

MANSFIELD, Ohio (WSYX/WTTE) — A Mansfield man is being held on $500,000 bond after admitting to police he choked his wife. Herman Jared Preston was accused of one count of murder in the death of his wife, Amanda.

Preston called 911 Sunday morning, claiming that his wife had gotten drunk and was trying to cut him.

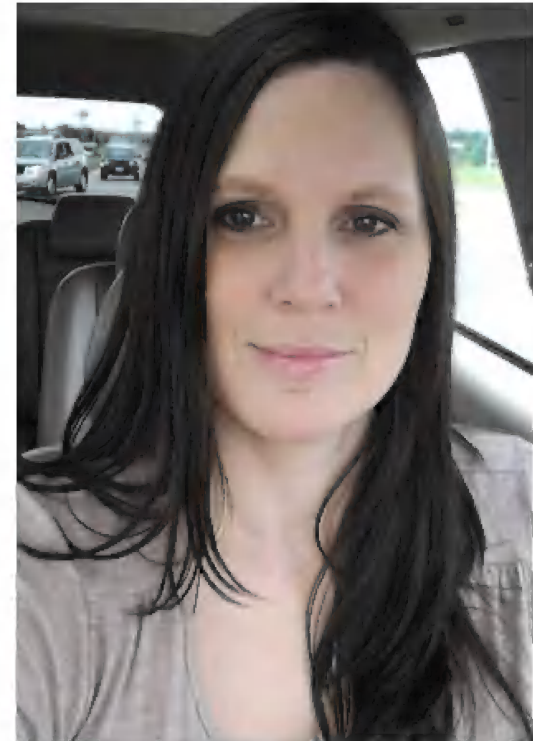

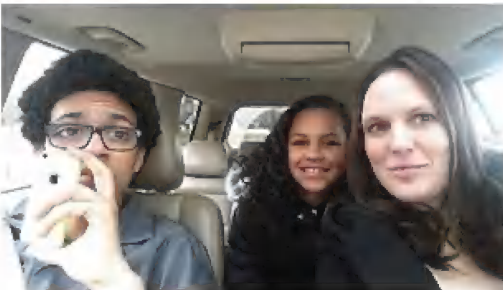

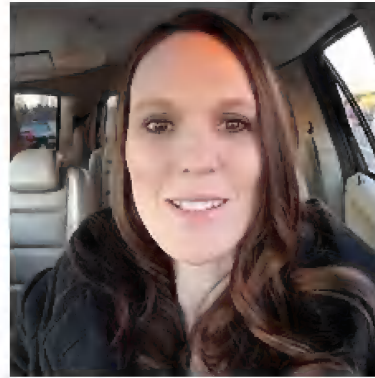

Preston never mentioned the woman's condition but was panicked, urging dispatchers to get help to their home on Apple Lane quickly. When police arrived, they discovered the woman in the garage dead.

An autopsy was being done Monday in Cleveland on Amanda Preston.

Preston told police that he put the woman in a sleeper hold and choked her.

In 2000, Jared Preston was convicted of aiding and abetting in aggravated robbery with a firearm specification, a first-degree felony. He was sentenced to six years in prison.

Preston had been involved in an apparent accidental shooting just months before, on Dec. 29, according to News Journal files.

"One neighbor told me that the couple have been having problems and that Amanda was trying to kick Preston out of the house." — Tom Bosco reporting for ABC 6 Columbus, Ohio

<https://abc6onyourside.com/news/local/mansfield-husband-charged-will-killing-his-wife>

<https://www.news5cleveland.com/news/local-news/oh-richland/woman-dies-in-mansfield-sheriffs-deputies-find-her-in-garage-after-a-reported-argument>

Alina Sheykhet murder: Ex-boyfriend charged in her death

🕒 11 October 2017

And witness after witness told Matthew Darby that, despite what he did Oct. 8, 2017, he would never be able to take away the woman they loved.

Darby, 22, of Greensburg, pleaded guilty Wednesday to first-degree murder for killing his ex-girlfriend in her Oakland apartment. He was sentenced to a mandatory penalty of life in prison with no chance for parole.

When Judge Manning asked Darby why he was pleading guilty, the defendant answered, "Because I am guilty." He said nothing else but his attorney, Thomas N. Farrell, said his client had expressed regret for his actions and was remorseful.

Witnesses said Darby was abusive and controlling in his relationship with Ms. Sheykhet.

On Sept. 20, 2017, Darby broke into Ms. Sheykhet's Oakland apartment, which she shared with roommates. They called police, and Darby was charged with criminal trespass and released on bond. Ms. Sheykhet took out a protection-from-abuse order.

Eighteen days later, Darby broke into the house again, about 5 a.m., and killed Ms. Sheykhet. That morning she was supposed to go with her parents and roommate to the Paws for the Cure walk at Hartwood Acres.

She sought a restraining order against Mr Darby after he allegedly broke into her apartment on 20 September. He was arrested and charged with felony criminal trespass on 26 September.

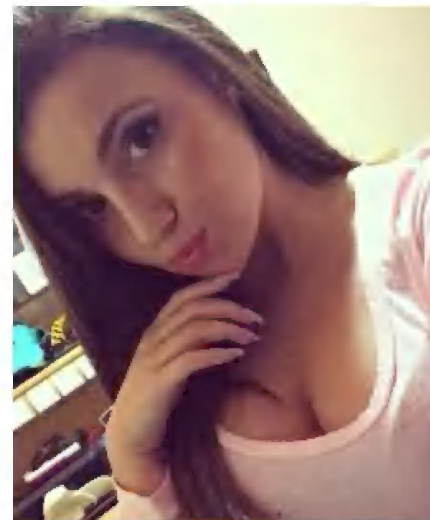

In her request for a protection order, Ms Sheykhet said Mr Darby "climbed up the gutter on the side of the house and broke through the second-floor window of my home," the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette reported.

"He did this because I left him and stopped answering his phone calls."

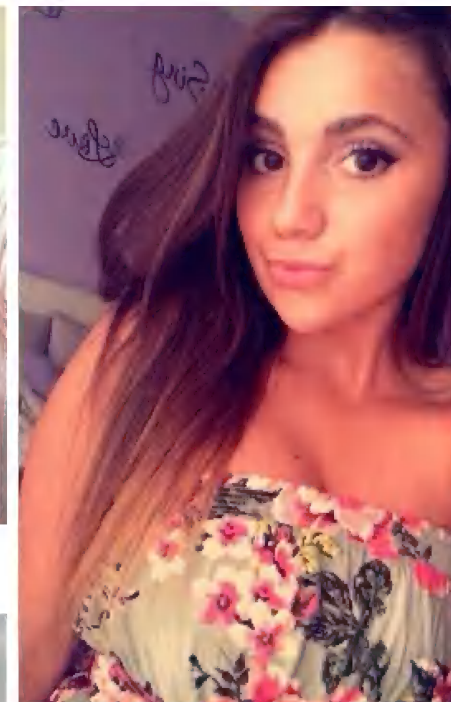

Mr Darby is awaiting trial on rape and other sexual assault charges against him in Indiana County.

Matthew Darby (Pittsburgh police)

Alina Sheykhet

<https://www.bbc.com/news/world-us-canada-41584893>

<https://www.post-gazette.com/news/crime-courts/2018/10/17/matthew-darby-alina-sheykhet-oakland-homicide-domestic-abuse-pittsburgh-police-guilty-murder/stories/201810170111>

Simon Mol has slept with over 300 Polish girls and infected over 40 of them with HIV

robertjordanblog (34) · in #simon · 2 years ago

Simon Mol has slept with over 300 Polish girls and infected over 40 of them with HIV - Many of them were activists in Poland's human rights and antifa

Simon picked up many of his women from the "Warsaw Salon" - an artistic, liberal circle. In his writing Simon described these girls as 'white mice' - "sensitive, and adoring women who believed they were doing their duty towards political correctness by helping the poor refugee.

"Several of the infected women had contracted the virus from Simon during his visit to Gdansk in 2006 to organise the anti-racist "Music against Intolerance and Violence" festival.

One girl infected by Simon explained later: "I was fascinated by human rights activist fighting with racial stereotypes. Soon we started to meet, went to bed. I didn't suspect that he could infect me with HIV virus and even less, hide from me that he is infected.....I also thought that suspecting him of being infected would equal giving way to stereotypes. Thus we made love unprotected."

<https://steemit.com/simon/@robertjordanblog/simon-mol-has-slept-with-over-300-polish-girls-and-infected-over-40-of-them-with-hiv>

Sydney married mum-of-four spent a decade struggling illness before she was finally told she had HIV

"I asked then how long I had the virus and they said anywhere between eight to 10 years." It was an extraordinary amount of time, dating back when she was still married to her previous husband, which meant her immune system had been so ravaged she had become one of the few Australians in recent years to progress to having AIDS — a disease largely banished to the history books in high income countries.

National | World | Lifestyle | Travel | Entertainment | Technology | Finance | Sport

Dianne Nyoni, who first began exhibiting symptoms of HIV infection, when she was pregnant with her son Izaiah (pictured). Source: News Limited coughs and I looked like death."

Dianne with her son Marco*, then 18 months old, who was thankfully spared. Right: Dianne at her wedding with the ex-husband (face blurred) who left her with the virus.

she'd got it. Her head went immediately to her ex-husband Alex*. The pair had been divorced for 10 years after a whirlwind two-year relationship. "I was a vulnerable single mother and he was such a charmer," she remembers. "I thought we were very much she'd dodged a bullet, but other things started falling into place. "He was sick a lot and he had unusual rashes which he said were allergies," she recalls. "All the false documents made sense too. It's very hard for people with HIV to migrate to Australia." She knew the HIV was from him and she was also pretty

ProWrestler Faces 120 Yrs in Prison For Knowingly Infecting 12 Women w/HIV

DEC, 7 2011 | WRITTEN BY ATLIEN

Former Wrestler "Gangsta Of Love" Convicted Of Spreading HIV

Written By NewsOne Staff
Posted November 29, 2011

CINCINNATI – A Cincinnati jury has convicted a former professional wrestler of charges he had sex with women without telling them he had tested positive for the virus that causes AIDS.

Hamilton County jurors returned the verdict Wednesday on 14 felonious assault counts against Andre Davis, who wrestled using stage names including Gangsta of Love and Sweet Sexy Sensation.

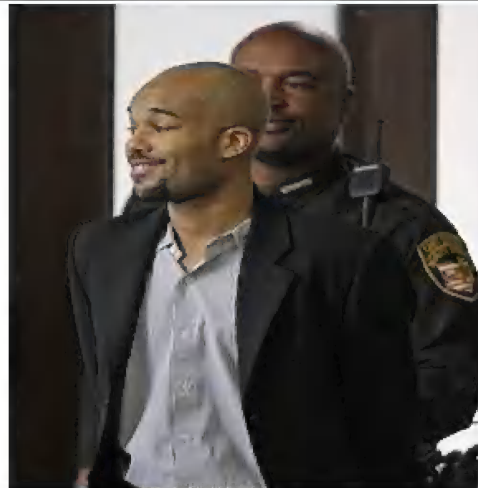

Prosecutors say the 29-year-old Davis didn't tell a dozen sex partners about his HIV status or lied to them.

The women testified they had unprotected sex with Davis. The judge prohibited attorneys from bringing up whether any of the women was infected.

Andre Davis was originally accused by 15 women of infecting them with HIV. A jury of 12 found him guilty of 14 felonious assault counts and one not guilty, alleging he had sex with women without telling them he had tested positive for the virus that causes AIDS.

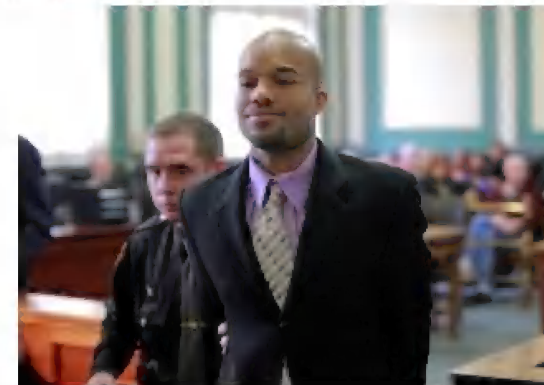

(CBS/WKRC/AP) CINCINNATI - A judge has sentenced former professional wrestler Andre Davis to 32 years in prison for having sex with women and not telling them he was HIV positive.

CBS affiliate WKRC reports Davis' HIV positive condition was revealed when the mother of his two children found his testing paperwork. She passed it on to many of his other girlfriends.

Davis' attorney, Greg Cohen, argued that the state law regarding HIV and felonious assault is poorly written because it doesn't require proof that there has been harm or an attempt to commit harm.

Cohen said Monday that Davis was sorry for what he had done and that the women Davis slept with also had some responsibility for choosing to have unprotected sex.

<https://www.cbsnews.com/news/pro-wrestler-andre-davis-gets-32-years-in-prison-in-hiv-assault-case/>

<https://newsone.com/1672385/former-wrestler-gangsta-of-loveconvicted-of-spreading-hiv/>

Disease Infected Migrant Comes To Iceland, Infects At Least 20 Women With HIV, And He Is Still Getting Citizenship

by Andrew Bieszad on August 9, 2017 in Featured, General

In a shock move, a migrant from Africa gave at least 20 women in Iceland HIV. Right now he has been taken into custody but they still are processing his refugee asylum request according to a recent report:

“ The man arrested yesterday on the suspicion of having infected numerous young women with the HIV virus claims that he did not know that he was HIV positive. The man is an asylum seeker in Iceland.

Man allegedly wrapped ex-girlfriend's head in foil after decapitating her

Tishko Ahmed Shabaz has been charged in the murder of 17-year-old Wilma Andersson, who went missing in Uddevalla, Sweden, last November, the Daily Mail reported.

Shabaz, 23, allegedly went berserk after Andersson dumped him and went to his house to pick up her things, family members said. Hundreds of volunteers searched for Andersson — but her severed head was found days later, prompting the arrest of Shabaz.

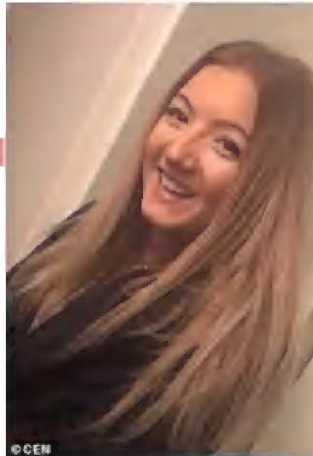

The Iraq-born man, who became a Swedish citizen in 2014, has been in custody since and was charged last week.

He allegedly wrapped Andersson's head in tape and aluminum foil and kept it in a bag. Police found blood on his apartment floor and "traces of Wilma" on a kitchen knife, according to local media reports.

The teen's coat and purse were also hanging in his closet.

Witnesses alleged to investigators that Shabaz took control of Wilma's life by checking her phone and deciding what clothes she would wear.

It is claimed that he had a GPS tracking app installed in her phone so that he could track her every movement.

SLAUGHTERED Missing Swedish girl, 17, beheaded by ex boyfriend, 23, after breaking up with him, cops say

Jon Lockett

May 18 2020, 13:10 ET | Updated: May 18 2020, 15:44 ET

A SWEDISH teenager was allegedly beheaded by her ex-boyfriend after breaking up with him, say cops.

<https://nypost.com/2020/05/19/man-wrapped-ex-girlfriends-head-in-tin-foil-after-decapitating-her/>

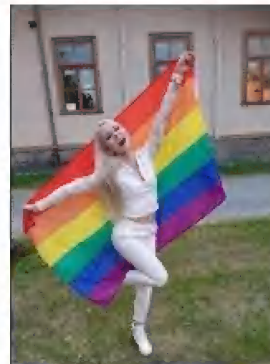

POLICE INVESTIGATING MURDER OF PRO-MIGRATION FINNISH WOMAN BY HER MIGRANT BOYFRIEND

Police in Finland are investigating the murder of a woman killed by her migrant ex-boyfriend after making pro-mass migration posts on social media.

Sanni Ovaska was reportedly killed last week by Hasan Alqina, who then committed suicide. Alqina was in the country as a Palestinian asylum seeker and had earlier been denied a residency permit.

Authorities were alerted after a neighbor saw evidence of a crime at the apartment in Hämeenlinna. A photo was later posted to Twitter showing blood seeping under the door of the apartment.

Rejected asylum seeker decapitates left girlfriend

Vind ik leuk Deen 2,7 d. personen vinden dit leuk, wat je wilt toch leuk vinden

Danny 10/02/2020 20:56 7 Comments

Sanni Ovaska

Sanni was a globalist. She was in favor of an open borders policy. She supported mass immigration and despised "White people". Sanni did meet the racist definition. Many texts were peppered with anti-white sentiments. She often typed: "white men are shit" (source)

She was fanatic LGBT trailer and she also praised a series of other progressive social developments. (source)

She also wrote: "White people don't matter". (source)

Hasan Alqina.

The 27 year old Hasan Alqina arrived in Finland as an asylum seeker in 2015. He registered himself as an asylum seeker from Palestine. He received a temporary residence permit. (source)

He writes on social media that he is a fanatic Muslim, he hates Donald Trump and worked as a cook. He is born according to himself in Jaffa (Israel). (source)

Sanni really liked the body-building asylum seeker and took him into her home and in her life.

He came to live with her and Sanni often used him as propaganda on social media to show that they had a fantastic time. Hasan was the ideal example of the inequality of the people who warned her.

Asylum request rejected.

Everything went well in the relationship until Hasan was told that his asylum was not being extended. His temporary permit was withdrawn and he had to go back. He would not have met the asylum conditions (source)(source) and are deported to Palestine.

His behavior changed and he demanded that Sanni go with him to Palestine. Sanni didn't want this. Sanni had a lot left for her pro-immigration agenda, but she didn't want to move to Palestine.

The tension became too high, the love became less and Sanni decided to end the relationship. (source)

<https://www.infowars.com/police-investigating-murder-of-pro-migration-finnish-woman-by-her-migrant-boyfriend/>

<https://commonsensetv.nl/en/afgewezen-asielzoeker-onthooft-extreem-linkse-vriendin/>

CZECH REPUBLIC

GERMANY

POLICE

NEWS

Czech police arrest Afghan migrant who stabbed his girlfriend 20 times in Germany

The 32-year-old Afghan, who allegedly stabbed his German girlfriend 20 times, was arrested while traveling with a small child

May 07, 2020

<https://rmx.news/article/article/czech-police-arrest-afghan-migrant-who-stabbed-his-girlfriend-20-times-in-germany>

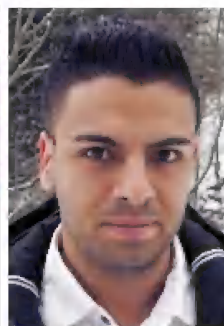

Finland: Muslim migrant rapes his girlfriend and then burns her alive

Updated! Ramin raped 17-year-old Jonna and then set her on fire alive

Foreign November 29, 2017

A brutal case of rape and murder that shook Finland has had its legal aftermath. 26-year-old Ramin Azimi, a resident of Helsinki but a citizen of Afghanistan, raped a 17-year-old girl and then murdered her by tying her to a chair, pouring petrol over her and burning her alive. He was sentenced to life in prison.

Ramin is said to have previously had a love affair with the Finnish girl Jonna, who is almost ten years younger. The rape and murder must have been Ramin's revenge for Jonna breaking up with him and then initiating another relationship.

IMMIGRANT VIOLENCE. Satakunta District Court, Finland has sentenced a man with a foreign background to life imprisonment for the rape and murder of a 17-year-old girl from Pori in January. According to the mental examination, the man was fully sane when he committed the act.

The motive was that their relationship ended. The man had wanted to marry the girl and have children with her. For her part, she had broken up and started meeting another man.

At the end of January, the man traveled from Helsinki to Pori and gave his ex-girlfriend a ride via Ulvsby (Finnish Ulvila) to Kumo (Kokemäki), where he tied her to a chair in an outbuilding, poured petrol over her and lit.

The aggravated rape took place according to the court at Kulla in Ulvsby. The man was also convicted of grievous bodily harm and traffic offenses.

The convicted 26-year-old has lived in Finland for a long time, but he does not have Finnish citizenship, only a residence permit.

He said immediately after the verdict that he will appeal to the Court of Appeal. His lawyer, for his part, said he was considering appealing.

According to the statement, Ramin Azimi first raped the girl in the nightclub at Ulvila. The man then transported the still alive girl to Kokemäki by car, moved her to a wooden storehouse, poured gasoline on her and burned her alive.

<https://gellerreport.com/2017/12/migrant-rapes-burns.html/>

<https://samnytt.se/ramin-valdtog-17-ariga-jonna-och-eldade-sedan-upp-henne-levande/>

Failed Afghan asylum seeker who stabbed his girlfriend to death jailed for life in Germany

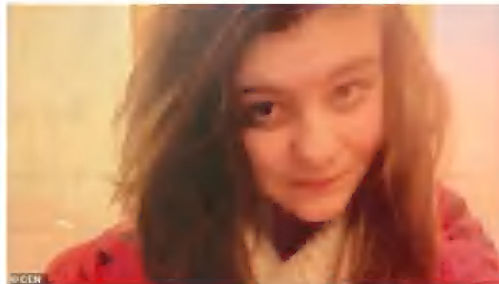

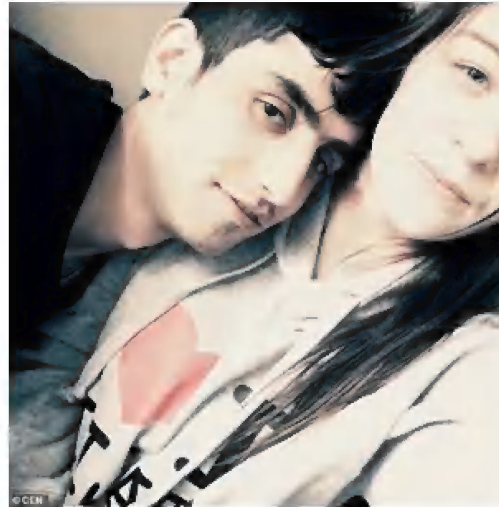

Afghan migrant is jailed for life in Germany for murdering 17-year-old ex-girlfriend who had ended their relationship

- Ahmad S. killed girlfriend Mireille in Flensburg, Germany back in March last year
- He was said to have stabbed her 14 times after she ended their relationship
- The court heard he arrived in Germany in 2015 claiming he was 18 to get asylum
- But the court found that he was actually an adult and could be up to 29 years old

By GEORGE MARTIN FOR MAILONLINE

PUBLISHED: 05:25 EDT, 6 February 2019 | UPDATED: 12:34 EDT, 11 February 2019

According to the court, the Afghan migrant was jealous that she found a new boyfriend and hated that he could no longer control every aspect of her life.

The 17-year-old Mireille B. (17) was killed with 14 knife wounds in her apartment in Flensburg, under urgent suspicion of Ahmad S., who came to Germany from Afghanistan as an unaccompanied minor in 2015. Now the start of the process before the regional court in Flensburg, in which it must first be clarified how old Ahmad S. is in reality.

Control is better: The reviewer is certain that Ahmad S. is older than 18, at least 21, if not 29 years old. Another example that "refugees" can tell the blue of the sky, whether age, origin or reason for flight, proof is usually not required, the word of honor is sufficient, and if the lie is uncovered, it usually remains without consequences. In stark contrast to the Germans, who have the burden of proof before they even see a cent from the state.

The appraiser is certain. The man who is said to have killed 17-year-old Mireille in Flensburg with more than a dozen knife wounds is older than 18 years. At least 21, probably even 29. The fact that the accused was only 18 years old at the time of the crime in March of this year could not be correct from a forensic medical point of view, the expert said on the first day of the murder trial against the Afghan refugee. The expert based her analysis on various examinations, including X-rays of the hand and radiological tomographs of the teeth and collarbone.

Age is important for the question of whether juvenile criminal law can be applied or not. In this case another chamber of the regional court would have jurisdiction. If convicted under youth criminal law, the maximum sentence for murder is usually ten years. Read more on Die Welt.de

<https://politikstube.com/mord-an-mireille-17-afghane-aelter-als-18-mindestens-21-wahrscheinlich-sogar-29/>

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-6673297/Failed-Afghan-asylum-seeker-stabbed-girlfriend-death-jailed-life-Germany.html>

Afghan migrant who stabbed former girlfriend, 15, to death in Germany, is hanged in his prison cell

Besides his nationality, doubts were raised about his age, which he said was 15 at the time of the crime.

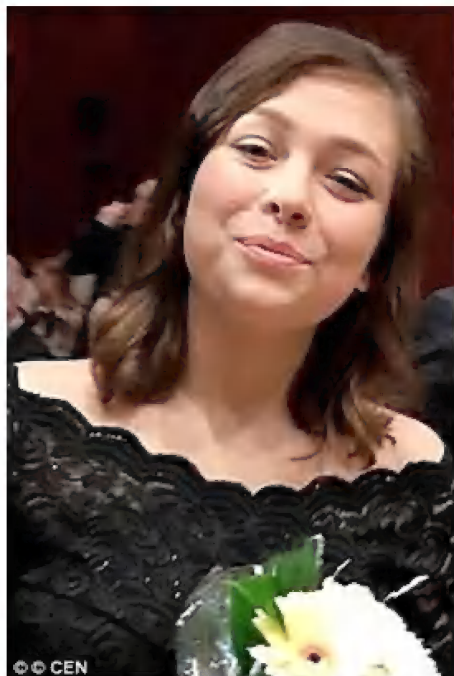

An expert estimated him to be between 17 and a half and 20 but, given the uncertainty, the proceedings were held behind closed doors and under juvenile penal rules.

Abdul arrived in the German state of Hesse in April 2016 as an unaccompanied refugee, telling the authorities he was 15 years old.

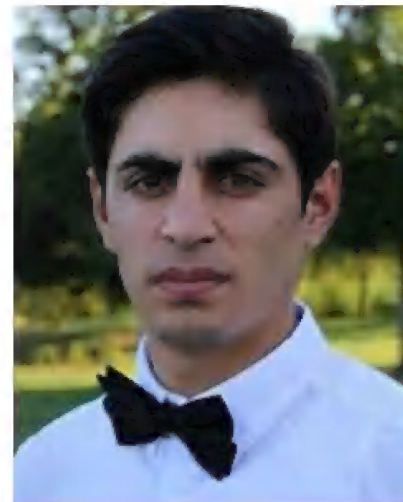

His request for asylum was rejected in February 2017 but he was not immediately deported.

Abdul and Mia V had reportedly had a relationship which lasted several months, but she broke up with him early December after he became 'jealous and mean'.

The victim's father David V said he and his family initially welcomed Abdul 'like a son' as 'otherwise he would have had nobody', but added that he always doubted his age.

Mia V was stalked and threatened by her ex-boyfriend in the weeks before she was stabbed to death

Afghan migrant who stabbed ex-girlfriend, 15, to death in Germany is found hanged in his prison cell

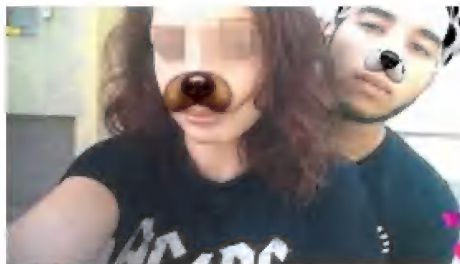

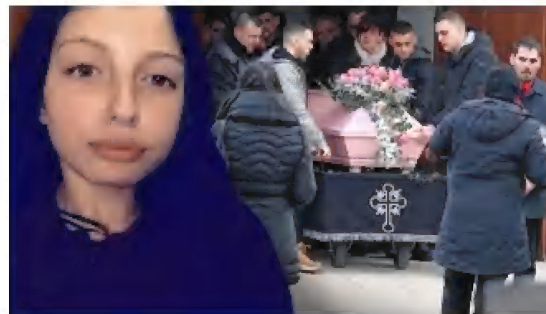

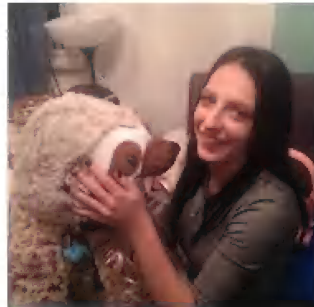

- Migrant identified only as Abdul Mobin D was jailed last year for killing his ex
- Admitted stabbing Mia V to death in a fit of jealousy after she broke up with him
- On Thursday he was found hanged in a juvenile prison in western Germany
- Prison officials say there was no suicide note, but it appears he strangled himself

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-7558357/Afghan-migrant-stabbed-ex-girlfriend-15-death-Germany-dead.html>

"Ex" strangled: is the murder suspect really 19?

Stalker ambushed Manuela (16) in local

So far it has been rumored that Manuela K. and the refugee Yazan were together on a tour of the city center. Many wondered why she should have done this to her ex, whom she reported for stalking and sexual harassment. Now it leaked: the Syrian had listened to them and hadn't turned up in the bar by accident. He talked to his ex until 6 a.m., until she drove home by taxi. It looks like he was following her in a second taxi. The two taxi drivers are now wanted as witnesses by the police. Because: Yazan, for whom the presumption of innocence applies, is likely to have missed and strangled the 16-year-old again on the last meters through Anton Wodica Park. Manuela's mother was worried in the morning and called Yazan on the cell phone to see if he had seen her daughter. Who claimed he would be in Vienna "and know nothing". Then the mother knew: Something had happened ...

Only a few months ago he was reported by the later victim Manuela K. (16) for assault and sexual harassment ("Today" reported), in the spring of 2019 (note: a date was not yet set) he was supposed to go to court. An asylum recognition procedure was initiated, but the Federal Asylum Office had no chance (Note: only from serious crimes with final convictions of 18 months and up as a rule; and the country of origin must be safe) and therefore had to discontinue the procedure in 2018.

On Sunday, January 13th, Manuela K.'s mother found her daughter's body under a pile of leaves in Anton-Wodica-Park in Wiener Neustadt. The whole family was looking for Manuela after she didn't come back from a local tour the night before.

While it was initially assumed that Manuela K. and her ex-boyfriend Yazan were on a tour of the city center, it leaked according to "Oe24.at" that the Syrian had seen her in the restaurant.

Until 6 o'clock in the morning he is said to have talked to his ex-girlfriend until she drove home by taxi. Then he is said to have followed her in another taxi. The two taxi drivers are currently wanted as witnesses by the police.

On the last stretch in Anton Wodica Park, Yazan A. is said to have watched the victim and then strangled her. After Manuela's mother was worried about her daughter on Sunday morning, she called her daughter's ex-boyfriend on the cell phone to see if he had seen her daughter. When the latter claimed that he was in Vienna "and didn't know anything", the mother suspected that something had happened.

The suspect is now in custody in the prison in Wiener Neustadt and has confessed to the murder. Since there are still doubts about the age of the accused, which is decisive for the sentence, a physical examination was commissioned by Yazan A.

Young adults between the ages of 18 and 21 can be sentenced to a prison sentence of up to 15 years if convicted. If it turns out that Yazan A. is older than 21, he faces a prison sentence of ten to 20 years or even life. (nh)

"Manuela still had so many plans, wanted to see as much of the world as possible, wanted to travel to many countries. It wasn't until Christmas that she got a trailer with five continents," sobs her mother. From the beginning she was not happy with the relationship between her daughter and the Syrian: "When he then wanted to forbid her short pants and contact with friends, Manuela resisted. But he kept talking to her for a long time, she kept talking to her I contacted her and didn't leave her alone. My daughter didn't want to have any more contact with him. He never accepted that. When she blocked him, he called her from other smartphones and wrote to her via new Facebook accounts. He's also often suddenly turned up. He even failed to comply with a signpost and was punished for it (Note: Yazan A. reported the victim). "- Read more about this here.

<https://www.heute.at/s/jetzt-spricht-die-mutter-der-toten-manuela-16-52467561>

<https://www.oe24.at/oesterreich/chronik/niederoesterreich/mord-in-wiener-neustadt-stalker-lauerte-manuela-16-in-lokal-auf/364389145>

Afghan refugee 'stabbed 16-year-old Austrian girlfriend to death in her bedroom'

Manhunt launched for Afghan asylum seeker, 17, after his girlfriend, 16, is found stabbed to death at her home in Austria

- The victim, only identified as Michelle F., was found lifeless in her bedroom
- Asylum seeker Saber Akhondzada arrived in Austria between 2015 and 2016
- Michelle's family said he was very jealous and tried to limit the girl's movements

By CHIARA FIORILLO FOR MAILONLINE

PUBLISHED: 07:04 EDT, 11 December 2018 | UPDATED: 08:11 EDT, 11 December 2018

A manhunt for an Afghan asylum seeker is underway after his 16-year-old girlfriend was found stabbed to death in her bedroom by her mother.

The incident happened in Steyr, a city in the Austrian federal state of Upper Austria.

It is believed 17-year-old Saber Akhondzada stabbed the Austrian teenager, identified only as Michelle F., out of jealousy.

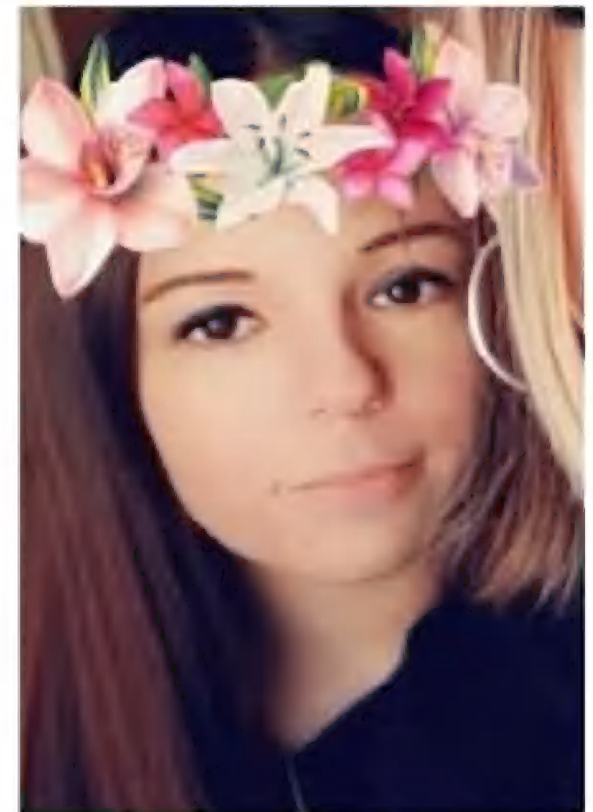

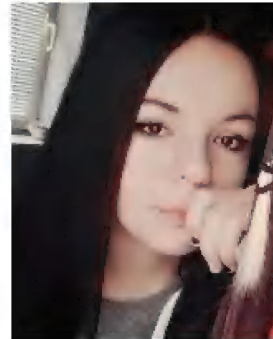

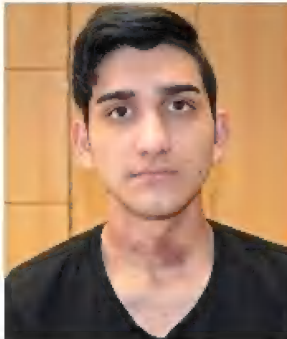

In the evening, the girl's mother went to check on her daughter and her Afghan boyfriend.

She was reportedly unable to open the bedroom door because it was blocked by a cabinet.

When the woman managed to get in to the room, she found the lifeless body of her daughter.

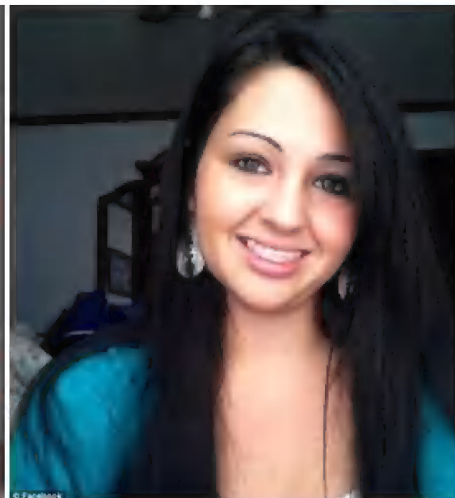

An autopsy showed Michelle died from two stab wounds in her back, with one stab puncturing her lung.

According to the Steyr Police, Akhondzada was no longer in the room when the woman entered having managed to escape through an open window.

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-6483129/Manhunt-launched-Afghan-asylum-seeker-17-girlfriend-16-stabbed-death.html>

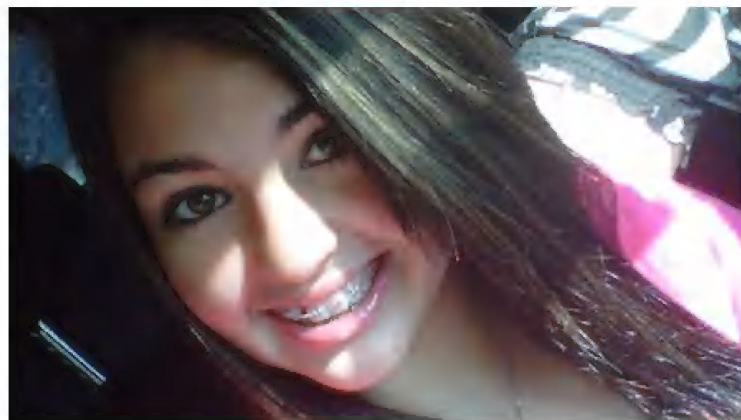

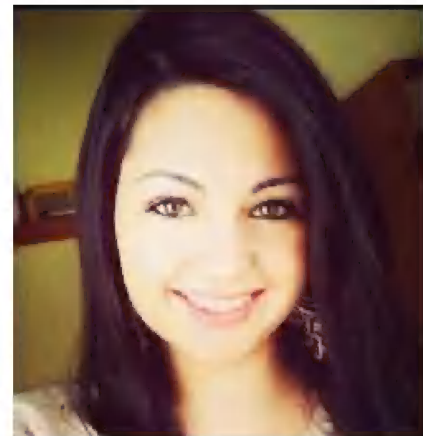

NC 19-year-old charged in death of teen girlfriend

Teenaged felon 'accidentally shot 17-year-old girlfriend dead during botched robbery'

- Aaron Byers, 19, was arrested Saturday for shooting dead his girlfriend Hannah Bickley, 17
- A judge Monday denied Byers bond
- Byers told police that he and Byers were held up by armed thieves when the shooting occurred
- Police believe that Byers was the one committing armed robbery
- Both Bickley and Byers were arrested for marijuana possession last year
- Byers also has a record for armed robbery and possession of a firearm
- Bickley's family say they tried to put distance between the two
- Bickley was due to graduate high school within weeks and planned to become a nurse

By DAILY MAIL REPORTER
PUBLISHED: 17:39 EDT, 12 May 2014 | UPDATED: 17:50 EDT, 12 May 2014

Bickley's father, Guy Bickley, spoke to WCNC about his daughter, saying she was due to graduate from Cherryville High School in the next few weeks and had ambitions to become a nurse.

Bickley's uncle Brian Bickley said the family had long been concerned about her relationship with Byers.

'We did everything we could to try to get some separation between those two,' he told WSOC-TV.

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2626555/Teenaged-felon-shot-17-year-old-girlfriend-accidentally-botched-robbery.html>

Indiana high school football player sentenced to 65 years for killing pregnant girlfriend who waited too long to get abortion

An Indiana teenager who pleaded guilty last year to murdering his pregnant 17-year-old girlfriend and their unborn child has been sentenced to 65 years for the violent crime.

Aaron Trejo learned his fate on Tuesday, with St Joseph County Superior Court Judge Elizabeth Hurley sentencing him to 55 years for the murder of Breana Rouhselang and to 10 years for feticide in the death of their daughter, who was posthumously named 'Aurora.'

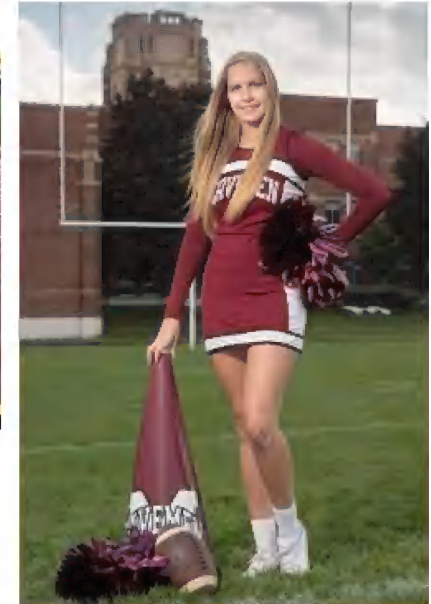

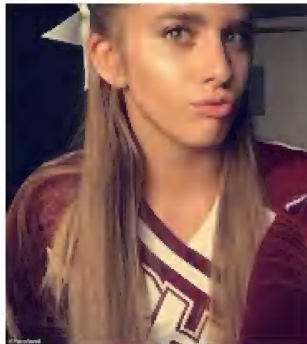

The body of Rouhselang, a member of the cheer squad and football team manager at Mishawaka High School, was discovered by authorities in a dumpster behind Pasquale Rulli Pizza, just a block away from where she lived with her biological mother.

Detective Gery Mullins detailed the conversation in charging documents in which Trejo confessed to the horrifying crimes, which occurred after the teenage pair had a fight.

'I then asked Aaron if the fight was about the pregnancy,' Mullins wrote.

'Aaron Trejo quietly said, "Yes." Aaron then explained that Breana waited too long to tell Aaron about the pregnancy to get an abortion. I asked Aaron what he did about that, and he replied, "I took action... I took her life."

'Aaron explained that he stabbed Breana in the heart with a knife he brought from home. Aaron chose to use a knife because he thought it would kill Breana quickly.

'Aaron stated that he put the black plastic bag over Breana, which he had brought from home for that purpose.

'Aaron Trejo said that he had been planning and thinking about killing Breana and the baby for about a week and had not told anybody. Aaron Trejo said that after he put Breana's body in the dumpster, he walked to the river and threw Breana's phone and his knife as far out into the river as he could.'

<https://abc7chicago.com/teen-kills-pregnant-girlfriend-killed-breana-rouhselang-aaron-trejo/5829934/>

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-7869717/Teen-murdered-pregnant-girlfriend-waited-long-abort-baby-gets-65-years.html>

A jury found Elgin “Ray Ray” Robinson Jr. guilty of capital murder Wednesday in the death of a 14-year-old girl who was pregnant with his baby.

Prosecutor Kevin O'Connor told a judge he hoped no one would hear from Elgin Robinson Jr. after Robinson was sentenced to life in prison for killing his pregnant 14-year-old girlfriend.

In his statement, Robinson also attacked his former best friend, Everett Gentry.

Gentry, who was 17 at the time, confessed to police, and testified in court, that the two planned Chelsea's killing in the final weeks of her pregnancy.

Robinson, then 20, had impregnated Chelsea and had been threatened by her parents with rape charges because of her age. Gentry said Robinson told him he wanted to “get rid” of Chelsea and the two planned her death.

Friday, Robinson said Gentry lied, “and he has everyone drinking his Kool-Aid.”

“I may be a bad boyfriend,” Robinson said. “I may be an adult who had sex with a little girl. But I am not a principal participant in this contract killing.”

Chelsea Brooks, 14, was 9 months pregnant, and she disappeared on June 9, after going skating with friends. Her body was found partially buried Thurs.

Family says that she may have been seeing Elgin R. Robinson (no age given, but they named him, so he is probably over 18). Two others were also arrested, one was a 17 yo who wasn't named and another man who no info is available (three suspects arrested).

No Amber alert was issued as she had been thought to be a runaway until her body was found!

Family and friends of 14-year-old Chelsea Brooks received letters earlier this year notifying them that 29-year-old Everett Gentry was asking for a reduction in his sentence. He is serving 25 years to life in prison for orchestrating Chelsea's killing with two other men so her baby's father, Elgin Ray Robinson Jr., wouldn't be prosecuted for rape.

Chelsea was nine months pregnant with a daughter she planned to name Alexa. Robinson, the baby's father, offered to pay Gentry $1,000 to have Chelsea killed, according to testimony during Robinson's trial.

<https://www.kansas.com/latest-news/article1059487.html>

<https://www.kansas.com/news/local/crime/article213456879.html>

<https://www.websleuths.com/forums/threads/ks-chelsea-brooks-14-pregnant-found-in-shallow-grave-andover-9-june-2006.40475/>

Bryan Augustin, 18 at the time, stabbed Kayla to death in the home the two families shared in Riviera Beach.

Augustin's younger brother is the father of Kayla's daughter.

By Jane Musgrave

Follow

Posted Feb 24, 2017 at 12:01 AM

Updated Feb 25, 2017 at 1:11 PM

For viciously stabbing to death the 17-year-old mother of his brother's child, 21-year-old Bryan Augustin will spend the rest of his life behind bars, a Palm Beach County judge ruled Friday.

As broken members of two once close-knit families looked on, Circuit Judge Marni Bryson said the crime was among the most vicious she has seen.

Augustin, of Riviera Beach, slashed Kayla Storey's throat and stabbed her roughly 10 times while her 1-year-old daughter, 12-year-old sister and Augustin's mother looked on, court records show. The disagreement started over Augustin leaving a gun in the house the two families shared.

Mosley was previously charged with having a sexual relationship with the girl. Angstadt was reported missing on Dec. 1 and her body was found in a crawl space in the Lower Township home.

Two men charged with murder and sex crimes for death of girl, 15, found in the crawl space of an abandoned home

- Derrick Powers, 23 and Charles Mosley, 33, have been charged with the murder and sexual assault of Nicole Angstadt, 15
- Angstadt's body was found in a crawl space of an abandoned New Jersey home in December
- Police said they were given incorrect information when she was first reported missing
- After searching an abandoned home twice, police found her body on December 14

By VALERIE EDWARDS FOR DAILYMAIL.COM and ASSOCIATED PRESS
PUBLISHED: 14:42 EDT, 19 February 2016 | UPDATED: 18:23 EDT, 19 February 2016

Two men from New Jersey have been charged with murder and sex crimes for the death of a 15-year-old girl, whose body was found in the crawl space of her home.

Cape May County Prosecutor Robert Taylor said Friday that 23-year-old Derrick Powers and 33-year-old Charles Mosley, both of Rio Grande, were charged with murder and sexual assault in Nicole Angstadt's death.

Both men were in jail on $1 million bail. A spokeswoman for the prosecutor said it wasn't immediately known if either man had an attorney.

Mosley was previously charged with having a sexual relationship with the Angstadt.

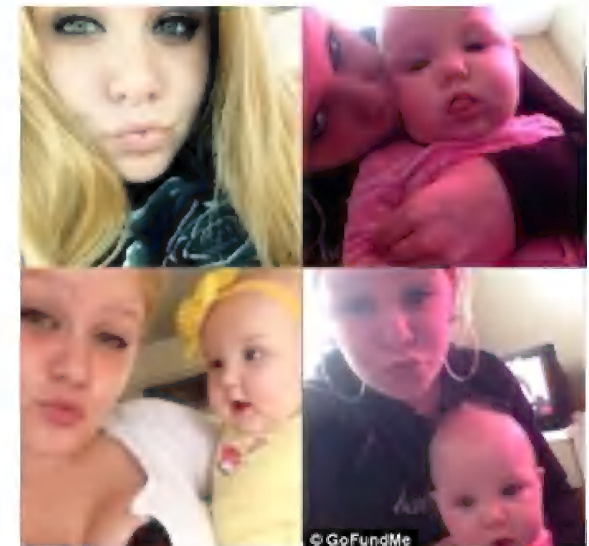

At that time police had put her information into the National Crime Information Center as a missing person but since they weren't told that Angstadt might be in danger, the case did not meet State Police criteria for an Amber Alert.

A week later, police interviewed the family again and for the first time, were told about an abandoned home at 100 Vermont Avenue, where the family had heard she was hanging out.

Police went to the boarded up home twice and found it secured.

However, the third time they went to the house, they found Angstadt's body in a crawl space of the home.

<https://philadelphia.cbslocal.com/2016/02/19/nj-men-charged-with-murder-sex-crimes-in-15-year-olds-death/>

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-3455109/2-men-charged-murder-sex-crimes-15-year-olds-death.html>

Former Cop Lamin Manneh Admits To Pimping Out His Teenage Wife

A Baltimore police officer was charged with pimping for his wife after officers from a human trafficking task force found him outside a hotel where the woman had agreed to have sex with an undercover officer for cash.

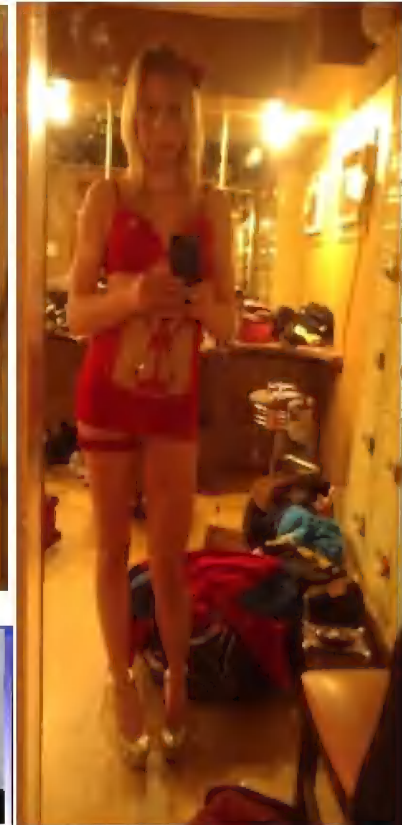

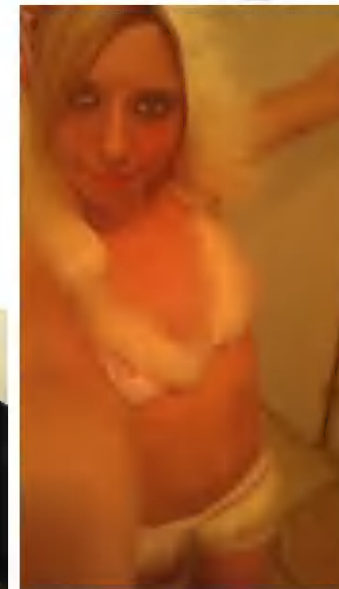

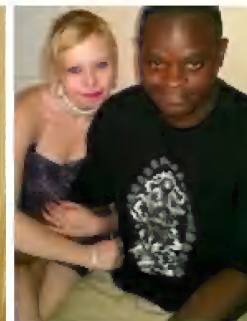

The child recovery task force was working on an investigation into human trafficking when they came across a "young-looking female" advertised as an escort on a Web site, police said. Officers arranged to meet the woman at a hotel near Baltimore-Washington International Marshall Airport, court records show.

Inside the hotel room Friday, a woman identified by police as Marissa Braun-Manneh told an undercover officer that she would have sex for $100 and was placed under arrest, charging documents show.

She said that her husband, Lamin Manneh, was waiting outside in a car, and that she gives him her money and he drives her from "date to date," according to court records. She said that he posts the online ads using his credit card. Manneh, 31, acknowledged his role in an interview with detectives, records show.

Police officer, 32, admits to being a pimp for his teenage wife who called him 'master'

- Former Baltimore cop Lamin Manneh arranged meetings between 300 clients and his wife, 19, and another woman over 3 months last year
- He would wait outside in the parking lot with his service weapon
- He kept all of his wife's earnings and a portion of the other woman's
- His wife said she had willingly entered into a 'contract of slavery' with him

She was arrested on a prostitution charge, but it was dropped in September because prosecutors said she had entered a "contract of slavery" with Manneh and agreed that he was her "master."

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2544727/Police-officer-admits-pimp-teenage-wife-called-master.html>

<https://www.opposingviews.com/category/former-cop-lamin-manneh-admits-pimping-out-his-teenage-wife>

https://www.washingtonpost.com/local/baltimore-police-officer-charged-with-prostituting-wife/2013/05/11/44abb3f2-ba57-11e2-92f3-f291801936b8_story.html

Jessie Foster still missing 13 years after vanishing near Las Vegas

"I LOVE YOU - I'll speak with you later."

Devoted mom Glendene Grant spoke those final, heartfelt words to her beautiful daughter Jessie shortly before the young woman mysteriously disappeared.

Two years later, a devastated Glendene is still looking for Jessie Foster - refusing to give up hope that her precious daughter is still alive.

"In my heart, I don't feel that Jessie is dead," says Glendene, 50. "I believe she is being kept somewhere against her will - and I won't stop until I find her."

Jessie, the second oldest of Glendene's four daughters, moved to Las Vegas in May 2005 to stay with a friend, Yvonne Hubrechsten.

But Jessie, then 21, met 39-year-old Peter Todd, a friend of Yvonne's boyfriend, and they became engaged.

"She told me that Peter had a the phone when I called.

"He told me Jessie had just taken off and left him heartbroken. All of her things were gone, but she had left her hair dryer and makeup.

"I was suspicious - what woman would leave without her hair dryer and makeup? And I didn't understand why he hadn't reported her missing or called me."

Deeply worried, Glendene contacted Las Vegas police. They searched Peter's house - but found nothing.

Jessie's father Dwight Foster hired a private detective - who came back with some very disturbing news.

"Jessie had been leading a double life as a high-class escort," said Glendene. "I was shocked - nothing could have prepared me for that."

"But the PI also learned that she had been in the hospital many times after being beaten, so it's likely that she was being forced into the prostitution. I was devastated."

In October 2006, Glendene and her best friend went to Vegas to hand out flyers and look for Jessie.

THEY ALSO UNCOVERED SOME horrifying information - Peter had allegedly been Jessie's pimp and had a police record for spousal abuse. What's more, his ex-wife had been arrested for prostitution, according to police.

"To me, it all made sense," says Glendene. "Her disappearance has all the trademarks of a human-trafficking kidnapping."

Glendene and her distraught family are still searching for their beloved daughter. There is a $50,000 reward for finding her.

"I pray that she isn't being beaten and locked up," says the shattered mom.

by SHARON WARD
tips@national enquirer.com

Anyone with information, please contact Glendene at 1-250-374-6137 or visit the Web site www.jessiefoster.ca

<http://jessiefoster.blogspot.com/>

<http://jessiefoster.blogspot.com/2009/03/early-morning-phone-call-very-early.html>

<https://www.nbcnews.com/feature/cold-case-spotlight/jessie-foster-still-missing-13-years-after-vanishing-near-las-n986381>

Man Linked to Unsolved Murder Arrested on Prostitution-Related Charges

LAS VEGAS — Las Vegas police have arrested 33-year-old Solomon Barron on several prostitution-related charges, including pandering and living off the earnings of a prostitute.

According to the arrest report, Barron transported several women from the east coast to work for him as prostitutes in Las Vegas. One of the girls contacted police after she decided she no longer wanted to work as a prostitute.

Barron rented multiple apartments near Flamingo and Valley View where several prostitutes lived and worked, according to police. Detectives raided those apartments in January of 2010 and found evidence that Barron was running a prostitution-related operation.

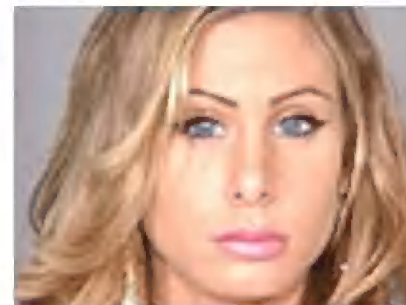

In May of 2005, Lindsay Harris was reported missing. Harris worked in the Las Vegas area as a prostitute and Barron claimed to be her boyfriend. Barron said he was a hip-hop promoter and not involved in Harris' escorting profession.

Barron was questioned extensively by Henderson Police about Harris' disappearance, but was never charged with a crime. Three years later, Harris' dismembered body was found off the side of an interstate in Illinois. The Illinois State Police are now handling the investigation.

In the most recent arrest report, one of Barron's prostitutes said he told her about Harris. The woman said she believed Barron was threatening her by providing details of Harris' disappearance and murder.

Barron's preliminary hearing has been scheduled for April 28, 2010.

In Lindsay's case Solomon Barron remains a viable suspect. Though he has an airtight alibi at the time of Lindsay's death, there are some who believe — including America's Most Wanted's John Walsh who featured Harris' case on the program — that Barron knows more than he is letting on.

Lindsay Harris left her small hometown of Skaneateles, N.Y. in January 2003 with a plan in mind. She left on a cross country drive to the west coast, eager to start a new and adventurous chapter of her life.

The shy, funny 19-year-old had a new boyfriend, then 26-year-old Solomon Barron, who she had met at a jazz festival in Syracuse, New York. Barron was a hip-hop promoter with businesses in Syracuse and Las Vegas, and it was there in Sin City that Lindsay planned to start anew.

Initially, Lindsay lived with her aunt in San Diego, but two months later relocated to Las Vegas and secretly moved in with Solomon. Martha and Robert Harris, Lindsay's parents, knew nothing of Solomon Barron until she brought him home for Christmas 2004. On May 5, 2005 — just five months after their visit — Solomon was calling the Harris's with bad news: Lindsay was missing.

Lindsay's disappearance quickly exposed the other life she was living — as an escort in Las Vegas.

Shortly after she had moved in with Solomon, Lindsay told her family she was dancing in a nightclub. But they didn't know about the double life she was really leading.

Her disappearance quickly exposed the truth, however. She was working as an escort in Las Vegas and was even arrested for solicitation. Yet despite the sting of this reality, Lindsay's parents are only concerned with finding their daughter.

Police say Lindsay made a bank deposit near her home in Henderson, Nev. at 3:36 p.m. on Wednesday, May 4. This is the last independent confirmed sighting of the young woman.

<https://nealfallsinvestigation.wordpress.com/2016/06/05/lindsay-harris/>

<http://jessiefoster.blogspot.com/2008/06/lindsay-marie-harris-1983-2005-rest-in.html>

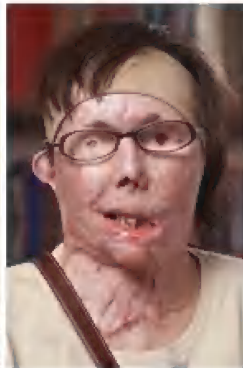

<http://henderson.8newsnow.com/content/man-linked-unsolved-murder-arrested-prostitution-related-charges>

Carmen Blandin Tarleton, disfigured in attack by ex-husband reveals new face transplant

AP MAY 2, 2013 2:56PM

Ms. Tarleton and her daughters 10 years before the attack.

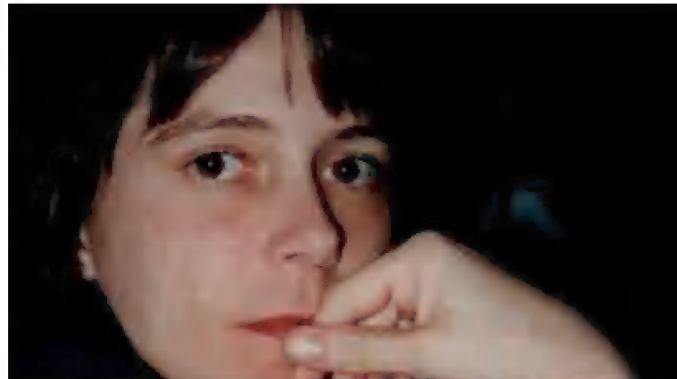

Jealous husband, 62, who left his wife in need of a face transplant after attacking her with industrial-strength lye, dies in jail

- Sixty-two-year-old Herbert Rodgers, who had been serving a 30- to 70-year prison sentence in Pennsylvania, died on Monday
- In 2007, he flew into a jealous rage and doused his estranged wife, Carmen Tarleton, with industrial-strength lye
- The chemical burned her so badly she was left blind and needing a face transplant
- In 2009, Rodgers, who at this point was Tarleton's ex-husband, pleaded guilty to maiming her in exchange for a prison sentence of at least 30 years
- Police previously said Rodgers believed his wife was seeing another man and went to her house to attack him
- Tarleton suffered burns on more than 80 percent of her body and was left blind as a result of the attack
- In 2013, over two dozen doctors at a Boston hospital performed a face transplant on Tarleton

By ASSOCIATED PRESS and ARIEL ZILBER FOR DAILYMAIL.COM

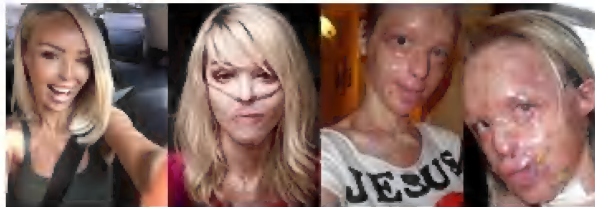

PUBLISHED: 20:07 EDT, 18 December 2017 | UPDATED: 21:58 EDT, 19 December 2017

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-5192849/Man-doused-wife-lye-prompting-face-transplant-dies.html>

<https://www.news.com.au/world/carmen-blandin-tarleton-disfigured-in-attack-by-ex-husband-reveals-new-face-transplant/news-story/329f6a43d455b26af9266b2d6b72ad81>

Katie Piper's evil ex-boyfriend handed £200,000 of taxpayers' cash in legal aid after acid attack

Her ex-boyfriend Daniel Lynch, 42, raped Katie before ordering pal Stefan Sylvestre to throw acid in her face

As we wandered to a pub afterwards, I decided to stop seeing him. After all, we had been dating for only two weeks. His behaviour had been terrible and I realised I'd made too many allowances for him. I'd spend the rest of today with him as planned, then that would be it.

We suggested we get a hotel in town for the night. It meant I could have a drink over dinner as I wouldn't have to drive afterwards and it would be handy for my hairdressing appointment the next morning.

We had a nice evening in a restaurant but in the hotel lift Danny looked at our reflection in the mirror and snarled: 'You're not even all that in the flesh, are you?'

I was shocked and looked away. In our room, despite what he'd said, Danny assumed he could still get intimate with me. I made it clear that I didn't want to sleep with him.

His face flushed red with anger and he started accusing me of not wanting to be with him any more. He launched into a tirade of abuse. With his lips curled in a snarl he looked like a wild animal.

I panicked, searching my mind for a way to calm him. But I couldn't think quickly enough. Danny's ego was dented and he was in a rage - with all his body weight he pushed me and I hit the door.

Before I knew it I was being forced on to the bed. Instinct told me what was coming next. Danny was going to rape me. I started weeping. 'Please, no, not that,' I begged.

<https://www.thesun.co.uk/tvandshowbiz/3159251/katie-piper-before-after-acid-attack-who/>

In February 2008, Katie started a relationship with Daniel Lynch after the pair began messaging on Facebook.

But just two weeks into their romance, Katie started having doubts and he later attacked her in a London hotel room.

Katie then went back to her flat in Golders Green and two days later, Lynch demanded she go to a nearby internet cafe.

However, it was a trap and Lynch had arranged for accomplice Stefan Sylvestre to wait outside her flat and throw sulphuric acid into her face.

Katie was rushed to the Chelsea and Westminster Hospital for emergency treatment as the acid had severely burned her face and blinded her in her left eye.

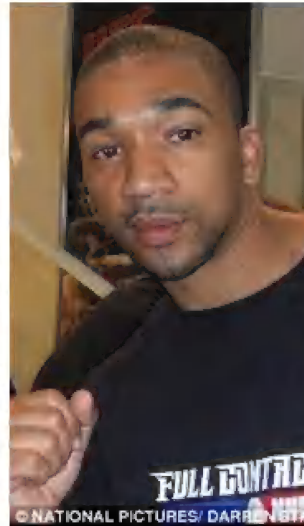

She was put in an induced coma for 12 days and had to undergo skin graft procedures.

Out shopping one afternoon, we stopped to buy some doughnuts. 'I'll have a chocolate one, please,' I smiled to the old guy behind the counter. 'Here you go, darling,' he said, handing me the bag.

Danny erupted, livid that somebody had called me 'darling'. Mortified, I apologised.

'What was that about?' I demanded of Danny. Just as quickly, he flicked back to his normal self and apologised.

I was starting to feel smothered by the emails and phone calls: when I came home from work one day, I found he had sent me 37 messages in a few hours.

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/femail/article-1351435/Acid-attack-victim-Katie-Piper-attacked-going-boy-met-Facebook.html>

Christopher Hanney sentenced to life in prison for setting his wife on fire

NYPD detective guilty of trying to kill his wife by setting her on fire with petrol and candles because she wanted to divorce him

- Christopher Hanney, 46, of Florida, attacked wife Audrey Mabrey, 29
- Tried to rape her and attacked her four times with hammer at home
- He threw petrol on her and lit her up with scented candle, court told
- Mabrey left with 80% burns; she's now anti-domestic violence advocate

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2092730/Christopher-Hanney-guilty-trying-kill-wife-Audrey-Maybrey-setting-Tampa.html>

Evil bully smashed TV over girlfriend's head, stabbed her and said 'If I can't have you no one can' after she dumped him

Jade Herbert, 25, had to spend a month in hospital after suffering serious scars to her face, head and left hand from when Fidal Robinson, 23, attacked her with a glass jug, chair, television, a pair of scissors and a bread knife.

Between October and December last year, Robinson attacked the youth worker several times since their relationship began in September.

The pair had begun a relationship after meeting on Snapchat but the behaviour of Robinson soon turned violent, with Ms Herbert describing him as an 'immature egoist'.

Robinson, who has a lengthy criminal record which includes robbery, attacks on prison staff and an assault on his own mother in 2011, would turn abusive if Ms Herbert made plans to go out in the evening.

The 23-year-old also attacked Ms Herbert's sister, Leah, when he met the relative for the first time in October after he had taken cocaine with another male friend.

'He then stabbed me and cut me with scissors, stamped on me and started smacking the jug all over my head.'

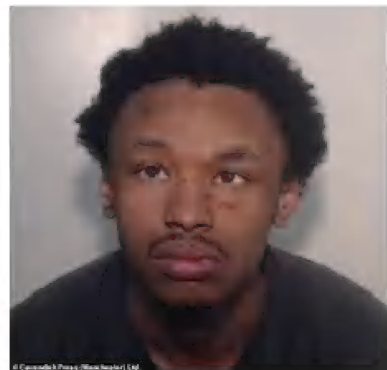

'I had a big cast iron chair which he threw at me whilst kicking and punching me.'

'I went to the bathroom where he hit me more. I was on the floor and thought he would stop but he smacked the TV over my head while I was on the floor and there was blood everywhere.'

'I asked him if I could go to my sister's but he said 'if I can't have you no one will have you.'

'He then grabbed a bread knife and was chopping me on my face, arms, hand and leg. I thought I was going to die. I grabbed a knife and threw it.'

'He was still hitting me and dragged me downstairs and I tried to get the knife but did not know where I threw it.'

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-8333857/Youth-worker-25-bravely-reveals-horrific-stab-wounds-attacked-boyfriend.html>

Man accused in brutal slaying of former girlfriend at abandoned Athens school to be tried August 26

Updated Mar 05, 2019; Posted Apr 06, 2013

In the months before the murder, Wendy had been taking the slow steps to breaking free. She was going to Hope Place— a shelter for domestic abuse victims in Decatur.

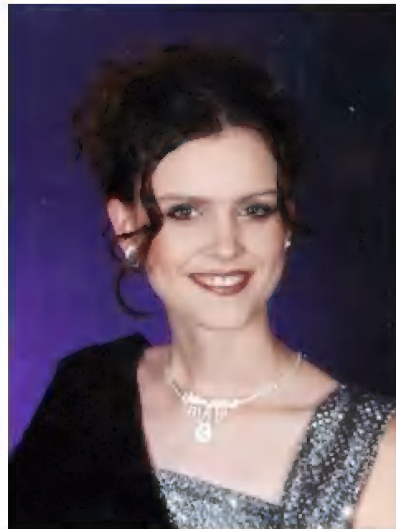

Wendy has two daughters, both of which are safely living with grandparents.

She was headed to Hope Place on Dec. 26, 2010, when Anderson got hold of her for the second to the last time, Martha said.

"She left our house Christmas Day and she was supposed to have gone to Hope Place the night after Christmas but the roads were icy, so she planned to go the next day, Dec. 27.

A friend was going to take Wendy to the shelter, but Anderson found out where Wendy was getting a ride and went there.

"He dragged her out in the street and beat her there and then took her to his house (at 18078 East Limestone Road, Lot D)," Martha said. "He kept her there and would not let her leave."

Wendy Defoe Bond, 26, RIP

By Kelly Kazek | kkazek@al.com

ATHENS, Alabama - A man charged with capital murder in the brutal 2011 stabbing and beating death of his ex-girlfriend will be tried Aug. 26 in Limestone County Circuit Court, a spokeswoman for the district attorney said.

Lamar Wallace Anderson, 49, of Athens is accused of killing Wendy Defoe Bond, 26, of Athens, a girlfriend who had filed a restraining order against him. Her body was found in the eerie, crumbling ruins of Trinity High School on Brownsferry Street on March 13, 2011. The school was closed in 1970 when students were integrated into schools with white students.

Court records state that Anderson killed Bond with a knife, a piece of aluminum and his fists. A preliminary autopsy showed Bond died of blunt-force trauma to the head. Limestone County District Attorney Brian Jones said results of the final autopsy will remain sealed until the trial.

Bond had obtained a protection-from-abuse order against Anderson the previous January, authorities said.

https://www.al.com/breaking/2013/04/man_accused_in_brutal_slaying.html

https://www.eneWSCourier.com/archives/mom-daughter-would-want-others-to-keep-trying-to-leave/article_12f07201-f9de-58ed-bf95-1a2f0c6b04a1.html

BOYFRIEND KILLS GIRLFRIEND IN FRONT OF KIDS

Three Children Left Without A Mother Following A Murder In Steele Creek

November 5, 2018 by Alexandra Ellich

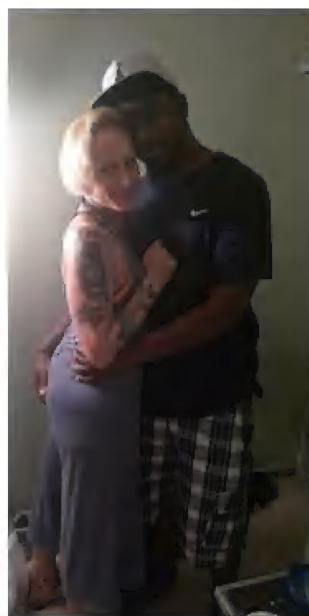

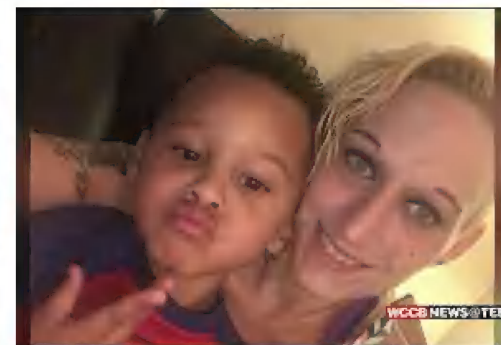

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Three children left without a mother following a murder in Steele Creek. The woman's boyfriend is charged. WCCB learned he has a history of domestic violence arrests.

Friends and family mourning the loss of Stephanie Potts.

"She was amazing, she was so kind hearted, she had whole heart, she took in anyone who needed help," says Potts' son's girlfriend Briana Lee.

Police found Potts dead inside her home on Black Chestnut Place in Steele Creek Sunday afternoon, after being called to do a wellness check. Police arrested Potts' live-in boyfriend, Deshawn Clipper, Monday in Greensboro. The 31-year-old is charged with first degree murder. Investigators haven't said how Potts died.

Court records show clipper has a pending charge for assaulting Potts in September. Documents say he threw a ring of keys and hit Potts in the head. In 2009, another woman took out a domestic violence order of protection against him. The order says Clipper tried to suffocate a woman and threatened to kill her. Records show Clipper violated the order of protection.

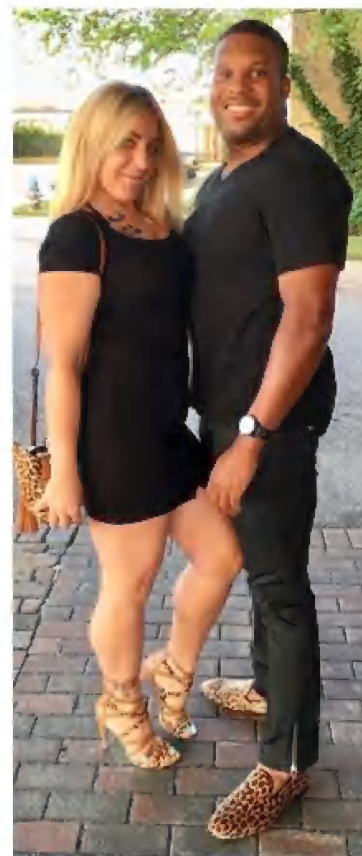

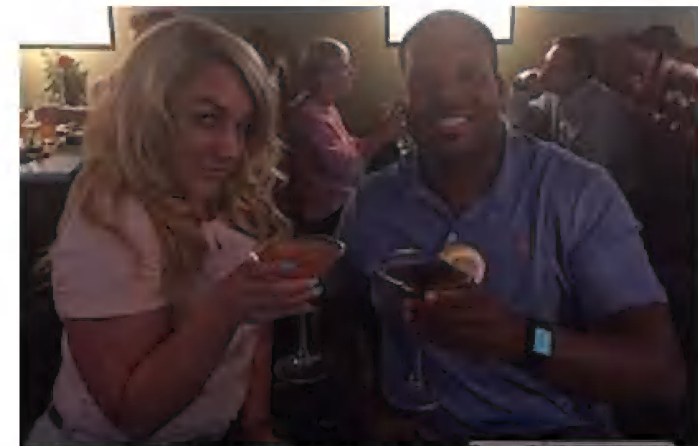

<https://newsmaven.io/charlottealerts/news/boyfriend-kills-girlfriend-in-front-of-kids-9Fkh59MpkU2BrXkbzWChjw>

<https://www.wccbcharlotte.com/2018/11/05/three-children-left-without-a-mother-following-a-murder-in-steele-creek/>

Ohio Firefighter Fatally Shoots Fiancée and Then Himself

Demetrius T'Juan Butler's mother called 911 and told dispatchers that her son admitted to killing his girlfriend

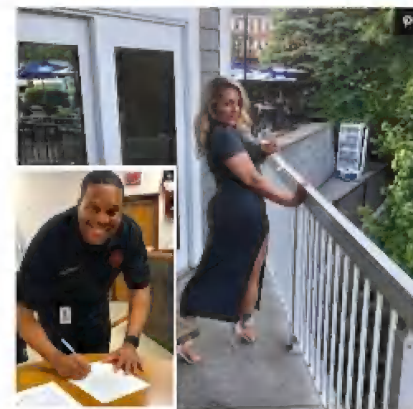

An Ohio firefighter killed his fiancée before taking his own life.

Officers were called to a house on Brittain Road in Akron around 2 a.m. Thursday after the victim's 11-year-old daughter called 911. The girl reported that her mother Olivia "Liv" Hamey, 35, and her fiancé, Twinsburg firefighter Demetrius T'Juan Butler, 35, had been in an argument before she heard the sounds of gunshots. She found her mother unresponsive in the basement.

Hamey's seven-year-old son was also in the home at the time of the shooting.

"It is a total tragedy," Akron Police Department Lt. Rick Edwards tells PEOPLE. "There were two small children and the 11-year-old heard the argument and found her mother. She will remember this for the rest of her life."

<https://people.com/crime/ohio-firefighter-fatally-shoots-fiancee-and-himself/>

Man sentenced for killing girlfriend; leaving her on street to die

A Kent County jury on Tuesday convicted a Grand Rapids man for the Nov. 6, 2015, slaying of his girlfriend, who was gunned down in front of a city street crew on Grand Rapids' Northeast Side.

Jermaine Arnet Cooper was found guilty of second-degree murder and felony use of a firearm in a trial that got underway last week. Jurors returned a verdict about noon today.

Cooper, 36, faces up to life in prison for the predawn slaying of 31-year-old Melissa Moore. He'll be sentenced Nov. 28 in front of Kent County Circuit Court Judge George Jay Quist. Cooper remains held in the Kent County Jail.

Kent County Assistant Prosecutor Kellee Koncki told jurors that Cooper "basically assassinated" the victim following a protracted argument that began the previous evening.

He shot Moore, a mother of two, on Knapp Street near Truxton Drive NE; a city street crew cleaning up leaves witnessed the shooting.

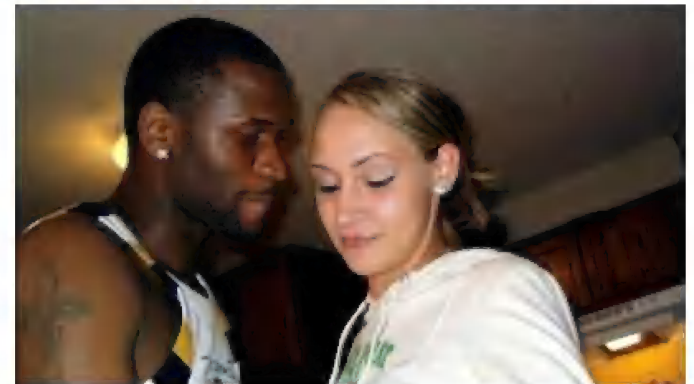

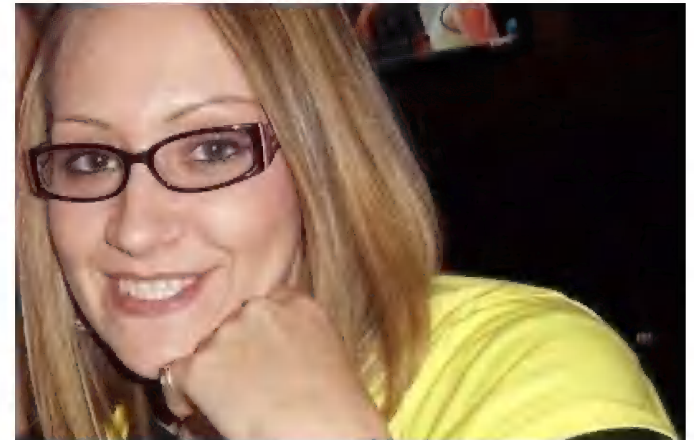

"He essentially assassinated her in front of them and then left in a black Cadillac," Koncki told the jury.

Witnesses described seeing the gunman leave in a black Cadillac, which matches the description of a vehicle used by Cooper and Moore. The car was found near a home where Cooper had been staying in Northeast Grand Rapids.

After killing Moore, Koncki said Cooper fled to Detroit to avoid the consequences. He was arrested by police there on Dec. 4 following a seven-hour standoff.

The pair were involved in a heated argument about a cellphone, she told jurors.

"He's jealous. He's saying you're calling somebody else on this cell phone, you're blocking me on your cell phone. Don't you love me anymore? It goes on all night."

Man guilty of gunning down girlfriend in front of Grand Rapids city street crew

<https://www.fox17online.com/2016/12/19/man-sentenced-for-killing-girlfriend-leaving-her-on-street-to-die>

<https://www.wzzm13.com/article/news/crime/man-guilty-of-gunning-down-girlfriend-in-front-of-grand-rapids-city-street-crew/69-345823863>

Eva Marree Smith Kullander, a Swedish mother of two, was stabbed to death by her ex-husband during a supervised visit with her children on July 11, 2013.

By Pettersson
★★★★★ 14 Voices

November 10, 2013

EXPRESSEN

<https://www.feministcurrent.com/2015/11/03/remembering-the-murdered-women-erased-by-the-pro-sex-work-agenda/>

He is convicted of the murder of Eva-Marree

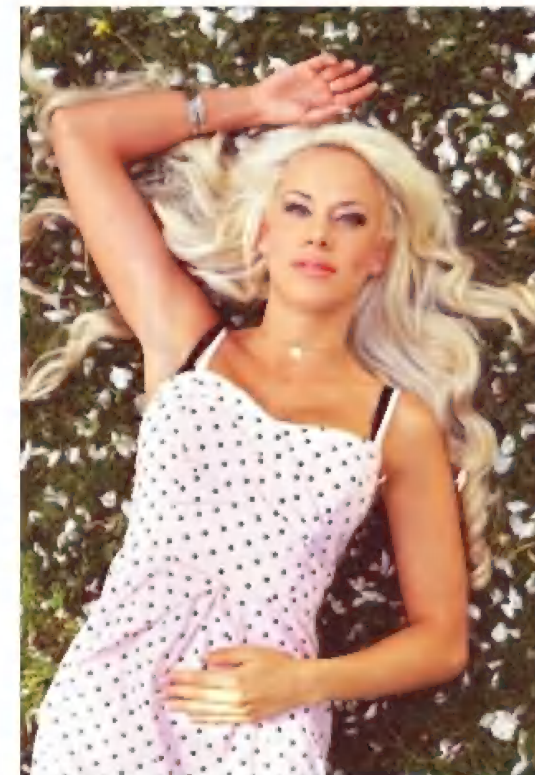

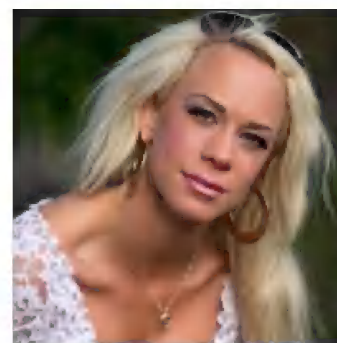

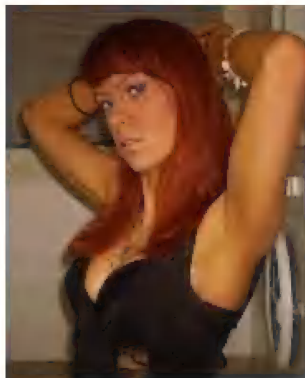

Published 8 Nov 2013 at 22:28

Joel Kabagambe, 31, is sentenced to 18 years in prison for killing his ex-girlfriend Eva-Marree Kullander Smith in Västerås this summer, writes VLT online.

- 18 years in prison is extremely much, says Joel Kabagambe's lawyer Martin Beskow to the newspaper.

Eva-Marree Kullander Smith was stabbed to death on July 11 during a meeting with the social worker and her expo boyfriend, Joel Kabagambe, about the custody of their joint children.

During the meeting, Joel pulled out a kitchen knife and threw herself at Eva-Marree and stabbed her 30 times. A social secretary was also injured in the attack.

<https://www.expressen.se/nyheter/han-doms-for-mordet-pa-eva-marree/>

<https://petterssonsblogg.se/2013/11/10/ugandier-domd-for-mord-och-mordforsok/>

Police: Husband kills wife, self in suburban Kansas City

Murder-suicide after wife asks for divorce: cops

By Associated Press

August 3, 2017 | 1:26pm | Updated

OLATHE, Kan. — Police investigating the case of a couple found dead in a suburban Kansas City home believe that the man fatally shot his divorce-seeking wife before turning the handgun on himself.

Police in Olathe, Kansas, say they found the 36-year-old Amy Mabion and 36-year-old Philip Mabion wounded in their home shortly before 1:30 p.m. Monday. Investigators say Amy Mabion died at the scene, and Philip Mabion died later at a hospital.

The Kansas City Star reports that Amy Shaffer filed for divorce June 1, citing incompatibility with her husband of almost 11 years. Mabion countered in his June 27 response that they were not incompatible. Friends of the Mabions say the two continued to live together.

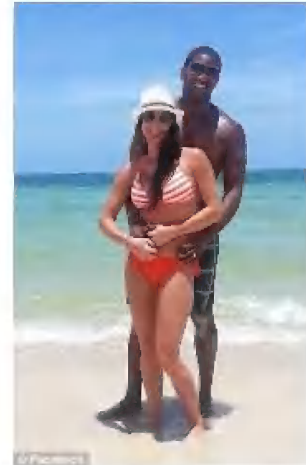

The newspaper added Amy applied for divorce from her husband on June 1, citing an 'incompatibility' with the 36-year-old.

However, Philip denied that in a response filed on June 27.

The couple married on September 9 in 2006. They have three young children together - two sons, aged 12 and nine; and a daughter, aged six.

Court documents from recent years indicate the family may have been having financial issues, according to the Star.

The newspaper cited two cases in which Philip Mabion was named as a defendant. In one, he reportedly was forced to pay $1,600 to a credit card company; while in the other he allegedly owed a furniture store $7,600.

<https://nypost.com/2017/08/03/murder-suicide-after-wife-asks-for-divorce-cops/>

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-4757728/Woman-killed-murder-suicide-filed-divorce-June.html>

Dad 'stabbed ex and their son to death after she asked him for child support'

Shortly before her death, Ms Cook wrote about their issues on the Single Mums Group Facebook, posting: "So when I got pregnant it was by someone I had just began seeing.

"When I told him I was pregnant he asked me to remedy the situation (his words) and quit talking to me when I wouldn't.

"Fast forward a few months and I find out he's had a GF for 6 years and I was the other woman all along.

"Anyway, my son was born 4 1/2 months ago and the father has never even attempted to see him.

"Well I finally filed for child support this month and since he's not on the birth certificate it's a mandatory DNA test."

She said her former lover finally got in touch with her after he was served with legal papers.

Ms Cook added that the father could not believe she was asking him for support and felt he did not have to pay for anything as he offered to cover the cost of an abortion.

He then told the mother that he was short of cash and blamed her for his girlfriend leaving him.

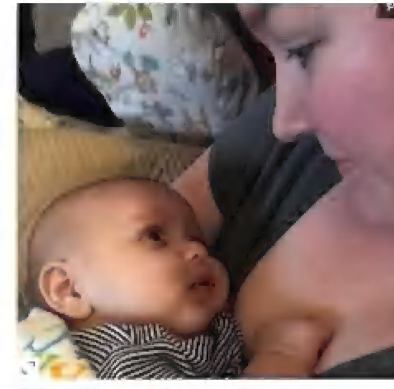

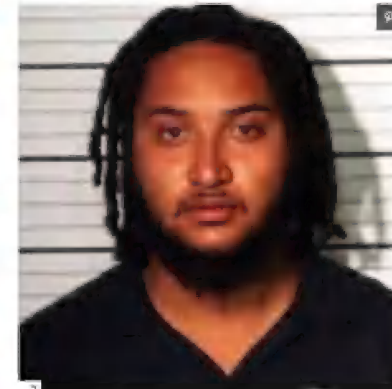

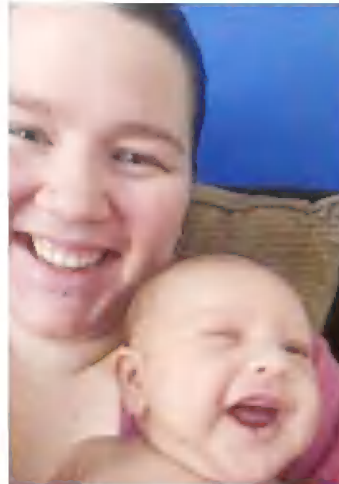

She said: "Obviously, I told him this was all of his own doing and neither of us would be in this situation if he wouldn't have lied repeatedly.

"He will take no responsibility for his actions and even went as far as sending me a meme that says using someone's child to hurt them makes you a piece of s.

"No part of me is doing this to hurt him but I shouldn't be struggling financially when he's blowing his money on going out drinking and buying parts for his several cars.

"I know I did the right thing I'm just beyond frustrated with him..."

<https://www.mirror.co.uk/news/us-news/dad-stabbed-lover-son-death-20095096>

Heather Cook and her son were found dead Friday morning after reports of a house fire at their Southeast Shelby County home

By Christine Pelisek September 17, 2019 05:54 PM

A Tennessee man has been charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal stabbing of a mother and her four-month-old son.

Enoch Turner, 25, was charged with two counts of first-degree murder, aggravated arson, aggravated child abuse and neglect and tampering with/fabricating evidence in the deaths of 32-year-old Heather Cook and her four-month-old son Bentley. Turner was the father of the child, according to a police affidavit.

Dead woman's husband sought after body found in padlocked bedroom in Willoughby Hills

WILLOUGHBY HILLS, Ohio -- Willoughby Hills police are searching for the husband of Elizabeth M. Tatum, 23, who was found dead Wednesday morning in a Chardon Road apartment.

Willoughby Hills Police Chief Christopher J. Collins said at a news conference Friday afternoon that authorities are looking for Jermaine L. Tatum, 32, and the couple's 18-month-old son.

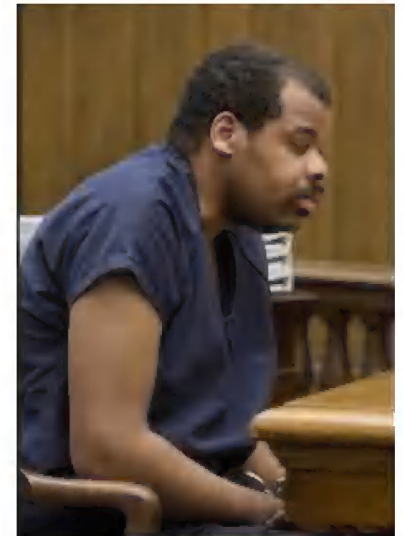

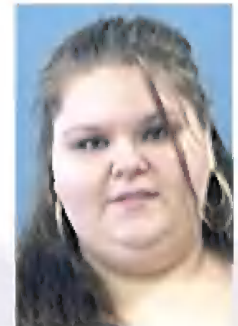

A felony arrest warrant for kidnapping has been issued for Tatum based on the fact police found his wife dead and in their master bedroom, Collins said. Tatum left Ohio on Monday, and Collins said police learned Friday that he was in Miami, Fla.

Upon entering the apartment, Collins said, police smelled a foul odor coming from the master bedroom, which had been locked from the outside with a padlock. Elizabeth Tatum was identified by a distinct tattoo on her upper left shoulder.

Collins said the body had begun to decompose, so it's believed she had been dead for at least a couple of days before police arrived. The cause of death has not been determined, but Collins said police are awaiting results of additional testing by the Cuyahoga County medical examiner's office.

Collins also said family members had told authorities that Elizabeth Tatum, whose maiden name was Robinson, planned to tell her husband she was leaving him and moving back to Toledo with their son.

"Jermaine Tatum had been convicted of domestic violence in 2006 when he was not married to Elizabeth," Collins said. "The two married in 2007. Although there is a past problem between the two, we have to consider Elizabeth Tatum's death suspicious until we get further information from the coroner."

Duncan Scott/D5cott@News-Herald.com William Robinson, who is holding a picture of his daughter Elizabeth Tatum, makes a victim's impact statement Thursday to Lake County Common Pleas Judge Eugene A. Luccl. Jermaine Tatum was sentenced to a mandatory term of life in prison with parole eligibility after 15 years for killing Elizabeth Tatum in 2011.

https://www.cleveland.com/metro/2011/09/dead_womans_husband_sought_aft.html

Gilmer man admits to killing son's mother

Suspect admitted killing ex-girlfriend

By Christina Lane clane@news-journal.com Reporter Apr 14, 2015 Updated Jul 15, 2019

A man charged with capital murder admitted to police that he killed his former girlfriend, according to video presented in Upshur County's 115th District Court this morning.

In the video, Shepherd tells Benge that he got in Green's car, with their toddler son in the back seat, pointed a gun at her and told her to drive the car. When Green got out of the car to flee, Shepherd said in the video, he fired the gun at her.

He then got out of the car and walked around where he found her on the ground, he said.

"I remember she was sitting there screaming and crying, so I discharged my firearm," Shepherd said of the second two shots that were fired at Green, killing her.

After that, Shepherd said in the video, he panicked and called his wife, Suzanne Bates.

Shepherd then said, "I'm already heartbroken" over how Green did him. He said she told her brother that he had hit her and "all this crap," and that the brother had pledged to be "six feet deep" before Shepherd hurt his sister.

Shepherd repeated how he was heartbroken because he was in love with Green and it had been "weighing heavily on me" to the point he had lost 20 pounds and had "deep depression." He said he had given Green $100 that night and was "doing all these good deeds" which Green did not appreciate.

While in her car, he said, he got the gun and she became scared. He told her "drive the car" and she said, "Put it (the gun) away." She then opened the door, Shepherd said.

The most emotional testimony came from Shepherd's common-law wife, Susan Bates, who cried more than once after being called by the state Tuesday as what Byrd termed "a hostile witness" and what Parish termed "an adverse witness."

At one point while Bates was on the witness stand, the prosecution played a tape of Shepherd purportedly telling Green months before the shooting, "I'm going to kill you one day. Say anything I don't want to hear, and I might do it on the spot."

Testimony established that Bates and Green had gone to school together and were once friends who had gone on trips together. The defense introduced numerous photos of them together on vacation.

Bates, who said Shepherd lived with her until two years ago, testified she stopped being friends with Green "when I found out she was sleeping with my husband."

At one point, Byrd told Bates, who has two sons by Shepherd, "He wanted her (Green) more than you and you couldn't stand it." Bates replied, "No, that is not the truth, not at all."

Bates said Green, herself a divorcee, reached out to her in order to cause a divorce with Shepherd. But she testified she was "not at all" happy the victim is dead.

Cheyenne Green

Jonathan Ray Shepherd

Prosecutor shows jury photo of Cheyenne Green and her son, whose father is Sheperd.

Susan Bates, Sheperd's wife

http://www.gilmermirror.com/view/full_story/26588585/article-Testimony-is-sometimes-emotional-during-Shepherd-murder-trial

https://www.news-journal.com/news/police/suspect-admitted-killing-ex-girlfriend-in-video/article_cc17a424-cd3f-549e-804f-69020582d1ba.html

Murderer will spend at least 20 years in prison for strangling girlfriend to death

Updated Jan 05, 2019; Posted Oct 24, 2017

Michael Anthony Morant, 48, charged last year in Maryland in the death of Rebekah J. Strausbaugh, is now facing charges in York County in her death, according to chief deputy prosecutor Dave Sunday.

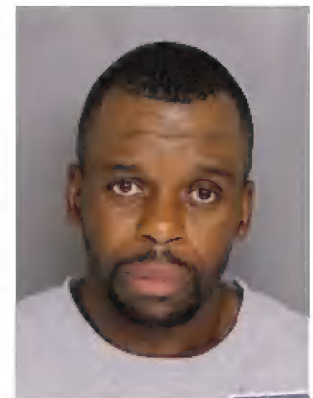

Picked up by boyfriend: Morant drove down to look for her and found her at the Shake Shack restaurant on Pratt Street, Wachter said. They got into Morant's car to head home, he said.

During the ride, the couple began to argue, at which point Morant pulled off I-83 near Ensor Mill and Belfast roads in Sparks, and both got out of the car and continued to argue, the corporal said.

Morant: Morant told Trebilcock that he and Strausbaugh had been arguing and the argument escalated, which led to him strangling her.

"We just had words, and the emotions just got the best of me," he said.

Ruth Craver said Strausbaugh was a mother of two boys, and she will never see them grow older. She said her daughter was her children's biggest cheerleader.

<https://www.yorkdispatch.com/story/news/2017/04/19/windsor-womans-homicide-case-moved-york-county/100664760/>

Domestic violence survivor speaks out after triple-murder suicide

Jacksonville sailor who killed twin daughters, grandfather, self often violent in relationships

'He made me hold my babies while he killed them': Mother reveals how she was forced to watch her boyfriend shoot their twin girls dead before killing her father

- Gawain Wilson, 28, shot his five-month-old twin daughters, his girlfriend and her father before shooting himself in Jacksonville, Florida
- Megan Hiatt, 22, fought for her life after being hit with multiple bullets
- Her mother shared the girl's story as she recovered on her hospital bed
- Hiatt says Wilson made her hold her babies when he killed them, and that she had to crawl through their blood to hear dying words of her father

<https://www.jacksonville.com/article/20160116/NEWS/801241572>

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-3323155/He-hold-killed-Mother-reveals-horror-moments-boyfriend-murdered-two-twin-babies-father.html>

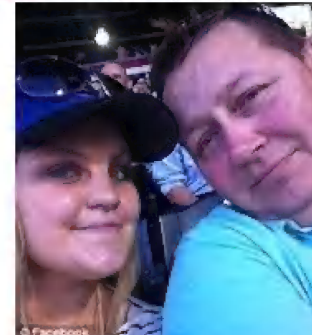

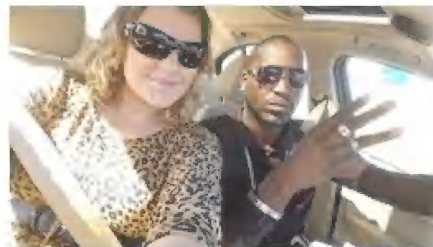

Women rarely stood up to Wilson, who charmed them into believing he was the man of their dreams, only to later dominate them with his booming voice, the back of his hand and, sometimes, his AK-47, according to court records and Times-Union interviews with several of his victims.

When he didn't beat them, they said he threw things at them, smashed their cellphones and accused them of being with other men. He also threatened to kill anyone who got him in trouble with his Navy command.

One woman fought back, shooting Wilson in the groin during a 2014 struggle, then faced a prison sentence after being charged in the attack. Only months later did prosecutors drop the charges after her attorney convinced them she shot Wilson in self-defense.

Two years later, Megan Hiatt's 5-month-old twin daughters and her father didn't get that chance.

Police said Wilson burst into the Oceanway home where he lived with Hiatt and their twins on Nov. 13 and started shooting his gun as her father tried to help them move out. When it was over, the twins, whom Hiatt said Wilson forced her to hold, were dead. So was their grandfather.

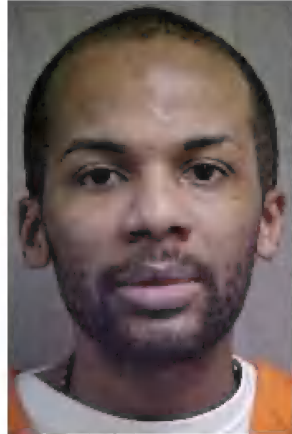

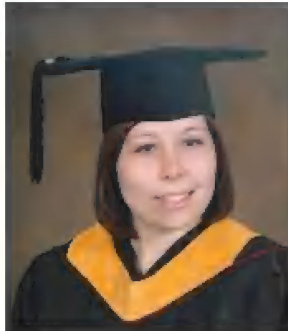

Lindenwold man who killed ex-girlfriend, left their child at scene gets life plus 7 years in prison

Updated Apr 01, 2019; Posted Jan 31, 2011

Troy Whye, 39, was sentenced to life for killing Krystal Skinner, 23, inside her Lindenwold apartment in March 2008. Authorities found the couple's 2-year-old son, John, by her mother's body. Whye was also given a seven-year term — to run consecutively to the murder conviction — for endangering the welfare of a child.

Whye was convicted by a jury in November. Skinner — a student at Rutgers University in Camden — was trying to end her relationship with Whye. In March 2008, he followed through on years of threats and stabbed Skinner approximately 30 times in the hallway of her home in the Laurel Hill Apartments.

Camden County Assistant Prosecutor Sally Smith emphasized during the sentencing hearing Whye's lengthy history of domestic abuse in her argument for a lengthy prison term. She noted Whye had six prior municipal convictions and four prior convictions for indictable crimes, most of which are related to domestic incidents with Skinner and prior girlfriends. Skinner had tried repeatedly to end her relationship with Whye without success.

"Krystal Skinner tried very, very hard to break off her relationship with this individual but he was the penultimate domestic violence offender," Smith said. "He lived by his credo, 'If I can't have you, no one can.'"

Smith played for the court a recording of a March 8, 2006, statement Krystal Skinner gave to the Camden Police reporting threats Whye had made against her. During that statement she told police Whye said, "You ain't leaving me if it's not in a casket. You ain't going nowhere. I'll leave my son motherless."

https://www.nj.com/camden/2011/01/life_plus_seven_years_for_lind.html

Fairview Park man who beat ailing girlfriend and left her to die gets life in prison

Updated Jan 11, 2019; Posted Dec 12, 2017

CLEVELAND, Ohio -- A Fairview Park man who brutally beat his ailing girlfriend and left her to die on a bathroom floor was sentenced Monday to life in prison.

Jamal Bey used years of physical and emotional abuse to exert control over Lynita McCaslin's emotions, her family members said Monday at Bey's sentencing hearing. The abuse came to a head when Bey attacked the 32-year-old mother of two, who was found dead Feb. 26, 2016, prosecutors said.

Bey's abuse dated back to at least 2013, when McCaslin went to a hospital with bruises and broken ribs. She told doctors she fell down a set of stairs to the basement, but cobwebs lines the stairs and police officers found no blood, police said.

Officers went upstairs and found the couple's children hiding in a bedroom. The children told police that Bey hit McCaslin upstairs, and officers found blood smears on a hallway wall.

On Thursday, a Cuyahoga County grand jury indicted 40-year-old Jamal M. Bey for aggravated murder. Bey was McCaslin's live-in boyfriend, according to police.

McCaslin lay dying on the bathroom floor for more than a half a day after the attack. Bey came home several times but never called for help. Instead, he left an audio recorder that captured the 17 hours that passed between his last visit and the moment McCaslin drew her last breath, prosecutors said.

He finally used a fake name when he called the police department and asked for a welfare check. Officers eventually found McCaslin's body when they entered the house two days after his first call.

https://www.cleveland.com/metro/2017/12/fairview_park_man_who_beat_ail_1.html

San Bernardino man sentenced in 2013 death of estranged wife

SAN BERNARDINO >> A 31-year-old man was sentenced to 16 years to life in state prison Wednesday for fatally beating and stabbing his estranged wife in 2013, officials said.

Edly Atherley, 33, was sentenced a month after a jury found him guilty of second-degree murder for the slaying of 28-year-old Ashley Atherley, according to a San Bernardino County District Attorney's office news release.

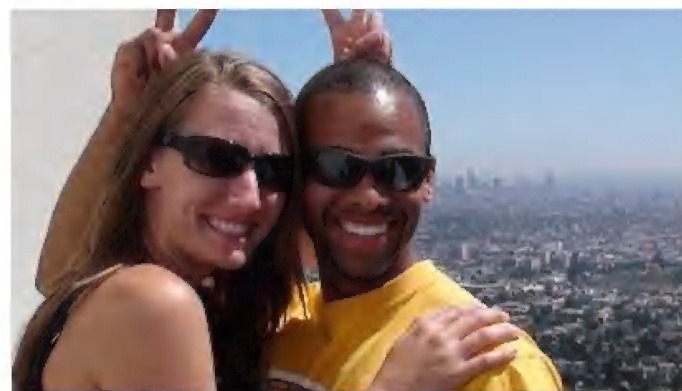

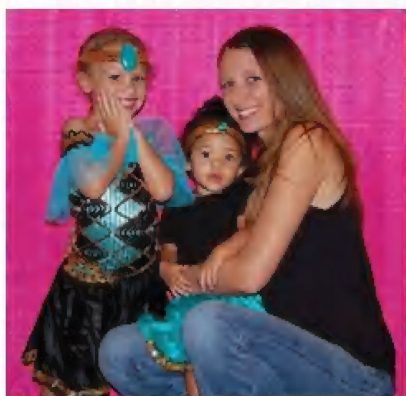

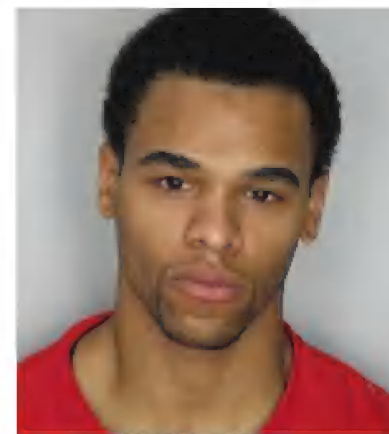

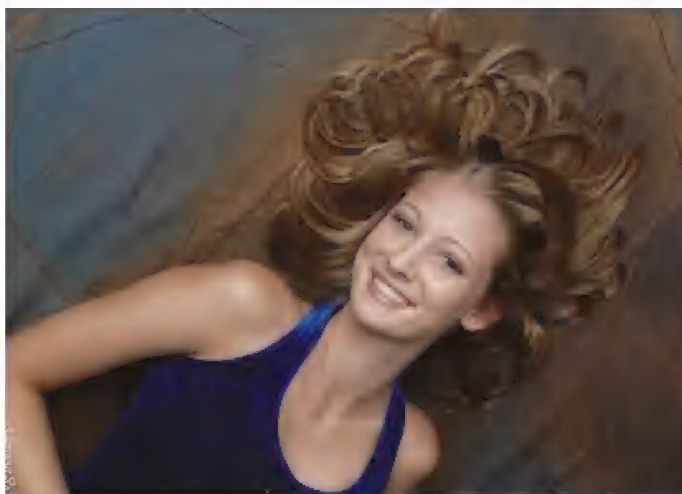

The defendant and the victim were married for approximately five years and had two young daughters.

On Dec. 1, 2013, police were called to check on the welfare of Ashley Atherley at an apartment she shared with her husband in the 2600 block of West College Avenue in San Bernardino.

When officers arrived, they found the victim dead in the bathroom. She suffered five blunt force trauma wounds to her face, including a fractured nose, a puncture wound to her back and a large stab wound to her neck.

Atherley fled the scene shortly before officers arrived and was missing for nearly two months, according to a news release.

The murder weapon, a large kitchen knife, was located inside the defendant's apartment and was similar to a knife set located in the victim's apartment, according to a news release. The defendant's fingerprint was located on the knife blade.

<https://www.sbsun.com/2015/12/23/san-bernardino-man-sentenced-in-2013-death-of-estranged-wife/>

Boxer Yathomas Riley Charged With Murdering Wife Three Years After Beating Similar Charges in Miami

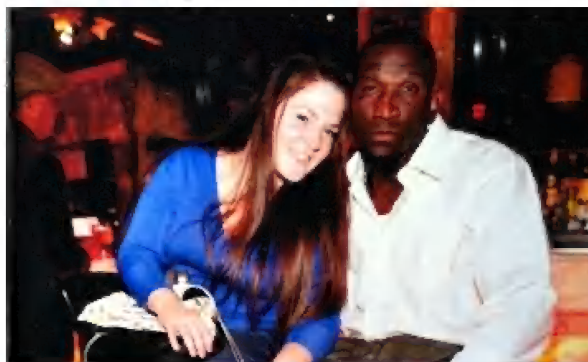

She said he put a .44 Magnum revolver to her head and questioned her about cheating.

Lisa Amodio Riley, a 34-year-old emergency room doctor, was declared dead a few hours later; last week, Riley, a 32-year-old professional boxer from Florida City, was charged with her murder. It wasn't the first time he'd been accused of shooting a partner: Almost exactly five years earlier, Riley, then living in Homestead, was charged with trying to kill on-again, off-again girlfriend Koketia King. This June, just weeks before Amodio's death, cops had picked up the boxer after she'd complained Riley had assaulted her and threatened her with a gun.

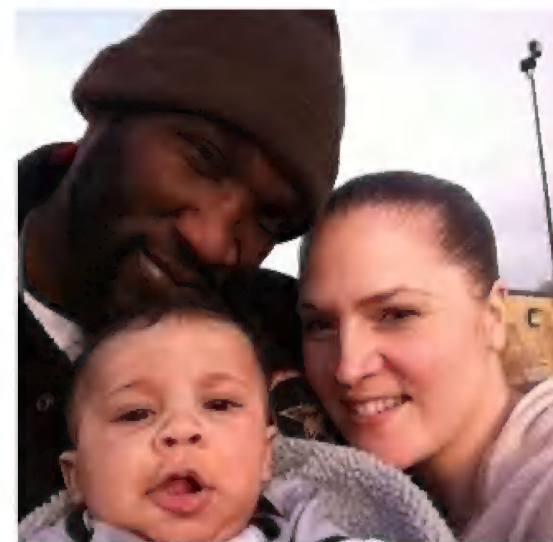

A few weeks later, on June 14 around 8:30 p.m., Riley wound up in police custody after a distressed call from Lisa. That morning, when she had returned from work, Riley had forced her into the bedroom closet, she said. Then he had put a .44 Magnum revolver to her head and questioned her about cheating. She said she had pleaded with her husband not to hurt her, and he had let her go. But several hours later, Riley pulled out another pistol and again put it to her head. Then he moved the gun from her head to his and began crying and screaming. Later that day, she woke up to find her husband next to her in bed, only for him to wrap his legs around her neck and squeeze. Again, he put a pistol to her head.

Lisa called 911 when Riley left the house. She still had red marks on her neck and chest when police showed up. Riley hadn't slept in three days, she said – she thought he was having a breakdown. Riley, after being stopped nearby in the red Caprice, denied there was an argument. He was arrested and charged with battery and three counts of aggravated assault. He was released on $15,000 bond, with conditions that he surrender his firearms and not go within 1,000 feet of Lisa. Days later, she swore in court that she was convinced Riley's behavior stemmed from severe sleep deprivation and requested the no-contact provisions be removed.

In juvenile detention, Riley learned to box. When he got out, he moved back to Florida City and began training seriously. By 2006, when Riley was 23, the agile southpaw had won a Golden Gloves title and had an eye on the 2008 U.S. Olympic team. A couple of years earlier, Riley had met King, a pretty corrections officer, at a family reunion in Perrine, and the two eventually moved in together and had a child. After barely missing the Olympic squad, Riley signed a pro contract and moved to the Bronx to train.

One day at the gym, Riley, six-foot-one and an impressively muscled 185 pounds, met Amodio, a kind, brown-haired young woman who was finishing her residency at nearby St. Barnabas Hospital. The boxer offered to help the medical student work out, and soon the two were dating. During Riley's fights, Amodio even worked as his cut-woman, treating wounds between rounds. In 2009, Riley and Amodio became engaged, but when Riley moved back to South Florida to train for a fight, he stayed in Homestead with King, which galled Amodio. "She didn't want to let him go," Lisa would later say of Riley's staying with King. "And he wanted to see his son."

<https://www.miaminewtimes.com/news/boxer-yathomas-riley-charged-with-murdering-wife-three-years-after-beating-similar-charges-in-miami-7781290>

THE JUSTICE STORY: Ex-boyfriend kills young mother because he couldn't have her

DAILY NEWS

Larson was 16 in 2004 when she began dating Matthews, who was two years older. Their son, Darion, was born in February 2006, and the new family settled into a St. Paul apartment.

But the relationship quickly came to a dramatic end.

Matthews proved insanely possessive, phoning Larson hourly. Worse, he began to reveal a violent side. Tilson once visited their apartment and was stunned to see holes punched in walls and doors torn from hinges – evidence of Matthews' raging temper.

In May 2007, Larson told Matthews that she was finished.

"Let me ask you one thing. Why?" Tilson said, speaking of Matthews. "All we ever did was try and help you, and all you ever did was take, take, take."

She said she hoped Matthews would "suffer a long, painful life in prison."

Matthews was charged with the Dec. 19 strangulation of Larson, 19. Their relationship produced a son, Darion, but Larson had broken off the relationship and had moved out because of Matthews' abuse and volatile, explosive behavior.

Only Matthews knows for sure what set off his anger the afternoon of Dec. 19. At trial, a prosecutor contended that Matthews had gotten mad because Larson was a half-hour late in coming to his apartment to pick him up to take him to Lutheran Social Services to pick out Christmas gifts for their son.

Whatever motivated it, Matthews struck Larson in a blow that police believe knocked her out. He then tied the ends of a white shoelace into loops, threaded one loop through the other and placed it around her neck, pulling so tightly that the shoelace embedded in her skin.

Police believe all this happened in front of the couple's child.

Matthews then carried Larson's body out to her car, put her in the back seat and drove it to Minneapolis. He found an alley at random, parked the car, tore some pages out of a phone book and set them on fire; police believe he was trying to burn up the evidence.

With one car window open only a crack, the fire couldn't get much oxygen, and the phone book pages didn't burn very well. There were just a few small licks of flame when Michele Bird came home and discovered the smoking car in her driveway.

<https://www.twincities.com/2008/10/28/st-paul-man-sentenced-to-life-for-murder-of-ex-girlfriend/>

<https://www.nydailynews.com/news/crime/ny-news-justice-story-killed-christmas-20181216-story.html>

Man, wife kill his ex, dump her body in alligator-infested river

FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 2018

A married couple allegedly murdered the husband's ex-girlfriend then drove her body 1,200 miles across the country where they hacked her apart and dumped her dismembered remains in a creek.

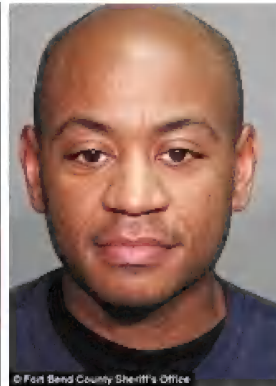

Laura Ackerson, 27, vanished from Kinston, North Carolina almost two weeks ago. She was reported missing after she failed to pick up her two young sons from her ex-boyfriend's house for a weekend visit.

The beautiful young mother had been involved in an acrimonious custody battle with Grant Hayes, the father of her two children, who it emerged had a new baby girl with his wife barely a month ago.

Miss Ackerson's head, torso and limbs were all found separately in the creek in what one police officer described as 'one of the most gruesome scenes' he'd encountered in his entire career.

Police have now charged Hayes and his wife, Amanda, with murder after Miss Ackerson's dismembered body was found in Oyster Creek, Texas, close to where Mrs Hayes's sister lives.

Hayes, a musician, had married Amanda Perry in March last year. They had a baby daughter, Lillian, on June 9 - just over a month before the murders.

Grant Hayes

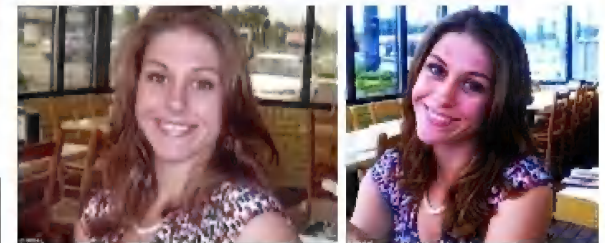

Amanda Hayes

© Facebook

© Facebook

Laura Ackerson

Husband and wife 'kill and dismember mother of his sons a MONTH after having baby so family can start new life in Virgin Islands'

- Former couple in acrimonious year-long custody battle over two young sons
- Ex-boyfriend had baby girl with wife just weeks before former ex died
- Friend says he was planning to move to Virgin Islands

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2018717/Laura-Ackerson-killed-ex-boyfriend-wife-start-new-life-Virgin-Islands.html>

Deputies: Husband slashed wife, staged home invasion as cover-up

Masked husband 'staged home invasion to punish wife for cheating on him' and slashed her FACE in jealous rage

By DAILY MAIL REPORTER

PUBLISHED: 16:18 EDT, 17 May 2013 | UPDATED: 17:42 EDT, 17 May 2013

A Florida man has been arrested after deputies say he slashed his wife's face while wearing a mask and then concocted a story about a home invasion to cover up his actions.

But Volusia County Sheriff's investigators say 29-year-old Timothy Hunter confessed after they confronted him with inconsistencies in his story, saying that he was fueled by jealous rage because he suspected that his spouse has been unfaithful to him.

Deputies responded to a home on Steward Terrace at 10.25pm Wednesday and found 27-year-old Kristin Sottosanti bleeding from multiple cuts to her face, according to Volusia County sheriff's spokesman Gary Davidson.

Sottosanti, a mother of two, told investigators that a masked stranger entered her home through the back door, knocked her to the ground and slashed her face with a sharp steel object while demanding money.

In the recording of a 911 call made by Sottosanti and obtained by The Daytona Beach News-Journal, the panic-stricken woman could be heard telling the operator: 'Someone just came to my house and fing cut my face up.'

The 29-year-old father of two said that he was mad at Sottosanti for cheating on him and 'just wanted to scare her, but then his anger got the best of him.'

According to Hunter's Facebook page, the Deltona resident married Sottosanti in February 2010. The couple have two 3-year-old kids, who were not harmed in the attack.

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2326367/Masked-husband-staged-home-invasion-punish-wife-cheating-slashed-FACE-jealous-rage.html>

Husband Gets 50 Years For Killing Wife in UTSW Parking Garage

Family says woman was victim of family violence, was divorcing husband

Murdered Dallas Woman Filed Protective Orders, Police Reports Against Husband

DALLAS (CBS 11 NEWS) – The fatal shooting of Karen Smith ended her decades-long abusive relationship with her estranged husband, Ferdinand Smith. Police arrested Smith at his Duncanville home, eight hours after the deadly shooting in a UT Southwestern parking garage. He admitted to detectives that he went to that lot to wait for Karen to get off work, so they could discuss their relationship. According to police, he confessed he shot Karen when he became enraged.

Dallas police say there was a warrant for Ferdinand's arrest at the time of the shooting. Karen had complained December 14th that he had choked her unconscious four days earlier. The department says proper procedures were followed to get a warrant issued and, on the day of her death, January 8th, warrant officers were doing their "final due diligence" before trying to make an arrest.

According to court documents obtained by CBS 11, Ferdinand had a long, violent history that left Karen in fear for her life on multiple occasions. Karen filed for and was granted a protective order in April 1999. In a handwritten note submitted with the order, Karen described Ferdinand threatened to kill her and himself, while holding a knife to her throat. She also described Ferdinand raping her at knifepoint and pointing a knife at her stomach when she was pregnant, while threatening to kill the her and the baby if she fell asleep. She also described abuse dating back to 1984 and a previous restraining order.

The case went to court, but Karen Smith wouldn't testify, perhaps out of fear of — or love for — her husband, Horton said. In a deal with prosecutors, Ferdinand Smith pleaded guilty to aggravated assault with a deadly weapon and got 10 years' probation.

Court documents show Ferdinand Smith had a long history of domestic violence against Karen dating back to the 1980's.

And one month before he's accused of killing her, Horton says he attacked her daughter again.

"He had a knife, and he choked her, and she said she talked her away out of it, she said I knew if I got into the truck with him, he was going to kill me. She said she managed to calm him down and get him away from me, she said if he gets me again, he'll kill me."

After that attack, Horton says her daughter went to the police department to file a complaint against him.

Horton says, when Dallas police told her daughter they were going to arrest Smith, she stopped making the request.

It was the day she died.

Karen Smith leaves behind three children ages 12, 15, and 18.

In 1998, the Smiths were living apart. When Karen went to pick up the children, her husband forced her to the bedroom, raped her at knifepoint, then held her captive for three hours, according to court documents. She filed for a protective order against him.

The next year, Karen Smith was living in Irving when her husband sneaked into her home and hid in the closet, armed with several knives. When his wife came home from work, he threatened to kill her, court documents show. He tied her legs and arms to the bed with panty hose and put a gag in her mouth, Horton said.

Police: Man kills girlfriend, attempts suicide

Police: 62-year-old shoots, kills 26-year-old girlfriend outside Huddle House

Investigators said around 11:30 p.m. Monday, 62-year-old Robert Taylor shot and killed his 26-year-old girlfriend, Belinda Jo Bell, while she was on a break from her job at the restaurant. Bell was a mother of two young children, a 3-year-old and a 9-year-old and had only been working at the Huddle House for four days. She was working a double shift before she was shot.

Investigators said Taylor pulled into the parking lot while Bell was on a break, and as she approached his car, things quickly turned violent.

Blackshear police said minutes after the shooting, Taylor drove home and tried to kill himself by stabbing himself multiple times in the front yard of his property.

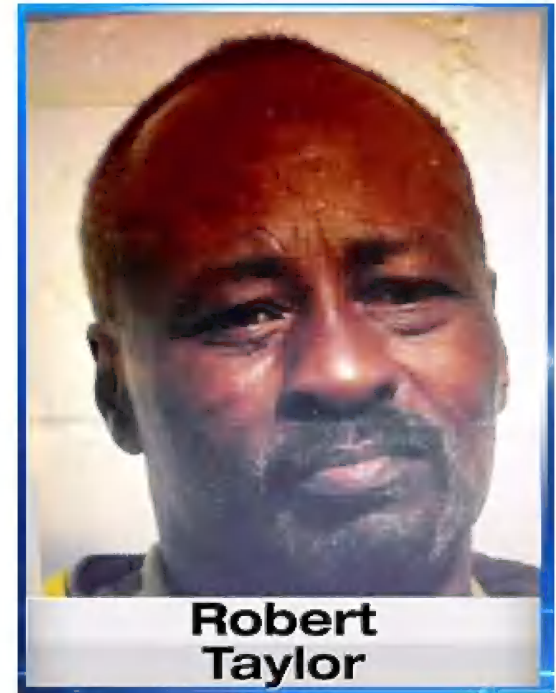

"Based on the investigation, I just believe that he decided if he couldn't have the girl, nobody could have her," Wright said.

He survived and was found by investigators shortly after witnesses at the restaurant identified Taylor as the shooter. He's now in stable condition and under guard at UF Health Jacksonville.

Investigators said Taylor and Bell had been dating for three years and had a child together. They believe Taylor was upset over the couple's recent breakup.

"She want to turn her life around and have a fresh start, and that really inspired me," said Ray Griffis, the manager of Huddle House Ray. "This young lady was looking for a new start and I wanted to give it to her."

Records show Taylor has a history of violence and drug charges.

Robert Taylor

<https://www.news4jax.com/news/2014/12/24/police-man-kills-girlfriend-attempts-suicide/>

She Was Afraid of Her Husband. Days Later, She and Her 5-Year-Old Were Dead.

- NYPD says man beheaded his wife, killed their daughter and hanged himself
- Grisly double murder-suicide took place on West 121st Street in Harlem
- Yonathan Tedla and Jennifer Schlecht were going through divorce and were due in court for a hearing just hours before the slayings
- Schlecht, 46, was found beheaded in the bathroom, with her head in her lap
- Her daughter, five-year-old Abaynesh, was slashed in the neck and partially decapitated
- Tedla, 46, was found hanged from a rope in a bedroom
- Schlecht's brother called police Wednesday night asking to perform a welfare check after failing to reach her by phone
- Schlecht was a humanitarian who served as senior adviser for emergency preparedness and response with organization Family Planning 2020
- Her father said his son-in-law had threatened to 'take them all out' if Jennifer served him with divorce papers

Mr. Schlecht said his daughter had married Mr. Tedla about seven years ago. They met at Columbia University, where she studied public health and social work. He added that his daughter was a giving person who often traveled to Kenya and other African countries to help the needy.

Ms. Schlecht worked for the United Nations Foundation in New York, officials said. According to her LinkedIn page, she was a senior adviser specializing in reproductive health, humanitarian response and other issues.

Her co-workers said that after years of helping women and girls in Africa get access to health care, she continued her efforts out of the foundation's New York office to spend more time with her daughter.

Mr. Tedla worked as a computer contractor at Columbia University Mailman School of Public Health, in the population and family health department.

When the Schlecht family first met Mr. Tedla, who is originally from Ethiopia, he seemed like a "very smart, clever person," Mr. Schlecht said. But later, he added, Mr. Tedla became violent toward Ms. Schlecht and she tried for years to leave him. He refused to go, ripping up the divorce papers each time.

<https://www.nytimes.com/2019/11/07/nyregion/murder-suicide-nyc.html>

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-7665407/Father-Harlem-woman-42-reveals-husband-threatened-double-murder-suicide.html>

Zeeland native killed by estranged husband begged him to leave child alone: 'Don't take my son, take me'

Updated Apr 03, 2019; Posted May 11, 2010

"She was so strong and she was over that situation. She was moving on to a better life for her and her son," Brad Bodkins said. "She had the nerve to get out and she didn't look back."

Morris didn't have as easy a time letting go, authorities said.

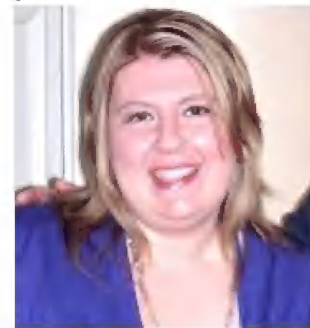

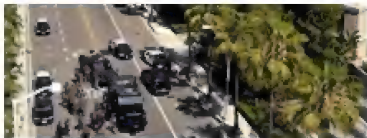

Court records in North Carolina show the 34-year-old was convicted of assaulting Bodkins last September, pleading guilty to the misdemeanor offense that landed him on probation.

He also admitted to threatening Bodkins, documents show.

The suspect was ordered to serve 105 days in jail for violating oversight terms, earning his release on April 6.

Ivy Bodkins obtained a restraining order on April 7.

Brad Bodkins said Morris tracked his daughter to California, where she had moved to resume a job as a consultant and life skills curriculum developer for the Los Angeles County Regional Occupational Program.

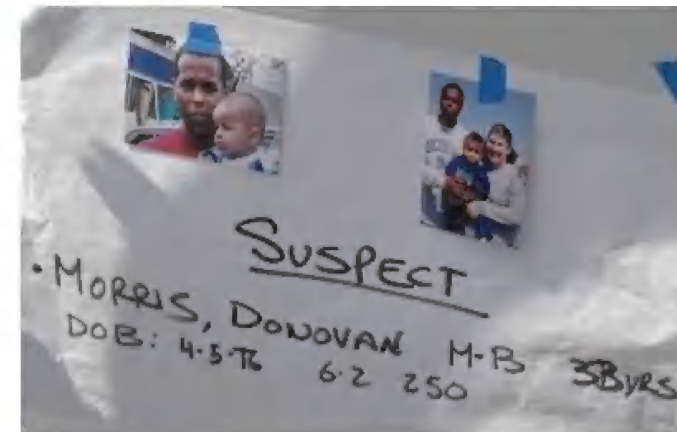

As a gun was being held to Ivy Bodkins' head by her estranged husband, the Zeeland native's concern wasn't for her own life -- which was about to end -- but for that of their 2-year-old son.

"Don't take my son, take me," Bodkins pleaded with Donovan Morris, whom she was divorcing, outside her Long Beach, Calif., apartment Monday. "Don't hurt him."

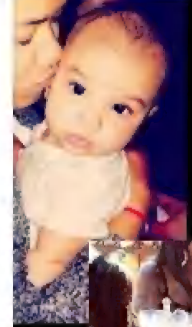

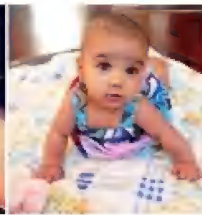

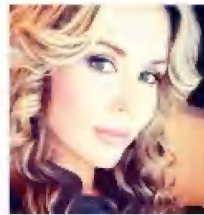

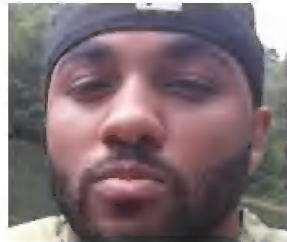

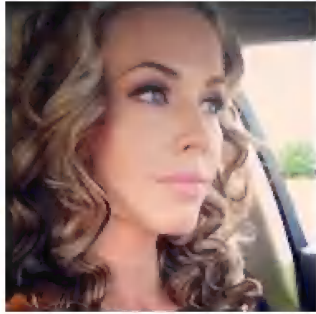

Authorities say Morris granted Bodkins' wish, abducting her and forcing the 1999 Zeeland High School graduate to an underground parking structure.

Later, her son, Kalin, said to his aunt, who swept the boy inside to safety: "That man hurt mommy." Both Kalin and Angelica Eyre, Bodkins' step-sister who lived with her, were unhurt.

https://www.mlive.com/news/grand-rapids/2010/05/zeeland_native_killed_by_estra.html

A mother lost her life by trying to protect her 6-month-old baby from her husband.

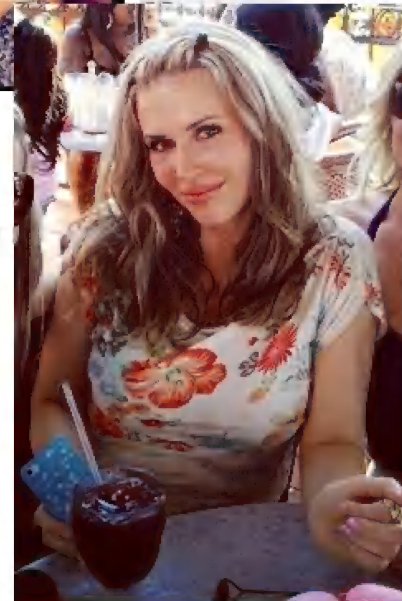

Former marine shoots and kills his girlfriend before turning the gun on himself after 12-hour standoff with SWAT team

- Antoine Davis, 30, is believed to have shot his girlfriend, Jessica Arrendale, 33, before turning the gun on himself
- The couple's five-month-old daughter was found inside and treated for hypothermia
- The two daughters Davis has from a previous marriage were also at home at the time
- Davis's ex-wife, Tamaira Chesley, reports that there was a custody dispute over the five-month-old

By PETE D'AMATO FOR MAILONLINE

PUBLISHED: 18:19 EDT, 16 September 2014 | UPDATED: 07:25 EDT, 17 September 2014

According to WSB, 33-year-old Jessica Arrendale was out with her husband, 30-year-old Antoine Davis, on Saturday night when the former Marine reportedly became "belligerently drunk and abusive."

Arrendale's mother said that this was not the first time.

Arrendale was clutching 6-month-old Colbie, who might have been hit by the bat because she has a traumatic head injury. Somehow, Arrendale was able to lock herself in the bathroom, but Davis got his assault rifle, burst into the bathroom and shot Arrendale in the head as she held on to Colbie.

<https://myfox8.com/news/georgia-mother-killed-trying-to-protect-baby-who-survived-13-hours-in-toilet/>

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2758595/After-12-hour-standoff-Georgia-SWAT-officers-Sunday-former-marine-shoots-kills-girlfriend-turning-gun-himself.html>

Mother, 2 Kids Found Dead in Pa. Home, Dad Arrested

By | Associated Press STORY · Published July 11, 2008 · Last Update January 13, 2015

Friends of Ashley Guarino fondly recall the 22-year-old as someone without hate in her heart who dated and married Orlando Guarino, in part, to make a point.

"She really, really liked him," said Jessica Spangler, a friend of Mrs. Guarino.

Ms. Spangler said Mrs. Guarino wanted to show her friends and family that racism was unacceptable and she did so by dating a biracial man. Mr. Guarino's mother is Italian and his father is black.

"Ashley did it to prove a point. She didn't have any hate in her heart."

The bodies of Mrs. Guarino and her two children were found July 9 inside their Marianna home. Her husband has been charged with the slayings.

The Newark, N.J., native was held for court Wednesday on three homicide charges that were detailed by police, who accuse him of severely beating then strangling his wife and suffocating his two children.

Ms. Spangler said that after the couple recently broke up, Mr. Guarino phoned Ms. Spangler and said if he couldn't have his wife, no one else would.

She said the comment concerned her, and she told Mrs. Guarino about the conversation. Mrs. Guarino, though, brushed it off, convinced that her husband would never harm his family.

Orlando and Ashley Guarino had separated recently, authorities said.

Court documents showed the couple traded abuse allegations last month that resulted in a protection-from-abuse order against Orlando Guarino. Among her allegations, Ashley Guarino claimed her husband had held the boy out the window of a moving vehicle.

Ashley Guarino got the temporary protection order against Orlando on June 19, a day after the couple argued and Guarino allegedly threatened to kill her and the children.

Her court filing claimed that she and her husband were in a moving vehicle when Orlando Guarino held a car seat — with his son in it — out a window and said, "You wanna see something crazy?"

She also claimed her husband had carried the baby into the house on his hip with a butcher knife in the other hand. He also once drove her to a truck in the woods and said he wanted her to watch as he killed himself, she claimed.

Ashley Guarino and the children moved out of the house after the discord, but recently returned, Ehrhardt said.

<https://www.post-gazette.com/local/neighborhoods/2008/07/27/Tragedy-in-the-making/stories/200807270208>

<https://www.foxnews.com/story/mother-2-kids-found-dead-in-pa-home-dad-arrested>

Victims in Grand Rapids shooting include two ex-girlfriends, daughter of suspect Rodrick Shonte Dantzler

KIMBERLEE ANN EMKENS, 23

Emkens, another former girlfriend of the gunman, lived with a sister named Amanda and a 10-year-old niece named Marissa, both of whom were also killed.

In the following two hours, police say he killed his daughter, his girlfriend and her sisters and then went over to an ex-girlfriend's house and killed her and two others, including a child. Their bodies were found in a basement.

After the 911 call, police found the bodies of Amanda Emkens, 27, Kimberlee Emkens - Dantzler's ex-girlfriend - and ten-year-old Marissa Emkens.

An hour later, police discovered the other four victims across town in a ranch-style house on a cul-de-sac called Brynell Court.

Those victims have been identified as Jennifer Heeren, Dantzler's ex-girlfriend, Kamrie Dantzler his 12-year-old daughter, and Thomas and Rebecca Heeren, Jennifer's mother and father.

Kim Emkens

JENNIFER MARIE HEEREN, 29

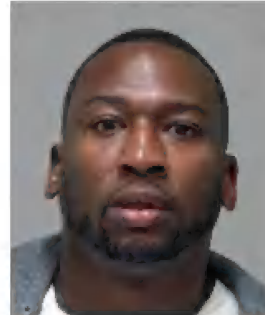

Heeren, an ex-girlfriend of gunman Rodrick Dantzler, was killed along with their 12-year-old daughter and her own parents. Heeren was described by the produce company her father co-owned as 'an intelligent young woman who was extremely motivated and very focused on caring for her young daughter'.

- Rodrick Dantzler kills himself after six-hour rampage through town
- Two ex-girlfriends and daughter among victims
- Had history of violence against women
- Police in high-speed car chase and gun battle with killer
- Dantzler took three hostage after bursting into home
- He lived at the location where two women and girl were found dead

By AMY OLIVER FOR THE MAIL ON SUNDAY and RACHEL QUIGLEY
UPDATED: 16:28 EDT, 9 July 2011

Kim Emkens

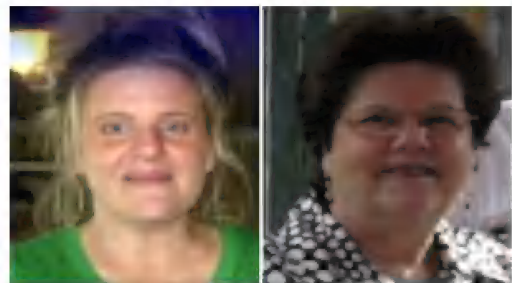

Jennifer Heeren

Kamrie Heeren, his daughter

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2012432/BREAKING-NEWS-Seven-people-including-year-old-girl-shot-dead-gunman.html>

Ex-prison guard sentenced to death for killing wife, mother-in-law in Rosenberg

In opening arguments Wednesday, defense attorney Patrick McCann said Turner killed his wife in a rage of jealousy and fear that she would leave him. Keitha and Albert Turner had a troubled marriage, he said.

"He was obsessed with his jealousy and didn't seek help," he said. "He became increasingly stressed and believed that she was having an affair. The prospect of losing them pushed him to the edge."

Crime scene

Fort Bend County Assistant District Attorney Fred Felcman said that on the afternoon of Dec. 26, 2009, Keitha Turner left home with her four children and headed to her parents' house less than 2 miles away. Her husband came to his in-laws' home bringing a gift for his wife. She refused the gift before he left.

McCann said it was his gesture to amend their troubled relationship.

Around midnight, Keitha Turner went to bed with her youngest daughter while the other children were playing video games in another room, said Felcman. Turner showed up at his in-laws' house, walked straight to the bedroom where his wife was and fatally stabbed her. When he saw Betty Frank coming out in the hallway, he cut her throat, Felcman said.

McCann said after Keitha Turner was stabbed, his client was about to leave the house when his mother-in-law appeared.

Jurors heard a 911 call, where one of the children was frantically trying to talk to a dispatcher and to her mother at the same time.

"My mother is bleeding. She's going to die. Hurry! ... Mom, don't die! Keep breathing!" she screamed. Then she was heard crying, "My grandma is dead. He killed her, too. He stabbed her with something in the neck and it's cut open ... Grandma I love you. Please don't die!"

Patrol officer Shayne Mocha recalled officers were trying to find a T-shirt and a towel to stop the blood that was squirting from Keitha Turner's neck while she was trying to communicate with the officers.

Turner fled after the rampage and went in hiding until his capture 2½ months later in Concord, N.C., following a nationwide manhunt.

'A good person'

Darren Frank, Keitha Turner's brother, said his sister had been contemplating leaving her husband for three months but was afraid to do so for fear that he could become violent. In the 911 call, a daughter tells the dispatcher, "He is an abusive father."

<https://www.chron.com/news/houston-texas/article/Defendant-claims-cutting-mother-in-law-s-throat-1682388.php>

<https://www.khou.com/article/news/ex-prison-guard-sentenced-to-death-for-killing-wife-mother-in-law-in-rosenberg/285-341150246>

Man found guilty of killing girlfriend and her mother in Redondo Beach

TORRANCE (CBSLA.com) — A man who killed his girlfriend and her mother in their Redondo Beach apartment three years ago was sentenced Friday to two consecutive terms of life in prison without the possibility of parole.

The sentence was handed down to Jonathan Scott Chacon, 26, who was convicted by a jury April 9 of two counts of first-degree murder in the deaths of 19-year-old Courtney Bergman and her 59-year-old mother, Vicki Bergman.

The judge added an extra two years to Chacon's sentence for using a knife in the deadly attacks.

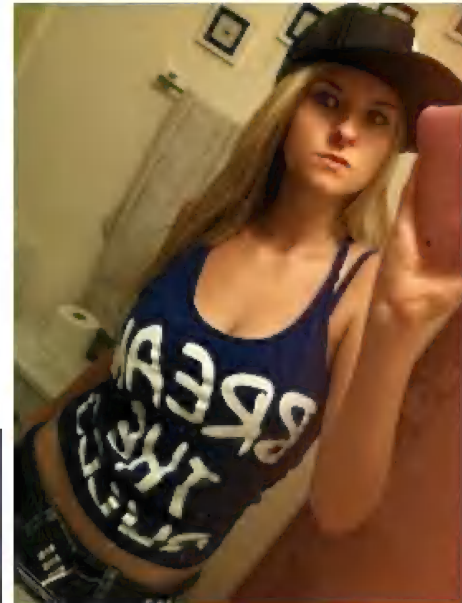

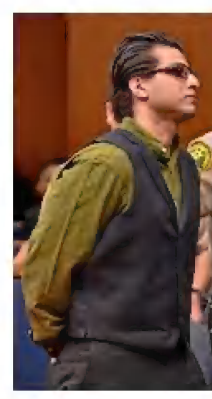

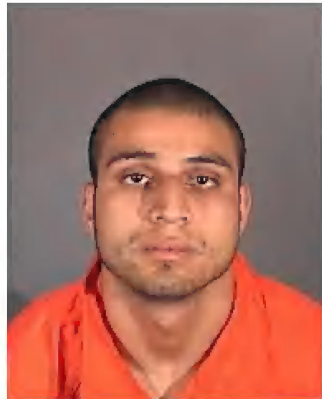

Chacon slit the throats of his girlfriend and his mother inside the apartment in the 1900 block of Rockefeller Lane. Prosecutors suggested he killed them because he was jealous of his girlfriend's contacts with another man.

Chacon insisted the killings were in self-defense, alleging that his girlfriend attacked him with a knife shortly after they had sex in the apartment. He contended that her mother came out of her room during that time.

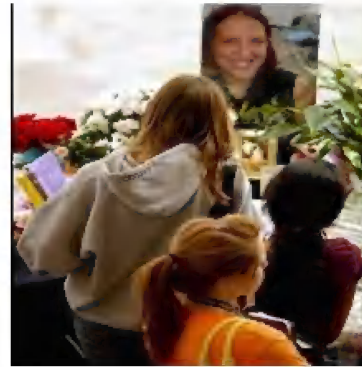

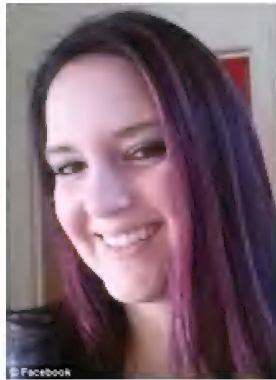

The couple's 2-year-old son was in a bedroom of the apartment at the time of the killings.

<https://homicide.latimes.com/post/redondo-beach-man-sentenced-life-prison-killing-girlfriend-and-her-mother-2012/>

<https://losangeles.cbslocal.com/2015/05/08/man-sentenced-to-2-life-terms-in-prison-for-slitting-throats-of-girlfriend-her-mother-in-2012/>

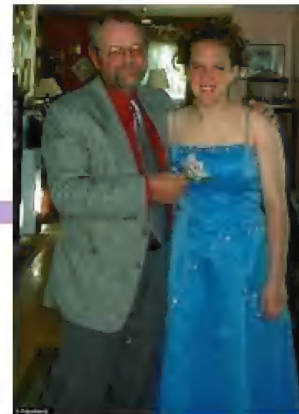

Man gets 3 life sentences plus 60 years for Hoffman Estates triple murder

St. Peter Lutheran Church

Murder trial begins for 25-year-old man who 'stabbed to death fiancée's sister, father and grandmother after he accused her of cheating'

- D'Andre Howard killed three members of fiancée Amanda Engelhardt's family in the early hours of April 17, 2009
- The 26-year-old's murder trial began Wednesday in Cook County, and Amanda was the first to testify
- She told the jury of the night Howard tied her up and stabbed her sister, father and grandmother to death and seriously injured her mother
- Howard, her boyfriend of three years and the father of their then 8-month-old daughter, had accused her of cheating
- His defense asked the jury to find him not-guilty by reason of insanity

Alan Engelhardt, upper left, and his daughter, Laura, center, died and Shelly Engelhardt, upper right (Alan's wife and Laura's mother) was seriously wounded in April 17 knife stabbings at their Hoffman Estates, Ill., home. Amanda and Jeff, below, are Alan and Shelly Engelhardt's other children. Shelly's mother, Marlene Gacek, also died in the attack.

By ASHLEY COLLMAN
PUBLISHED: 00:06 EDT, 29 May 2014 | UPDATED: 05:32 EDT, 29 May 2014

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2642372/Trial-begins-25-year-old-man-stabbed-death-fianc-es-sister-father-grandmother-thought-cheating.html>

Ex-boyfriend charged with first-degree murder

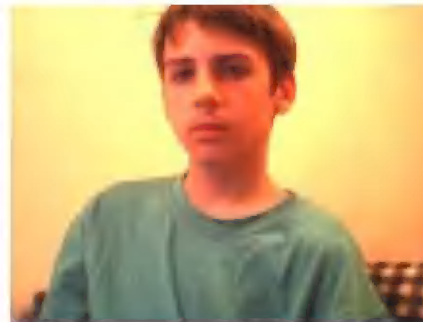

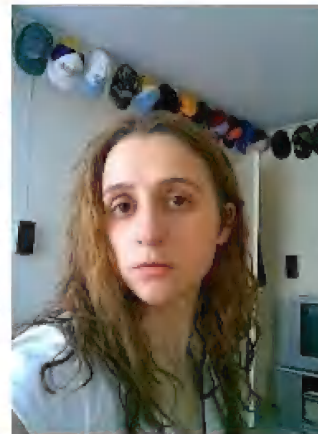

While police identified Mr. Yaw as Ms. Zois's common-law spouse, friends said her difficult relationship with Mr. Yaw had been over for months. They said she moved in with him two or three years ago to escape a strained relationship with her mother, who was involved with a man with an extensive criminal past.

Alex Mulyar, who dated Ms. Zois in high school and reconnected with her in recent months, said her relationship with her mother, Sandra, was "pretty good" when he met her, but that changed when her mother began dating Eric Kusi.

Yesterday evening at her Scarborough home, Ms. Zois's mother said she did not want to talk about the death of her children, saying she just wanted them to rest in peace.

Ms. Zois was still not pleased with her living situation after moving in with Mr. Yaw, Mr. Hossain said. He said she told him in August that she had been "unhappy" with her relationship with Mr. Yaw and had broken up with him months before.

Sherold Philibert, who met Ms. Zois in August, said she told him she had broken up with Mr. Yaw, but continued living with him in their Rexdale apartment because she was afraid to leave.

Police have upgraded the charges against 27-year-old Nana Yaw from second to first-degree murder. Authorities contend he killed his common-law wife, 22-year-old Ilada Zois, and her 14-year-old brother during a domestic dispute that spiraled out of control at 2737 Kipling Ave. on Christmas.

They also allege he stabbed another of her siblings and then locked him in a closet for 24 hours. They only learned of the crime when the teen finally escaped and wound up confronting startled officers in the lobby of their station the next day.

Yaw, angry that Lois was planning to leave him took a kitchen knife and stabbed her repeatedly as she crawled on her hands and knees trying to get away.

When her 14-year-old brother, Jamle, tried to leave to get help, Yaw plunged a knife into him 6 times.

Yaw then stabbed 16-year-old Thomas Zois, who survived the ordeal, but was held captive at knife point for two nightmarish days.

According to the Agreed Statement Of Facts, Yaw forced Thomas to watch while he performed an indignity to his sister's dead body, telling him, "This is how much I love your sister."

<https://toronto.citynews.ca/2010/04/22/nana-yaw-guilty-of-horrific-christmas-day-murders/>

<https://www.theglobeandmail.com/news/national/ex-boyfriend-charged-with-first-degree-murder/article964709/>

Delanco man pleads guilty to killing girlfriend's grandfather

MOUNT HOLLY -- A Delanco man admitted today he became enraged and killed his girlfriend's grandfather in 2010 after the elderly man allegedly called him a racial slur.

Richard H. Still, 24, pleaded guilty to aggravated manslaughter in Superior Court to the choking death of 73-year-old Louis Berger, Jr. of Delanco on Feb. 11, 2010. Judge Jeanne T. Covert accepted the plea and will sentence Still on June 7.

Still's plea deal calls for 24 years in prison, with no chance for parole for more than 20 years, Burlington County Assistant Prosecutor Michael Mormando said. At the time of sentencing other charges, including desecrating human remains, will be dismissed, he said.

Still admitted, under questioning from his court-appointed attorney Bonnie Geller-Gorman, that he stayed in Berger's Rancocas Avenue home on multiple occasions with his girlfriend and that he killed the victim while the woman was outside shoveling snow.

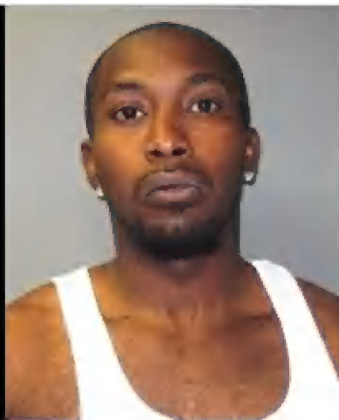

He said he became enraged and choked Berger during an argument inside the man's Rancocas Avenue home where the victim allegedly called him "the n-word."

Monday's plea spared Still of the possibility of life in prison, authorities said.

Authorities initially investigated Berger's disappearance as a missing-person case. His family reported the retired bus driver and Vietnam veteran missing Feb. 15 after he failed to show up for his grandson's birthday party at an area VFW post.

His vehicle was later located in Camden. The investigation also revealed that Still had stolen a large quantity of jewelry that belonged to Berger's late wife and sold it to a pawnshop, authorities said.

At the time Still was arrested, his girlfriend, Berger's granddaughter, was pregnant with their child. He also is the father of two other young children.

<https://www.burlingtoncountytimes.com/article/20110418/NEWS/304189763>

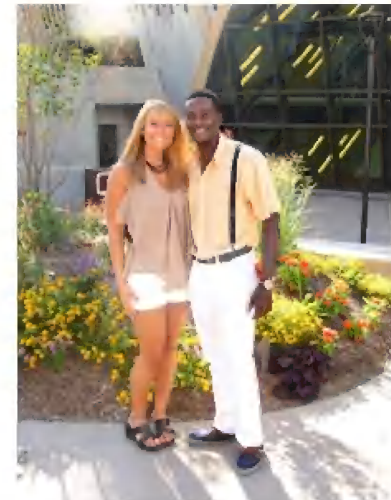

Man Reveals Motive for Killing Wife & Her Sister on Facebook Minutes Before Suicide

- Police believe Darrel Jackson killed wife Mallory and his 20-year-old sister-in-law, Meredith Opel, in Indianapolis Friday
- He then drove to Jonesboro, Arkansas, texted his father he 'could not take it no longer,' and fatally shot himself in the head
- Darrel and Mallory Jackson got married in October 2015 and welcomed their daughter, Camilla Rose, in early 2016
- Police in Indianapolis recently had been called to the family's home for a domestic dispute
- Before ending his life, Darrel Jackson posted a dejected status update, lamenting that he meant 'nothing to this world'

By SNEJANA FARBEROV FOR DAILYMAIL.COM

PUBLISHED: 16:56 EDT, 27 November 2017 | UPDATED: 23:52 EDT, 27 November 2017

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-5122605/Man-killed-estranged-wife-sister-himself.html>

I. FACTS

Supreme Court of Washington, En Banc.
The STATE of Washington, Respondent, v. Dwayne Anthony WOODS, Appellant.

On Friday, April 26, 1996, Telisha Shaver was "house-sitting" at her aunt's trailer home in the Spokane Valley. Verbatim Report of Proceedings (VRP) at 3054. Telisha, who planned to stay the night at her boyfriend's home, agreed to let her sister, Venus, and Venus's friend, Jade Moore, spend the night at the trailer. Because Venus and Jade went out that evening, they did not arrive at the trailer home until approximately 1:45 a.m. on Saturday, April 27. Shortly thereafter, Venus and Jade's friend, Anica Nelson, came over to the trailer. The three women then proceeded to engage in conversation and consume alcohol. Eventually, Venus and Jade expressed a desire to contact Dwayne Woods. Venus, who had been dating Woods, indicated that she simply wanted to talk to him. Jade, on the other hand, expressed the hope that Woods could supply her with marijuana. Eventually, Venus called Woods's pager number. Woods responded to the page at 3:45 a.m. Venus then agreed to pick him up in her automobile and bring him back to the trailer. At about this same time, Anica Nelson departed the trailer home and Jade went to sleep in one of the bedrooms of the trailer.

Venus returned to the trailer with Woods at 4:20 a.m. Although Venus and Woods proceeded to engage in conversation, Venus said that she felt "uneased about him. I wasn't comfortable." VRP at 3426. According to testimony Venus gave at trial, Woods "poured himself vodka" and expressed unhappiness about the fact that Jade was not awake. VRP at 3427. At the behest of Woods, Venus tried to awaken Jade, but she did not respond. Woods, according to Venus, became irate and eventually shoved Venus onto the couch and attempted to unbutton her pants. Venus said that she escaped from Woods's grasp but that he managed to grab her again and "slammed" her head and neck against a door. VRP at 3432. From that point on, Venus has no memory of events that morning except for reoccurring "flashing" of memory in which she recalls struggling with Woods. VRP at 3434.

After Woods completed his attack on Venus, he moved on to Jade. At about 7:30 a.m., Woods climbed into bed with Jade and forced her, at knifepoint, to get up. He then forcibly took her to witness the severely beaten Venus who was lying unconscious on the floor in one of the bedrooms. Woods proceeded to threaten Jade that if she did not comply with his demands, she would "end up looking just like your friend Venus." VRP at 2941. He then forced Jade to help him loot the trailer and to give him her automatic transaction machine (ATM) card together with her personal identification number. He then raped Jade orally and vaginally.

While Woods was attacking Jade, Telisha came over to the trailer to retrieve some of her belongings. As she entered the trailer, Woods seized and bound her and forced her to stand against a wall in the bedroom. Jade, who was laying on the floor at this point, and "acting like she was dead," said that she "heard a baseball bat hit" Telisha's head. VRP at 3303. Jade was then hit in the head with the bat, knocked unconscious, and was unable to observe what happened beyond that point.

When Telisha failed to return home later that morning, her mother, Sherry Shaver, became concerned and decided to go to the trailer. She arrived there at approximately 10:25 a.m. and found the door locked. While peering in through a window in the trailer, she saw a man, whom she later identified as Woods, alighting from the other side of the trailer. Sherry gave chase, but the man she had observed eluded her. She then returned to the trailer and pounded on the locked door. Finally, Jade answered the door. According to Sherry Shaver, Jade "looked out of it and she was stark naked." VRP at 3063. Sherry soon realized that the three women in the trailer had been beaten. Sherry called 911.

On an April Saturday dawn, Dwayne Woods, the short-time boyfriend of Venus Shaver, Telisha's sister, showed up at the mobile home where 19-year-old Venus was housesitting. Venus's 18-year-old friend Jade Moore was there too.

According to the Spokane Spokesman-Review, Woods attacked Venus Shaver first, stabbing her and hitting her in the head with a baseball bat. Then he woke up Moore with a knife to her throat, before raping, stabbing and beating her.

Then Telisha Shaver showed up at the mobile home later that morning -- and was raped, stabbed and beaten unconscious. Woods ordered Moore to cut Telisha Shaver's throat. She refused. He smacked Moore with the bat some more. Then Venus' and Telisha's mother Sherry Shaver arrived to view the carnage and see Woods run away. She chased Woods, but did not catch him.

Telisha Shaver

Jade Moore

<https://caselaw.findlaw.com/wa-supreme-court/1366672.html>
<https://crosscut.com/2014/02/victims-families-testify-on-execution-moratorium>

2 young boys killed, 1 hurt in Ohio shooting; mother's boyfriend charged with murder, police say

Kevin N Moore

South Toledo mother arrived home to find sons with fatal gunshot wounds

THE BLADE

'We weren't on bad terms. There was no violence, there was nothing,' she told The Blade.

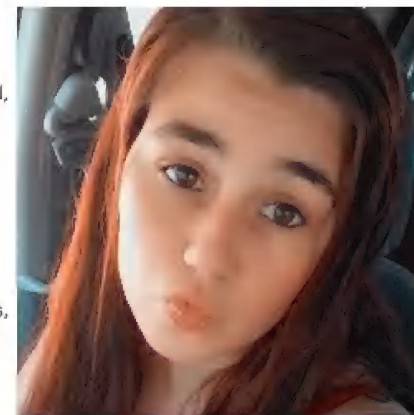

Phillips, who also goes by the surname Andrews, shares her sons with her husband, from whom she was separated, The Blade reported.

On Monday, Judge Amy Berling set Moore's bond at $2million for each murder charge and $1million for the felonious assault.

Another hearing is scheduled to take place on Friday.

The Blade reported that Moore was convicted in 2017 for 'third-degree felony domestic battery by strangulation, second-degree felony tampering with a witness, and misdemeanor resisting an officer without violence.'

Moore is originally from Georgia, but he has previously lived in Florida and Indiana before moving to Ohio, Ms. Phillips said. They had been dating for about six months.

Crystal Phillips

Ohio mom comes home to find her two young sons, 5 and 1, shot dead and another, 4, critically injured as her boyfriend is arrested for murder

- Kevin N Moore, 27, is being held on $5million bond over the shooting on Friday
- Gabriel, 1 and Ahmir Phillips, 5, were killed while Ashtan Phillips, 4, is 'continues to fight for his life, the according to the Lucas County Coroner's Office
- The boys' mother, Crystal Phillips, 23, said she had 'no clue' why the attack had happened

Crystal Phillips, 23, was helping her mother move furniture Friday afternoon while her boyfriend, Kevin Moore, 27, watched the children. Ms. Phillips was gone for about one hour and when she returned everything seemed normal, she told The Blade on Monday.

Moore kissed her and told her he loved her when she returned to the apartment in the 800 block of Byrneport Drive. She then began unloading items from a trailer.

About 10 to 15 minutes later, her 2-year-old daughter ran up to her, claiming Mr. Moore caused one of her brothers to have a nosebleed.

Ms. Phillips dropped the boxes and ran upstairs to check on her sons.

That's when she found them in their bedroom, suffering from gunshot wounds.

By CHARLOTTE MITCHELL FOR MAILONLINE

PUBLISHED: 12:00 EST, 9 February 2021 | UPDATED: 12:00 EST, 9 February 2021

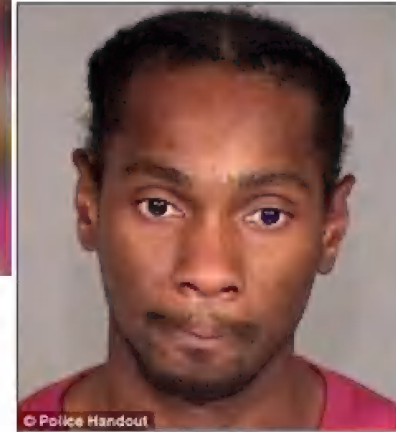

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-9241257/Mom-discovers-two-young-sons-dead-critically-injured-boyfriend-arrested.html>

<https://www.toledoblade.com/local/police-fire/2021/02/08/south-toledo-mother-arrived-home-to-find-sons-with-fatal-gunshot-wounds/stories/20210208082>

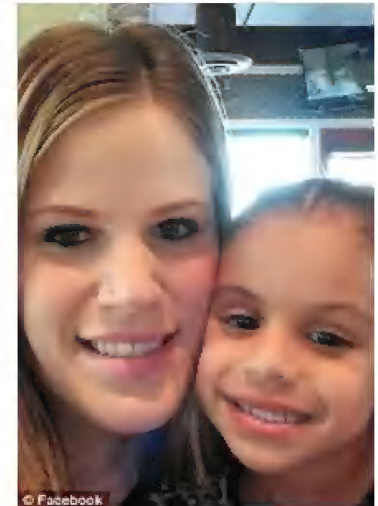

Milwaukee man accused of killing girlfriend and her daughter quoted Eminem lyrics

Milwaukee man, 31, fatally stabs his girlfriend 26 TIMES before killing her 4-year-old cancer survivor daughter and lighting their house on fire with her coloring books

- Patrick Fowler has been charged with first-degree intentional homicide
- Jessica Ellenberger, 28, and her daughter Madyson Marshel were both stabbed to death
- Police said Fowler confessed to killing the pair because he 'felt disrespected' during an argument
- Fowler was out on probation after threatening to kill his ex-fiancee and her son with knives six months ago

An autopsy found 26 wounds on Ellenberger's upper body. Madyson was stabbed twice and was burned over 100 percent of her body (the pair are pictured with Madyson's father Christopher Clark)

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-3510279/Milwaukee-man-fatally-stabs-girlfriend-4-year-old-daughter-death.html>

Bullock's conviction came in 2009. He was accused of killing 13-year-old Cori Baker, the sister of his then girlfriend, after picking her up from school.

Investigators find more of Cori Baker's remains. The medical examiner has positively identified a human skull found on Friday, as that of 13-year-old Cori Baker. The skull and other remains were found in rural Creek County, just off the Creek Turnpike. News On 6 anchor Jennifer Loren reports investigators found more of Cori Baker's remains at that location Monday afternoon.

Cori Baker of Tulsa has been missing since last November. The 13 year old has been feared dead at the hands of her sister's boyfriend, 18-year-old Marquis Bullock. Investigators and volunteers have spent months searching for her body. Last Friday, they got the break they'd been waiting for. A teenager found a human skull at a paintball course in rural Creek County.

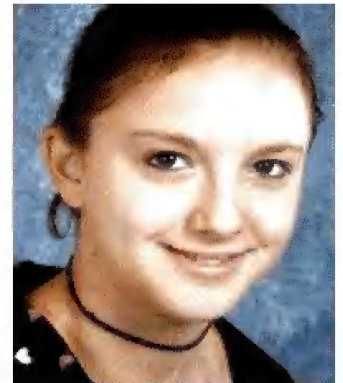

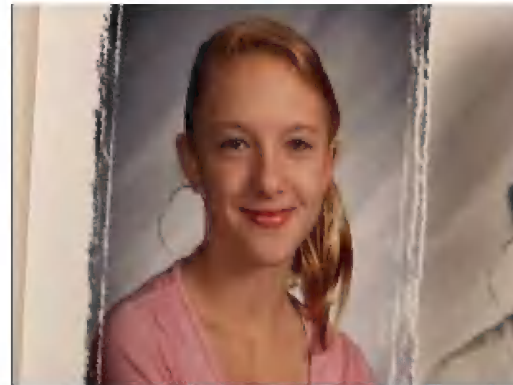

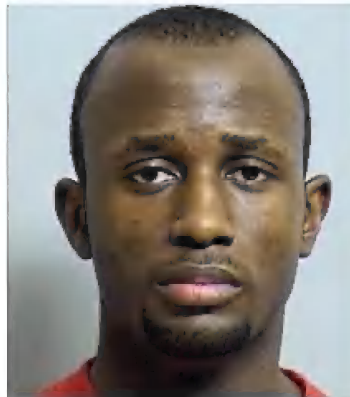

<https://www.newson6.com/story/5e367a012f69d76f6208c4c4/more-of-cori-bakers-remains-found>

Cori Jesse Baker of Tulsa, OK, died November 9, 2007, at the age of 13 years. She was born in Tulsa, May 13, 1994, to Leona Danelle Mish and Daniel Bryan Baker. She had been a student at Union Public Schools in Tulsa. She enjoyed playing basketball, softball, skateboarding, and cheerleading. She liked to spend her weekends at Grand Lake swimming and fishing. She had attended Good Shepherd Episcopal Church in Sapulpa where she had served as an acolyte and a nursery worker. She was a vibrant person who enjoyed children, animals, and spending time with her friends. Cori Baker disappeared Nov. 9, 2007, after being picked up from Union Alternative School, 5656 S. 129th East Ave. Some of her bones were discovered March 21, 2008 near a paintball field by the Creek Turnpike and 49th West Avenue in Creek County. Marquis Bullock was the boyfriend of Cori's older sister, Courtney Baker, and was father to Courtney Baker's son. Bullock was arrested and convicted for the first-degree murder of Cori Jesse Baker Sept. 16, 2009.

<https://www.findagrave.com/memorial/129733774/cori-jesse-baker>

<https://www.krmg.com/news/local/life-sentence-upheld-for-man-slaying-girl/DStcJf2wvLshQpbiU1xycP/>

<https://www.newson6.com/story/5e3671202f69d76f62081617/marquis-bullock-murder-trial-continues>

By Lori Fullbright, The News On 6

TULSA, OK – Cori's Baker's family took the the witness stand on Monday afternoon in the murder trial of Marquis Bullock. Bullock is accused of killing the 13-year-old girl in the fall of 2007.

Marquis Bullock was dating Cori Baker's oldest sister Courtney and they had a child together. He lived with the Baker family for a time.

Testimony continues on Tuesday in Tulsa County District Court.

Cori's middle sister, Casey, testified that when she was 15, in 2005, Bullock wrote her a note, saying he was dreaming of being with her. She said she later noticed someone had cut her blinds so they could look in her window and had drilled holes in her wall, so they could peek into her bedroom.

Casey said her father confronted Bullock about all of it and kicked him out of the house.

Tulsa County prosecutors are trying to show that after Casey rebuffed Bullock's attention, he turned his affection to Cori.

A US man who shot his girlfriend's five-year-old niece in the face has been sentenced to between 50 and 80 years behind bars.

STATE OF MICHIGAN COURT OF APPEALS

PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF MICHIGAN,
Plaintiff-Appellee,

v

KEYON DEWAYNE TIMMONS,

Defendant-Appellant.

UNPUBLISHED
September 27, 2011

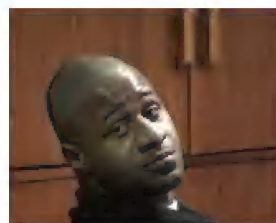

No. 297670
Oakland Circuit Court
LC No. 2009-228759-FC

I. FACTS

This case arises from a shooting at 390 Shumard Branch in Oxford, Michigan on September 9, 2009. In September 2009, defendant and Heather Warner were involved in a romantic relationship. The two were engaged to be married and lived together in Pontiac. Heather had two children from a prior relationship and was pregnant with defendant's child. The two were dating for about two years; however, defendant was physically abusive, and Heather occasionally displayed bruises and black eyes as a result of defendant's abuse. On September 8, 2009, and September 9, 2009, defendant and Heather had been arguing. Defendant made threatening statements to Heather while she was at work. She called the police and intended to stay at a women's shelter. Further infuriated when confronted by the police, defendant told Heather that she was going to regret having called the police. When Heather refused to tell defendant where she was, he threatened to "blow your cousin's head off." Defendant then said, "fuck [your] cousin . . . I'm [sic] after your mom and your brother and I know where they are." Defendant said he was going to shoot them. Heather continued to refuse to tell defendant where she was, and he said, "[T]hey can thank you for your actions." Defendant indicated that if Heather told him where she was going, no one would get hurt. Heather started to cry and told defendant that she was going to the Haven shelter. Defendant got upset and told Heather that she and their unborn child did not belong there. Defendant called Heather again and said, "fuck your mom and your brother, I'll get them later. I'm going to kill your kids."

Heather Warner at Keyon Timmons Sentencing Hearing

Jordayna Barrett

Defendant then proceeded to Heather's sister's house where Heather's children were located. Heather's five-year-old niece, Jordayna, answered the door. Defendant shot her in the face. Though Jordayna survived the shooting, she suffered serious injuries and will endure a lifetime of disfigurement and hearing loss.

http://publicdocs.courts.mi.gov:81/opinions/final/coa/20110927_c297670_72_297670.opn.pdf

<https://www.9news.com.au/world/us-man-shoots-five-year-old-in-face/8904ec4b-44d3-4fda-b7c4-36675dbd715b>

'KILLER' DAD EasyJet worker, 28, and her daughter, 3, strangled to death 'by her ex after she dumped him'

Natalia Penza

Jan 7 2020, 15:17 ET | Updated: Jan 7 2020, 15:49 ET

THE U.S.
Sun

HOME NEWS ENTERTAINMENT LIFESTYLE SPORT

A WORKER at easyJet and her three-year-old daughter were found strangled to death at their home in Spain.

Police arrested Monica Linde's partner today (Tuesday, January 7) after making the gruesome discovery when they were called to the flat the couple shared with their daughter Ciara, in Esplugues de Llobregat, near Barcelona's El Prat airport.

Detectives confirmed the suspect, who has been named locally as Ruben Dario, 27, will be appearing in court tomorrow (Wednesday, January 7).

The spaniard, thought to have met his partner while she lived in the UK, was taken into police custody after receiving hospital treatment for wounds which are thought to be self-inflicted.

Local reports claim Monica and Ruben Dario were in the process of separating despite the fact they were still living under the same roof.

Police made the arrest after being called to the double murder scene early yesterday morning.

The regional Mossos d'Esquadra police force said: "Police have arrested a Spanish man aged 27 as the suspected author of a double homicide.

"We received a call alerting us to the fact a man had allegedly killed his 28-year-old partner and young daughter around 6.10am yesterday on Monday, at their home in Esplugues de Llobregat.

Monica Linde's daughter, 3, RIP

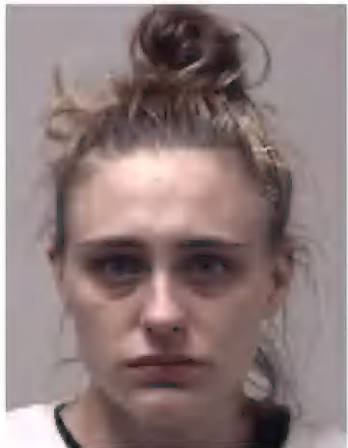

Monica Linde, 28, and Ruben Dario, 27

<https://www.the-sun.com/news/224801/easyjet-worker-28-and-her-daughter-3-strangled-to-death-by-her-ex-after-she-dumped-him/>

Live-in boyfriend brutally beats 2-year-old tot while 'mom' helps cover for him: Police

THE SUN HOME NEWS ENTERTAINMENT LIFESTYLE SPORT

'MURDERED' Boy, 2, 'beaten to death by mom's boyfriend' suffered cigarette burns, missing teeth and brain bleed

Callie Patterson
Aug 23 2020, 16:26 ET | Updated: Aug 29 2020, 18:54 ET

THE BOYFRIEND of a mother who was charged with murdering her two-year-old son last year has now been charged with murder, child cruelty and aggravated battery.

In October of 2019, Connor Pittman, 2, was brought to a hospital in Georgia with a broken jaw, missing teeth, bruises and cuts on his face, cigarette burns and bleeding in his brain.

Davis has been accused of breaking Connor's jaw and worsening existing brain damage including internal bleeding.

Pittman originally claimed Connor fell from a trampoline.

In October, Davis was watching Connor while Pittman was at work and sent her a photo of her soon eating a snack around 7p.m, according to court records.

That same night, Connor developed breathing problems and was taken to the hospital after Davis tried to administer CPR.

Court records show that due to the injuries of his jaw, "there was no way a child could attempt to eat with such a massive wound to his mouth and face."

According to warrants obtained by the channel 11 Alive, Conner's abdominal cavity was filled with blood and his lungs were filling up with fluids.

The toddler also suffered a broken jaw, cuts and bruises to his face, had several teeth missing teeth and had bleeding on his brain.

<https://www.the-sun.com/news/1356689/boy-beaten-death-moms-boyfriend-burns-brain-bleed/>

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-7625823/Mom-23-arrested-murder-beat-death-toddler-son-soiled-diaper.html>

Marcus Hightower sentenced in deaths of his girlfriend and her 4-year-old daughter

Published at 1:04 PM, Feb 20, 2016 and last updated 5:29 PM, Feb 20, 2016

A Detroit man was sentenced Wednesday in the killing of his girlfriend and her four-year-old daughter.

The victim's family doesn't think the sentence fits the crime.

Marcus Hightower was given 50 to 75 years in prison.

In court, he admitted to stabbing his girlfriend, Heidi Walker, twice in the neck then suffocated her daughter Savannah with a pillow.

The crimes happened back in February.

Police say the mother and daughter were reported missing by family in Livingston County, but an Amber Alert wasn't issued for five days.

Their bodies were found in an abandoned house that was set on fire. Heidi's sister holly addressed the judge.

Hightower will be 85 years old when he is eligible for parole after serving the minimum 50-year sentence.

He also addressed the courtroom, saying he was recently diagnosed with bi-polar disorder and blamed lack of treatment for the crimes.

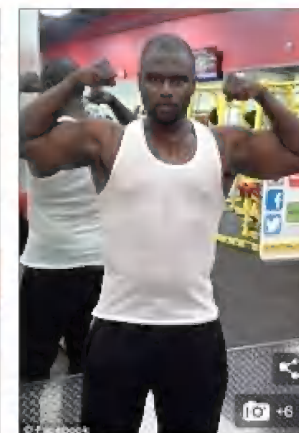

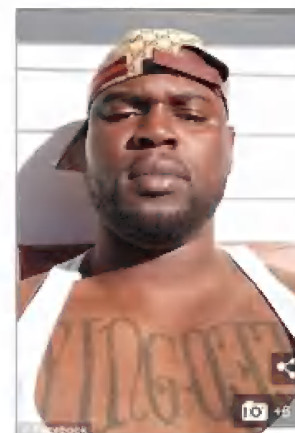

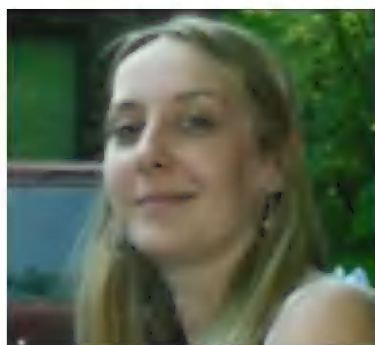

He apologized to the victim's family and asked for forgiveness.

Missing mom and her daughter, 4, feared burned alive by boyfriend after Amber Alert leads to horror house fire discovery

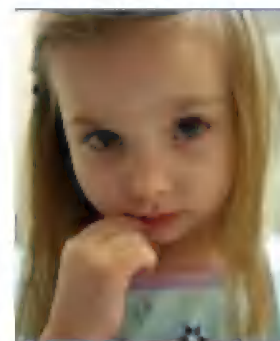

- Two bodies were discovered in a vacant Detroit house that caught on fire
- Police say the bodies appear to be Savannah Walker, 4, and mom Heidi, 39
- An Amber alert was released on Friday night after the pair went missing
- They were last seen with Heidi's boyfriend, Marcus Hightower, 33
- Hightower has a history of domestic abuse and is on parole for assault with intent to commit murder, police say

By JESSICA CHIA FOR DAILYMIL.COM

PUBLISHED: 15:41 EDT, 20 February 2016 | UPDATED: 19:20 EDT, 20 February 2016

Hightower, 33, has a history of domestic abuse and is on parole for assault with intent to commit murder. Police chief James Craig said: "We're considering him armed and dangerous"

Savannah Walker, 4

<https://www.wxyz.com/news/marcus-hightower-sentenced-in-deaths-of-his-girlfriend-and-her-4-year-old-daughter>

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-3456014/Missing-four-year-old-mom-seen-armed-dangerous-boyfriend-believed-died-intentional-house-fire.html>

Ohio man charged in beating death of girlfriend's son, 3

Owen Buggy, 3, RIP

A man accused of beating to death his girlfriend's 3-year-old son last year has been indicted on murder and child endangering charges in northeast Ohio.

Wednesday, March 8th 2017, 12:52 PM EST

Judge: Canton mother allowed 'evil to pummel' son

Ruth Buggy, the mother of a toddler who was fatally abused, will spend time in prison for her role in his death. She was sentenced Wednesday in Stark County Common Pleas Court.

CANTON Ruth Buggy bowed her head and sniffled while a judge castigated her for the role she played in the death of her 3-year-old son.

Buggy's attorney, Donovan Hill, argued vehemently on behalf of the 34-year-old woman who had previously pleaded guilty to complicity to endangering children and obstructing justice.

Buggy's ex-boyfriend, Brent Fields, 27, was convicted last week of murder in the death of Buggy's 3-year-old son, Owen. The murder charge was tied to the physical abuse that prosecutors said Fields inflicted on the toddler, including punching him in the stomach, whipping him with a belt and once dangling him outside a second-story window by his ankles.

<https://www.timesreporter.com/news/20171101/judge-canton-mother-allowed-evil-to-pummel-son>

Murdered girl's mom asks 'why?'

When he arrived on scene, Childers said he saw grieving people in the yard before going to the FirstHealth ambulance, where he saw the body of the victim, 4-year-old Reba Ryan, with heavy bruising on the face, stomach and side.

Lilly had been in a relationship with Monica Ryan, the child's mother, for more than a year — and the couple had a child together — but they had been having issues, Childers said.

The mother told investigators that Reba had been wearing a grey T-shirt and pink pajama pants when she went to bed the night before, according to Childers. However, when investigators arrived, she was wearing denim shorts and a white shirt.

Jessica Adams, a friend of the mother, told investigators that she and her then-boyfriend went over to the house that morning after getting a call from Lilly. Childers said Lilly had told her that he had whipped her, showing a tan belt, and may have done it too hard.

Childers said Lilly also told investigators when he was questioned that he had used a belt, hitting her six or seven times, after he awoke to find her outside after the mother had gone to work.

Layton said the child's autopsy revealed she had died from blunt-force trauma to the head and abdomen due to beating, and that she had a lacerated liver.

She also said the autopsy suggested the scene had been cleaned, which led investigators to obtain and serve a third search warrant, where they found the clothes she had been said to have been wearing the night before, which tested positive for the presumptive presence of blood.

"I just don't get it," she said. "I've asked if I can talk to him face-to-face because I want answers. That way my heart could feel a little better. I could have some closure. What could my 4-year-old have done to a six-foot-four man to make him do what he has done? I want to know why." The heartbroken mother said that no matter what answer she receives, she knows it will not justify her loss.

Oct 06, 2012 (Richmond County Daily Journal - McClatchy-Tribune Information Services via COMTEX) -- Monica Eddins of Ellerbe said she is full of questions about the death of her 4-year-old daughter.

According to the Richmond County Sheriff's Office, Reba Lynn Marie Ryan was found dead last Friday at her residence in Ellerbe, and authorities have charged 39-year-old Julius Juan Lilly with first degree murder and felony child abuse with serious bodily injury.

Sheriff James Clemmons Jr. confirmed earlier this week that Lilly was a "live-in boyfriend" of Eddins.

Reba Lynn Marie Ryan, 4, RIP

Lilly's record with the N.C. Department of Public Safety Division of Adult Correction show he served four months for a 2001 conviction of assault on a female in Montgomery County, and probation for a similar charge in Randolph County in 1996.

He also has convictions for breaking into vehicles, larceny, injury to property, communicating threats and several traffic violations.

<http://sip-trunking.tmcnet.com/news/2012/10/06/6631684.htm>

<https://www.yourdailyjournal.com/news/67198/julius-lilly-pleads-guilty-in-2012-ellerbe-beating-death-of-4-year-old-girl>

Stepdad accused of leaving toddler boy clinging to life with skull fracture, brain bleed, and bruising

PENNSYLVANIA MOTHER AND BOYFRIEND CHARGED IN THE DEATH OF 3-YEAR-OLD FOR ALLEGED CHILD ABUSE

👤 Dawn 🕒 May 18, 2020 📰 News 💬 Leave a comment

Three-Year-Old Mikel Fetterman tragically lost his life after being taken to a local hospital for "life-saving measures."

Mikel lived with his mother, Teresa Fetterman, and her 31-year-old boyfriend, Keith Lilly Jr. Fetterman told police that on March 26, her three-year-old was left in the care of Lilly while she was asleep.

Lilly told police that the little boy had fallen off the couch and was given Tylenol before he was found unresponsive, which led to the 9-1-1 call.

According to the doctors, Mikel showed signs of both longterm physical abuse and suspected sexual abuse. Authorities say that the boy was covered in new and old bruises and had suffered from a skull fracture.

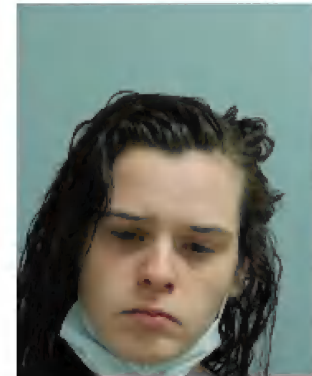

April 24, Mikel Fetterman succumbed to his injuries. The autopsy report shows that Fetterman died from blunt force trauma to the head, according to WTAE.

Shannell Felton, a neighbor, reported that things seemed off a week before the little boy hospitalized. "A week before this happened, we seen he had two black eyes, and then that's when my sister called Children Youth Services, and nothing was done."

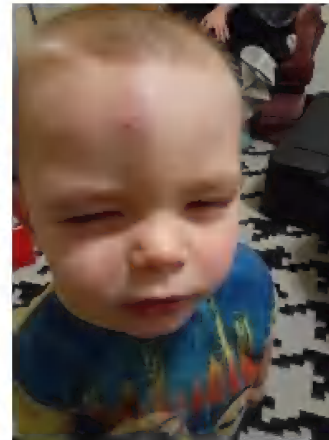

Police say that Children Youth Services are conducting their own investigation in the death of Mikel Fetterman.

The boy's mother has been charged with involuntary manslaughter, aggravated assault, and endangering the welfare of a child.

Meanwhile, her boyfriend has been charged with homicide. He faces two counts of aggravated assault, one count of endangering the welfare of children and one count of recklessly endangering another person.

Teresa Fetterman, Mikel's mother

Mikel Fetterman, 3, RIP

<https://www.crimeonline.com/2020/04/15/stepdad-accused-of-leaving-toddler-boy-clinging-to-life-with-skull-fracture-brain-bleed-and-bruising-reports/>

<https://www.crimeonline.com/2020/05/14/mom-boyfriend-charged-in-death-of-toddler-boy-who-spent-nearly-a-month-in-the-hospital/>

(WBTV) - A man charged in the April murder of his girlfriend's 10-year-old son pleaded guilty to murder in court Thursday.

Family, friends gather to celebrate the life of Mark-Ethan Stewart

By Staff Report
Email the author

Published 12:00 am Tuesday, April 8, 2014

Mark-Ethan A. Stewart, 10, RIP

Mark-Ethan A. Stewart, 10, RIP

Eugene W. Mays, 39, pleaded guilty to first degree murder in Cabarrus County court, and was sentenced to life in prison without parole.

Mays was arrested in April after investigators found 10-year-old Mark Ethan Alexander Stewart, and his 32-year-old mother, Christi Melisha Stewart, during a welfare check at a home on South Ridge Avenue the night before.

Officers then found her son, Mark, lying on the floor of his bedroom on the bed of his beloved dog, Jasper.

Mark Stewart was dead, with 11 stab wounds, 25 cut wounds and 27 blunt trauma wounds.

Citing a North Carolina medical examiner's report, Cabarrus County District Attorney Roxann Vaneekhoven said Mark Stewart would have been conscious for several minutes during and after the attack.

He had numerous defensive wounds on his hands and arms.

"He would have suffered a great deal of pain," she said. "This crime was especially heinous, atrocious and cruel."

Mays and Christi Stewart met on a dating website in January, and Mays moved into Stewart's house in Kannapolis after things started to get serious, according to May's statement to Gastonia police.

Christi Stewart apparently threw a party on the night of April 6, and Mays and a friend known only as "Darion" went to Gastonia to drink and smoke crack cocaine.

They came back to the Kannapolis house early the next morning, and Mays said in his statement that Christi Stewart had been drinking and had rearranged the furniture, and items belonging to May's deceased mother were strewn about.

It was then, Mays said, that he snapped.

He admitted he used a kitchen knife on Christi Stewart and her son, and he kicked and punched them.

Officers forced their way into the house and found Christi Stewart on the brown leather couch in her living room, covered in blood and suffering from multiple knife and blunt trauma wounds.

"There was an extreme amount of blood on the floor, on the walls and on Miss Stewart," Harrison said.

Her throat had been slit, and the gash was compromising her ability to breathe, he said, so she was taken to the hospital and rushed into surgery. She survived.

https://roanoke.com/news/crime/ex-virginia-tech-tackle-pleads-guilty-in-killing/article_e7a53e3b-6a1a-598a-8f48-b66d7f94d789.html

<https://www.salisburypost.com/2014/04/08/family-friends-gather-to-celebrate-the-life-of-mark-ethan-stewart/>

<https://www.wbvtv.com/story/23907032/man-accused-in-murder-of-10-year-old-back-in-court/>

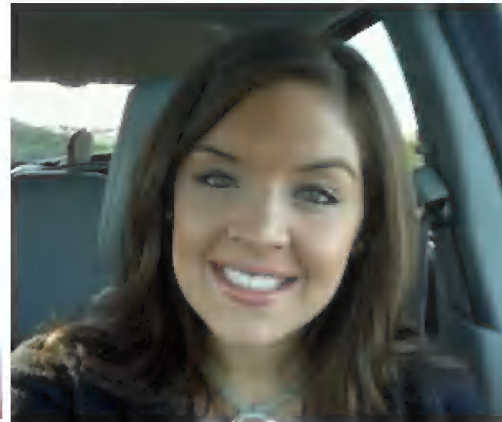

Fountain woman gunned down by boyfriend home from hospital

Young mother fights for life after boyfriend killed her son, shot her five times then committed suicide

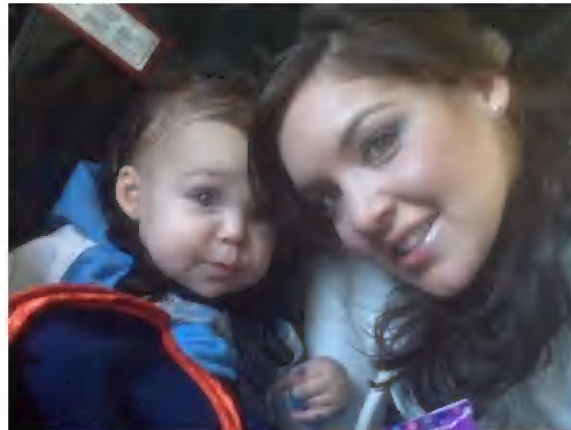

Shannon Paolini, 27, was shot while trying to flee her home in Fountain, Colorado, where her boyfriend Gammall Perez killed their son and then killed himself.

Thirty-four-year-old Perez and the couple's two-year-old son were found dead after a six-hour standoff with police on Monday.

The Fountain house where police suspect a man shot his girlfriend and killed their child before committing suicide was doused with gasoline, Fountain police said Tuesday.

Gavin, 2, RIP

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-1388485/Shannon-Paolini-fighting-life-boyfriend-killed-son-shot-committed-suicide.html>

Mom breaks down after ex found not guilty of killing son

By Natalie Musumeci September 28, 2016 | 5:09pm

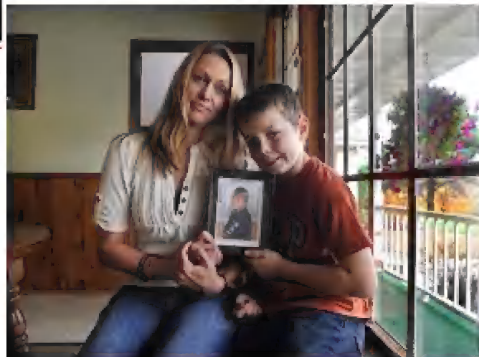

He said the reason that was interesting is because Amos, who was 15 and lived in Hermon at the time, is black, and that would give potential credence to a statement made by Daniel Carranza, who lived at 100 Market St. at the time of Garrett's death; he reported seeing a black male peeking out the window where the murderer was alleged to have escaped.

Garrett Phillips' mother, Tandy Collins(right), cries as she hears the not guilty verdict on Sept. 28. Nick Hillary and Tandy Collins on the photo on the left.

Collins and Hillary had broken up shortly before the sixth-grader's death and prosecutors had argued that Hillary blamed Garrett for the breakup.

The case lacked DNA or fingerprint evidence and relied heavily on circumstantial evidence, including surveillance showing Hillary allegedly stalking the boy before his body was found.

Garrett Phillips, RIP

<https://nypost.com/2016/09/28/mom-breaks-down-after-ex-found-not-guilty-of-killing-son/>

https://www.nny360.com/news/new-leads-surface-in-phillips-murder/article_129462bd-bed2-53ab-b550-39d06dfacc74.html

Deputies: Man fatally shot wife, 21-year-old son in Orlando

Associated Press June 22, 2020

THE U.S.
Sun

HOME | NEWS | ENTERTAINMENT | LIFESTYLE | SPORT

Comment now

A 59-year-old man who was "depressed by the coronavirus pandemic killed his cancer-survivor wife and son and shots at his other son" has been arrested.

Orange County police responded to a shooting in Orlando, Florida, at 1:15am on Sunday morning, WESH reported.

The outlet reported that investigators found Jodi Rivera, 57, and Matthew Rivera, 21, with gunshot wounds and they were later pronounced dead by the Orange County Fire Rescue.

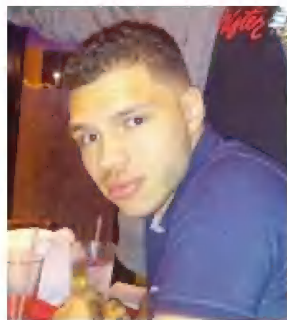

Smith Rivera, 59, admitted to authorities that he had killed his wife and son.

According to the arrest report, seen by the outlet, Rivera fired his weapon at a third person who was able to escape.

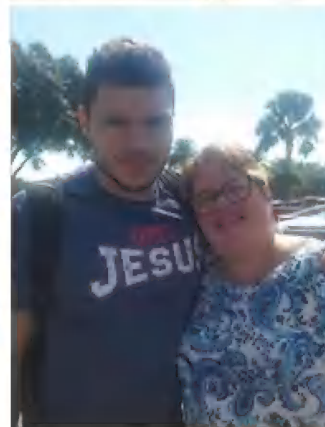

Smith's sister said that the third person was another son.

Rivera has been charged with two counts of first degree murder with a firearm and one count of attempted first degree murder with a firearm.

The shooter's sister told the outlet that her brother, who is a father-of-three, had been depressed due to the coronavirus pandemic.

Matthew Rivera, 21, RIP

© Facebook

<https://www.the-sun.com/news/1021992/man-59-coronavirus-pandemic-kill-wife-son/>

Man pleads guilty killing former girlfriend while on parole for two murders

A man who killed his ex-girlfriend while on parole for two murders pled guilty to her slaying Tuesday in exchange for 50 years in prison.

Darrell Bernard Billingslea met Jessica Rae Lewalling on a telephone chat line sometime after he was released from prison in June 2007. They struck up a friendship and became romantically involved.

Then, in January 2008, Billingslea killed Lewalling -- possibly out of jealousy -- at her Lake Highlands apartment when the 23-year-old woman and her new boyfriend allowed him to spend the night because he had nowhere else to go.

Lewalling's aunt, Tracy Bewley, said after a court hearing that it was "gratifying" to hear Billingslea, now 38, admit the crime. But Lewalling's relatives said they don't understand why a man with his violent past was ever paroled.

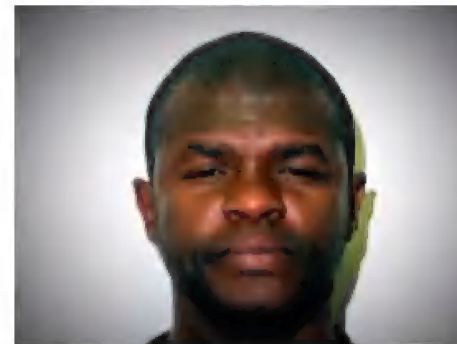

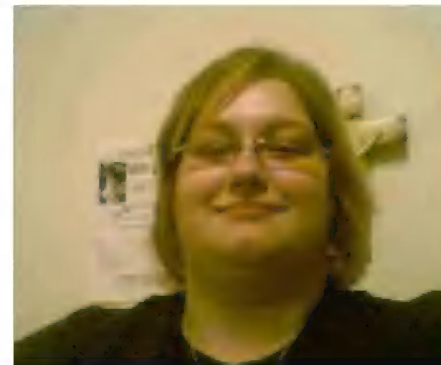

The night Billingslea killed Lewalling, he called her asking for a place to stay. Billingslea and her boyfriend, Demetrius Cooksey, at first said no, but then agreed.

Not long after he arrived at Lewalling's apartment near Skillman and Royal Lanes, Billingslea attacked Cooksey with what may have been a screwdriver. He suffered minor puncture wounds.

Billingslea then chased Lewalling and Cooksey ran outside for help. Someone outside called 911. Billingslea then walked outside, put on his jacket and walked away.

Cooksey went inside and found Lewalling on the floor, dead.

A kitchen knife was by her side. She dialed 911 on her phone but never hit send.

<https://www.dallasnews.com/news/crime/2009/07/28/man-pleads-guilty-killing-former-girlfriend-while-on-parole-for-two-murders/>

Man charged with murder in the death of girlfriend in North Ogden

She's stabbed after attempted breakup

By Deseret News | Jan 7, 2009, 12:00am MST

On her MySpace page, Brittany Nichols wrote, "You can't buy love, but you can pay heavily for it."

Her boyfriend, 21-year-old Johnny Maurice Bell, is accused of stabbing her to death after she tried to break up with him. On Tuesday, Bell was formally charged with first-degree felony murder and domestic violence in the presence of a child, a third-degree felony. North Ogden police revealed that Nichols' daughter may have witnessed the slaying.

"She has a child, a 2- or 3-year-old," Chief Polo Afuvai said Tuesday. "As far as we know, she was in there."

The chief said Bell had lived with Nichols, 23, "off and on" for the last four months. She had lived in her North Ogden condo for about a year, police said.

After he hadn't heard from her in a while, Nichols' father went to her home to check on her. Letting himself inside the home, he found blood and his daughter dead inside her bedroom. She had been stabbed numerous times in the torso, police said.

An acquaintance told investigators that Bell was on a bus headed to California. Utah Highway Patrol troopers stopped the Greyhound bus in Cove Fort, taking Bell into custody.

Brittany Nichols

Johnny Maurice Bell

<https://www.deseret.com/2009/1/7/20294950/man-charged-with-murder-in-the-death-of-girlfriend-in-north-ogden#brittany-nichols>

Ex-boyfriend of missing Texas woman arrested in West Michigan for burglary

Marks and Scott had been in a relationship, but family members said Scott left him because he was abusive. She sought a protective order against Marks after he reportedly broke into her Temple home in August, according to court documents. The Bell County court denied the order.

(Jenna Scott and her daughter, Emerie)

TEMPLE, TX — A judge has denied Cedric Marks' defense team's motion to allow the team to view DNA testing.

Marks is accused of killing his ex-girlfriend, Jenna Scott, and her friend, Michael Swearingin.

Texas prosecutors to seek death penalty for MMA fighter Cedric Marks, accused of two murders

The Associated Press

Published 4:54 p.m. ET Aug. 13, 2019

BELTON, Texas (AP) — Prosecutors in Texas plan to seek the death penalty for a professional MMA fighter accused in the deaths of two people whose bodies were found in a shallow grave in Oklahoma.

The Bell County District Attorney's Office has filed formal notice to seek the death penalty against Cedric Marks, 45, District Attorney Henry Garza said Monday.

Marks was indicted for the slayings of Jenna Scott, 28, and Michael Swearingin, 32, two friends who were killed on Jan. 3 at a residence in Killeen, Texas, about 127 miles southwest of Dallas, according to investigators.

Their bodies were found about a week later in a shallow grave in Clearview, Oklahoma, about 80 miles east of Oklahoma City.

Marks, Scott's ex-boyfriend, has pleaded not guilty. Michael White, one of Marks' attorneys, told the Temple Daily Telegram that Marks "was not surprised" that prosecutors will seek the death penalty and "is anticipating his day in court when his story is told."

<https://dfw.cbslocal.com/2019/08/13/texas-prosecutors-death-penalty-mma-fighter-cedric-marks-double-murder/>

<https://www.kxxv.com/hometown/bell-county/judge-denies-cedric-marks-defense-teams-motion-to-watch-dna-testing>

Accused killer Cedric Marks says suspected accomplice Maya Maxwell is pregnant with his baby in letter to Channel 6

The affidavit also says Maxwell, who is nearly five months pregnant, claims both Jenna and Michael were alive when they arrived at the home.

The Statesman reports how she said she first saw him enter a room with Swearingin. When Marks left the room Swearingin was dead, according to the affidavit.

He then went into a room with Scott who was also dead when he came out, the affidavit says. The medical examiner's office has not said how the pair were killed.

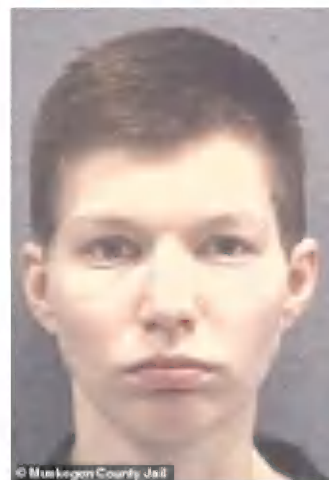

Scott and Swearingin's bodies were found in a shallow grave in Oklahoma two weeks after they vanished and Marks was arrested on charges including capital murder.

The affidavit also says Maxwell told police she was present when the bodies were moved more than 350 miles away.

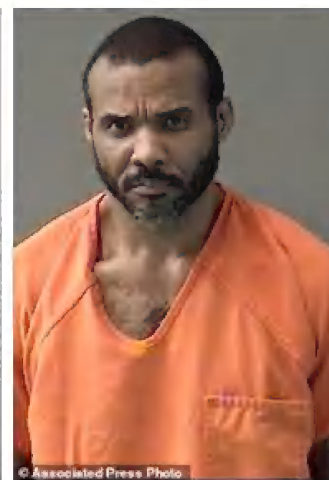

Pregnant girlfriend, 26, of MMA fighter suspected of killing his ex and her friend says she witnessed the murders in a Texas home and led police to their shallow grave 350 miles away

- Maya Maxwell told cops Cedric Marks killed Jenna Scott and Michael Swearingin
- Claims both Jenna and Michael were alive at the Killeen home
- She told police she then heard struggles between Marks and the two friends
- Maxwell, who is five months pregnant, is jailed on an evidence tampering charge after admitting to dumping Swearingin's car in Austin
- Scott and Swearingin's bodies were found in a shallow grave in Oklahoma
- Maxwell said she was present when the bodies were moved 350 miles away
- Cedric Marks was taken into custody after a nine-hour manhunt on Sunday

By LAUREN FRUEN FOR DAILYMAIL.COM and ASSOCIATED PRESS
PUBLISHED: 19:13 EDT, 5 February 2019 | UPDATED: 15:55 EDT, 6 February 2019

© Muskegon County Jail

© Associated Press Photo

Maya Maxwell, left, told Temple police that Cedric Marks, right, killed Jenna Scott, 28, and Michael Swearingin, 32, in a Killeen home that she was there, according to an affidavit.

In mid-March four pregnant women were in the Bell County Jail.

One of those women was Maya Maxwell, who was recently said by the baby's self-proclaimed father, Killeen resident Cedric Marks, to be about eight months pregnant.

Department of Family and Protective Services spokeswoman Mary Walker told FME News Service that Maxwell's baby — a boy — was born Sunday and was placed in the custody of Child Protective Services.

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-6671957/Affidavit-Woman-alleges-MMA-fighter-killed-pair-Texas.html>

https://kdhnews.com/news/crime/baby-born-to-capital-murder-suspect-in-killeen-temple-double-murder-case/article_e01ac03e-86d5-11e9-840e-4b685aa94030.html

Wife admits to hiding MMA fighter accused of double murder

Ginell McDonough, who is Marks' wife and the mother of two of his two children, is also jailed in Muskegon County, Michigan, on an obstruction of justice charge.

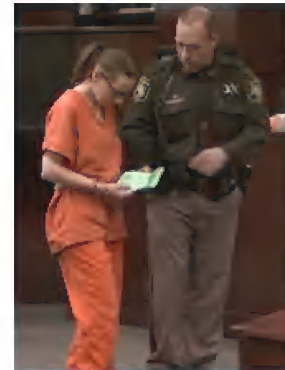

She is accused of allowing Marks and Maxwell to stay in her home between January 5 and January 9.

By Lynn Moore | lmoore8@mlive.com

MUSKEGON COUNTY, MI – The wife of a former MMA fighter facing the death penalty in a double-homicide case in Texas has pleaded guilty to hiding him from authorities.

Ginell McDonough, 38, of Muskegon is married to Cedric Joseph Marks, who is accused of killing a Texas couple in January 2019. She pleaded guilty Jan. 31 to harboring a fugitive whom she knew was wanted for a felony.

Following his arrest, Marks, a mixed martial arts fighter, escaped from a prisoner van and was missing for nine hours before his recapture.

McDonough admitted to allowing Marks to stay at her home in Muskegon even though she knew he was wanted in Texas. Prosecutors have also alleged that she lied to investigators about what she knew about Marks' alleged involvement in the homicides.

McDonough, a staff sergeant with the U.S. Army, also was accused of hiding at her Army Reserves office a suitcase containing Marks' identification as well as an assault rifle.

She is not expected to serve any jail time when she is sentenced Nov. 13. Muskegon County Circuit Judge Annette Smedley has agreed to a sentence of time served and probation, court records show.

<https://www.mlive.com/news/muskegon/2020/03/wife-admits-to-hiding-mma-fighter-accused-of-double-murder.html>

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-6671957/Affidavit-Woman-alleges-MMA-fighter-killed-pair-Texas.html>

Removed Her Teeth And Hands: MMA Fighter Kidnapped Mom Of His Child From Homeless Shelter And Killed Her

A former MMA fighter reportedly kidnapped and murdered the mother of his child after she went missing from a homeless shelter.

45-year-old Cedric Marks abducted April Pease from a homeless shelter in Minnesota and killed her in 2009.

At the time of the crime, the 2 were locked in a custody dispute.

The child of the 2 was left unharmed at the homeless shelter.

Pease and her child were originally in Washington, but they had to go to Minnesota so they can escape Marks, who had been abusing her physically.

34-year-old Kellee Sorenson, a woman, was charged in connection with the case.

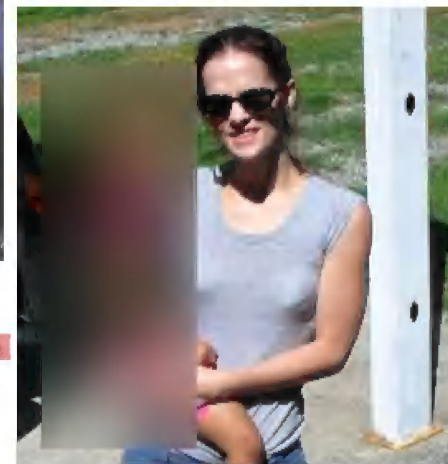

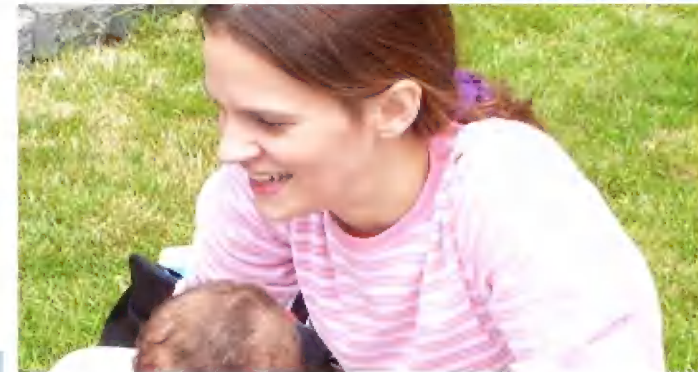

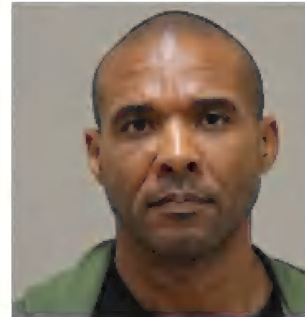

Sorenson told the police that the former MMA fighter murdered April Pease at an unknown location.

Marks killed Pease as Sorenson waited for him inside the car.

According to court documents, Pease was granted custody on March 2, 2009. Then a superseding order allowing placement with Marks was granted on March 20 when she disappeared. An "Order Allowing Continued Placement" with Marks was then entered on March 30, 2009, when Pease was still not heard from. The original order, on March 2, had ruled that Marks shouldn't have contact with Pease or the child by phone or telephone, but he could write letters. The court also said that Pease needed to help the child draw pictures to send to Marks. Pease was ordered to have a supervised urinalysis on March 4, 2009, with results provided to the court. You can read the full court documents, provided by KCEN, above.

April Pease and her mother

Sorenson and Marks drove off to another area with Pease. At some point, Marks took Pease out of the vehicle, put her in a chokehold and later dragged her out of Sorenson's sight. Marks later returned, crying, saying he killed Pease and removed her teeth and hands to prevent a possible identification. Pease's body has never been recovered.

<https://www.fox9.com/news/two-charged-with-murder-of-april-pease-on-11th-anniversary-of-her-disappearance>

<https://allindiaroundup.com/sports/removed-her-teeth-and-hands-mma-fighter-kidnapped-mom-of-his-child-from-homeless-shelter-and-killed-her/>

<https://heavy.com/news/2019/02/april-pease/>

Two charged with murder of April Pease on 11th anniversary of her disappearance

Kellee Kristine Sorenson, who said she helped find and capture April Pease in 2009 so murder suspect Cedric Marks could kill her, was released May 10 on bond, a jail roster shows.

Sorenson, 34, charged with second-degree murder with intent but without premeditation in the 2009 death of April Pease, was released from Hennepin County Jail in Minnesota on a $3,000 conditional bond.

- Former MMA fighter Cedric Joseph Marks, 45, was charged with killing the mother of his son in 2009
- April Pease, the mother of his then four-year-old son, was living at a battered women's shelter after Marks repeatedly beat her, police say
- Kellee Kristine Sorensen, 34, was also charged with second-degree murder in connection with Pease's murder
- Sorensen allegedly led Marks to the battered women's shelter where they beat and kidnapped Pease
- In 2019, Marks is also suspected of killing his ex-girlfriend Jenna Scott and her friend Michael Swearingin
- In February, Marks escaped custody when the police transporting him stopped to get food at a McDonald's in Houston
- Marks' record as an MMA fighter was 31-27-1 but he hadn't fought since 2018

By TAUREN DYSON FOR DAILYMIL.COM

PUBLISHED: 02:04 EDT, 18 March 2020 | UPDATED: 09:45 EDT, 18 March 2020

<https://www.bellinghamherald.com/news/local/crime/article241271901.html>

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-8124467/Former-MMA-fighter-charged-ex-girlfriends-death-11-years-later.html>

April Pease, RIP

A 34-year-old Lynden woman is one of two people charged in Minnesota for her alleged role in the killing of another woman who was abducted from a Bloomington domestic violence shelter 11 years ago, police say.

Hennepin County prosecutors on Monday, March 16, charged Kellee Kristine Sorensen with second-degree murder for the 2009 death of April Pease, according to a release by the Bloomington Police Department. The release said Sorensen is in custody in Washington state.

Cedric Joseph Marks, 45, of Belton, Texas, who had one child with Pease while they lived in Washington, also is facing second-degree murder charges, KTSP.com reported.

Kellee Kristine Sorensen

Colorado teen beaten to death in parking lot, ex-boyfriend arrested

By Elizabeth Elizalde February 16, 2021 | 8:20pm | Updated

Animal shelter volunteer, 18, is 'beaten to death by her ex-boyfriend, 21, in a parking lot'

- Stephen McNeil, 21, allegedly murdered 18-year-old Danielle Hopton on February 6
- McNeil was arrested on February 7 and booked into the Larimer County Jail
- He faces charges of first-degree murder, domestic violence, violation of a protection order, and violation of bail bond conditions

By ADAM SCHRADER FOR DAILYMMAIL.COM
PUBLISHED: 01:03 EST, 17 February 2021 | UPDATED: 01:25 EST, 17 February 2021

The ex-boyfriend of a Colorado teen who was found beaten to death in a parking lot has been arrested and charged with first-degree murder.

Stephen McNeil, 21, allegedly murdered 18-year-old Danielle Hopton in the parking lot of the Whispering Pines Apartments complex on February 6 after the two got in an argument, Fort Collins Police Services said in a press release.

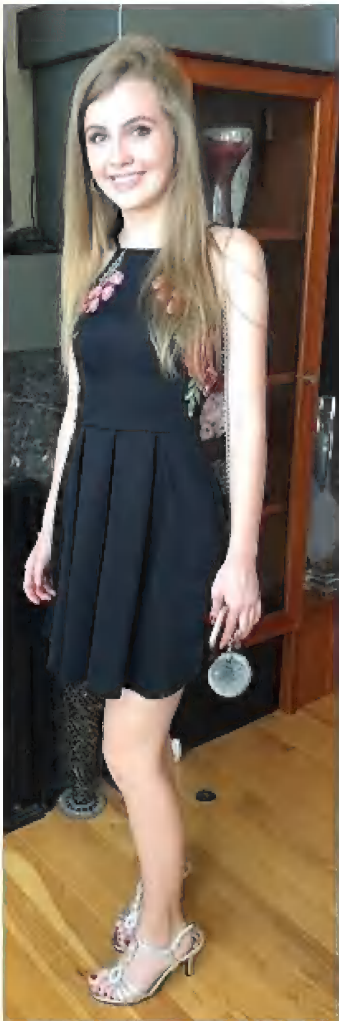

McNeil was arrested on February 7 and booked into the Larimer County Jail, and also faces charges for domestic violence, violation of a protection order, and violation of bail bond conditions.

Hopton and her ex-boyfriend McNeil had been socializing with a group of friends that evening and drove to the parking lot to hang out, cops said.

The former couple left the car to talk when McNeil allegedly assaulted Hopton and fled the scene, while one of the friends called 911.

Cops found Hopton with 'life-threatening injuries consistent with an assault' and she was taken to an area hospital where she died from her injuries.

The Larimer County Coroner's Office has ruled her death a homicide and said it will release her cause of death on a later date.

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-9268705/Ex-boyfriend-Colorado-teen-arrested-beating-death-apartment-complex-parking-lot.html>

Redford man charged with killing, mutilating woman

Published September 24, 2015 | News | FOX 2 Detroit

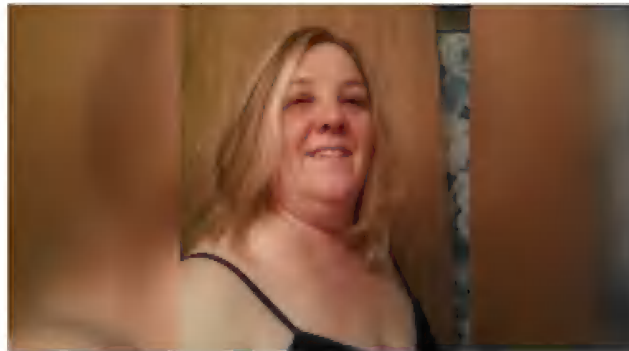

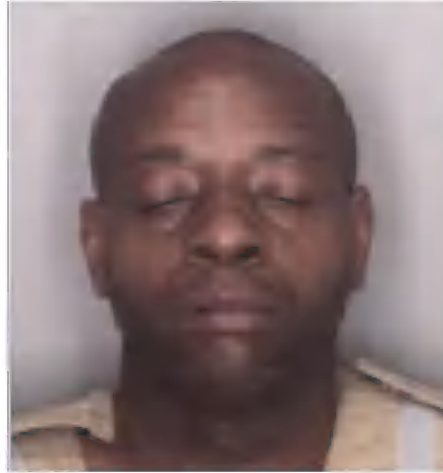

Dexter Lamar Williams, 44, was charged Thursday one count of first degree pre-meditated murder and mutilation of a dead body.

According to officials, Ann Marie Gorup, 46, was killed at her apartment at Lola Manor Park Apartments. Police said they were called to check on Gorup and when they arrived, they reported blood in several rooms and said there were several female body parts in the home.

Williams had been living with Gorup, police said, and they believe he killed her and mutilated her dead body. He was arrested at the scene.

Neighbors told us on Monday that Gorup lived with her boyfriend and her brother at the apartment.

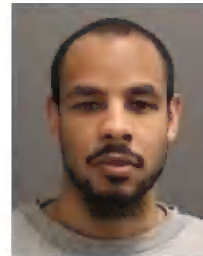

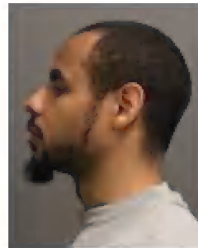

<https://www.fox2detroit.com/news/redford-man-charged-with-killing-mutilating-woman>

Man Charged With Murdering Ex-Girlfriend

Damone Christopher Williams-Tillman charged with murdering ex-girlfriend Josselyn Bishop

BY CAMILLE MANN
JULY 13, 2011 / 2:44 PM / CBS NEWS

Cops: Jealous boyfriend killed Minn. college student

(CBS/WCCO/AP) MANKATO, Minn. - Damone Christopher Williams-Tillman is accused of slashing the throat of his ex-girlfriend, 19-year-old Josselyn Bishop, after she told him she was seeing someone else.

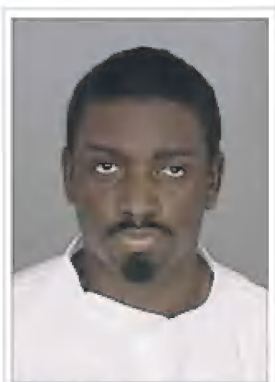

Williams-Tillman, 19, has been charged with second-degree murder in the Minnesota State University student's death. Her body was found in an industrial area of Mankato, about 90 miles southwest of St. Paul, last Friday.

<https://www.cbsnews.com/news/damone-christopher-williams-tillman-charged-with-murdering-ex-girlfriend-josselyn-bishop/>

TUESDAY, MAY 13, 2008

Ex-boyfriend charged in suburban Detroit woman's death

Robert Howard, 25, was charged with 1st degree murder for the disappearance and strangulation death of his girlfriend, Laci Anne Green, 22. He was Green's live-in boyfriend for 2 years until they broke up a month ago. Green returned to her mother's home in Dearborn Heights.

Green's parents awoke Wednesday morning and noticed their daughter was not in her bedroom; she had left for a walk with Howard hours earlier, police said. The parents did spot Howard in their backyard, but they were unable to find Green after a search of the area.

Police responded about 4:45 a.m. to a 911 call from Green's father and about 6:30 a.m. spotted the body lying in a field about a half-mile south on Hawley near Glenwood.

Howard was arrested shortly after. He gave police several admissions, but hasn't given a formal confession, said Sgt. Steve Borisch.

<http://victimsover18.blogspot.com/2008/05/ex-boyfriend-charged-in-suburban.html>

PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF MICHIGAN,

Plaintiff-Appellee,

v

ROBERT JAMES HOWARD,

Defendant-Appellant.

UNPUBLISHED
November 23, 2010

No. 294650
Wayne Circuit Court
LC No. 2008-11733-01

Before: O'CONNELL, P.J., and BANDSTRA and MURRAY, JJ.

PER CURIAM.

Defendant appeals as of right his bench trial conviction of first-degree premeditated murder, MCL 750.316(1)(a). The court sentenced defendant to natural life in prison. We affirm.

I. FACTS

This case arises out of the failed relationship between defendant and the victim, Laci Green, which ended in her death on May 7, 2008. A few weeks before her death, Green had attempted to end her eight-year relationship with defendant, a relationship during which defendant had periodically abused her both physically and verbally. Defendant admitted he was upset with Green over how she had treated him during the breakup, and on the date in question, took a cab to Green's condominium subdivision in Westland where Green lived with her parents. Defendant, who had been calling Green's cellular phone, arrived around 12:45 a.m. Notably, Green's mother indicated that Green had returned home that night around 12:30 a.m.

Around 7:00 that morning, police found Green's body in a field near her home lying face up, covered in grass clippings, with her hands over her head. The condition of her body, clothing and lines in the grass indicated that the body was dragged to that location. Wounds on the body were consistent with manual strangulation. Notably, defendant—whom the police found with grass clippings on his shoes and pants—admitted to police after his subsequent arrest that he thought Green was strangled; however, defendant made this claim before the cause of death had been determined.

http://publicdocs.courts.mi.gov:81/opinions/final/coa/20101123_C294650_36_294650.OPN.PDF

Reading man is charged in slaying

Glenn Lyons was having an affair with the victim, Kathy A. Leibig, whom he stabbed 30 times, investigators say.

Glenn is the youngest of six children. Growing up, he took care of his mother who was crippled by arthritis. He also allegedly helped care for his neighbor who was a quadriplegic. Glenn had previously been convicted for armed robbery.

Glenn Lyons and Kathy Leibig worked together at Linette Quality Chocolates in Lebanon, Pennsylvania. The two eventually began having an affair. By May 1, 2008, Kathy wanted to end the affair. Lyons did not. Lyons and Kathy were in her SUV parked in the parking lot of Wernersville State Hospital. That day, Kathy was stabbed approximately 30 times, resulting in her death. Following her death, Lyons went on a three-day drug binge.

A woman who claimed to be Lyons' girlfriend called police and informed them that Lyons had called her and told her that he was "on the run." She also told police that Lyons and Kathy were having an affair. Police obtained a search warrant and discovered kitchen knives in his apartment that were linked to the crime. Additionally, a security camera caught Lyons throwing away a bag which contained a bloodstained sweatshirt and several of item belonging to Kathy.

Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

COMMONWEALTH of Pennsylvania, Appellee v. Glenn LYONS, Appellant.

No. 646 CAP.

Decided: October 30, 2013

I. Factual and Procedural History

This matter arises from the May 1, 2008 disappearance and death of Kathy Leibig in Berks County, Pennsylvania. That evening, Leibig's husband returned home from work to find her missing, and, when she did not return by morning, he reported her disappearance to police. N.T., 5/26/11–5/27/11, at 171–81. In the ensuing investigation, officers reviewed Leibig's mobile telephone records, discovering over 100 calls, including her most recent call, between her mobile telephone and two numbers registered to Appellant. Id. at 181–83, 255–57. The officers sought to contact Appellant via telephone and at his Reading apartment concerning Leibig's whereabouts, but to no avail. Id. at 257–58.

Subsequently, on May 4, 2008, a bystander spotted Leibig's car in a Berks County parking lot. Her husband rushed to the scene, where he discovered her body in the bloodied cabin of her car, naked from the waist down and apparently dead from numerous stab wounds to her head and upper body. Id. at 19–27, 65–90, 167–69; N.T., 5/30/11–6/2/11, at 199–217. Officers processed the crime scene, taking numerous photographs depicting the area, the car, and the location and position of the body, prepared various items for forensic testing, and recovered two broken kitchen knives apparently used in the attack. N.T., 5/26/11–5/27/11, at 38–43, 65–90.

Later that day, Trooper Thomas Weaver took a statement from Betsy Rupp, who identified herself as Appellant's girlfriend, and who had previously worked with both Leibig and Appellant at a local candy store. Id. at 218–19, 223. Rupp indicated that Leibig and Appellant were involved in a relationship and that, the previous day, Appellant had called her in distress. Id. at 219, 224–26. Rupp told Trooper Weaver that, during the call, she asked why Appellant had not called her, and he responded that he was "on the run" in Northeast Philadelphia, would not be returning to Reading, and that she could have anything she wanted from his apartment. Id. at 225–28.

<https://caselaw.findlaw.com/pa-supreme-court/1648252.html>

<https://www.theforgivenessfoundation.org/index.php/40-news/general/2252-glenn-lyons-of-pennsylvania-granted-stay-ahead-of-august-21-2014-execution>

Lance Taylor found guilty of murdering girlfriend in 2016

Caller Times

NEWS

Six days after reporting domestic violence, Noemi Villarreal was dead

Natalia Contreras and Krista Torralva Caller-Times

Published 4:36 p.m. CT Oct. 23, 2017

Noemi Villarreal Contributed

But above all, Noemi Villarreal, 45, was an incredible mother, her sister said Tuesday.

Noemi Villarreal doted on her son, who she called her Boy Wonder in Facebook posts.

"He was her everything," Nydia Villarreal said.

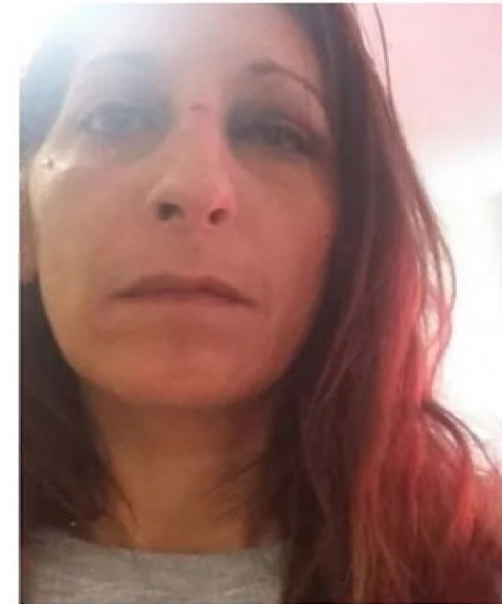

Noemi Villarreal, who loved music and shopping, was killed June 8, 2016. She was strangled, stuffed naked into a city garbage bin, transported to an area near Oso Bay and lit on fire, according to an arrest affidavit for her suspected killer and an autopsy report.

"My sister ... lived for her son and her grandchildren. She was my awesome Wonder Woman," Nydia Villarreal said.

Lance Taylor, 28, was arrested Monday on suspicion of murder after detectives obtained a warrant.

Nydia Villarreal said her sister had known Taylor for several years but started dating him about three months ago.

Six days after Villarreal called Corpus Christi police in June hoping to escape an abusive boyfriend her naked, strangled, burned body was discovered stuffed in a trash can in a grassy field near Oso Bay.

Noemi Villarreal's face was bruised after she said her boyfriend Lance Taylor hit her, according to a police report.

<https://www.caller.com/story/news/2017/10/23/six-days-after-reporting-domestic-violence-noemi-villarreal-dead/792435001/>

Man charged with murder after girlfriend dies from beating attack

By Jennifer Baker | June 14, 2016 at 1:06 PM EDT - Updated July 1 at 8:05 PM

MOUNT AUBURN, OH (FOX19) - A man jailed on $1 million bond in the alleged beating attack of his girlfriend faces an upgraded charge of murder after she died, Cincinnati police said Tuesday.

Darrell Scott Jr., 29, was arrested Sunday on a felonious assault charge. Cincinnati fire crews responded to a report of an unconscious female inside an apartment, in the 2400 block of Maplewood Avenue just after 10 p.m. Saturday, homicide investigators said.

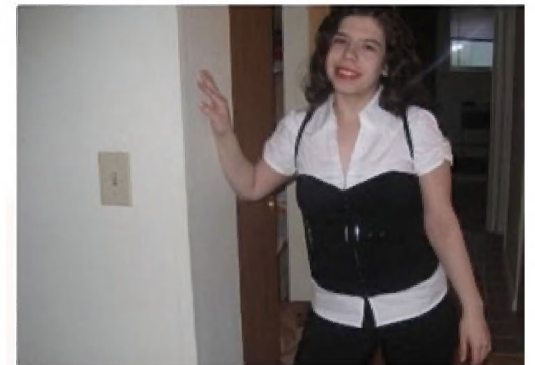

Yelena Landesman

Darrell Scott Jr.

gofundme

Funeral for Yelena Landesman

CINCINNATI (WKRC) - Police have upgraded the charge against a Mt. Auburn man accused of assaulting a woman, now that she has died.

Darrell Scott, 29, is charged with murder.

Police say Yelena Landesman was found unconscious in his apartment on Maplewood Avenue on June 11. She was taken to UC Medical Center. Police say she died from her injuries late on Monday, June 13.

<https://www.wcpo.com/news/local-news/hamilton-county/cincinnati/man-charged-with-murder-after-beating-victim-succumbs-to-injuries>

Boy found his mom dead at Gastonia murder scene, 911 call reveals

August 30, 2011 at 5:47 PM EDT - Updated June 25 at 8:49 AM

GASTON COUNTY, NC (WBTV) - A 911 call reveals new details about the murder of a woman whose body was discovered by family members outside the victim's home late Sunday night.

Christina "Kristy" McCall, 34, was found sometime after 11 p.m. at 129 Midwood Lane south of Belmont.

Police later developed information that her boyfriend, Franklin Jamell White, was the suspect in the shooting and that he fled to York County.

During a confrontation with sheriff's deputies Monday morning, White was shot and killed by deputies. Click to read more on this story.

From the 911 call, it appears McCall's son, Dylan, had been sleeping inside the house. He later told his grandfather that his mother went outside, he heard a car, and later found his mother's body in the driveway. The son immediately called his grandparents who came to the crime scene.

The victim's father, James Boyd, called 911 at 11:19 p.m.

Father: Has she been shot?
Mother: I don't know, I can't tell. I think she has... Tell 'em to come now.
911: You say she is just bleeding from the head. Is that the only place she is bleeding from?
Father: That's the only place I can see.
911: You don't see any other type of wound or anything? It's just blood?
Father: Its dark up here.
Woman: Where are they? C'mon baby!!
Father: Kristy... Kristy...
911: Hold on sir, lemme check to see where they're at.
Father: Kristy...
Woman: No!!!
911: We've got a unit coming down Southpoint Road right now sir in Belmont, ok?
Woman: (inaudible) be careful baby? She's been shot!!! C'mon... Kristy!!!

While waiting for police and paramedics to arrive, the 911 operator asks the father if he heard a weapon fired.

911: Did y'all hear a gunshot?
Father: No sir. I had just went to bed at 11 o'clock. A little before.
Woman: Here they come...
(ambulance siren in background)
Woman: Who are you? (to someone who walked up) She's been shot...

The victim's father then turns to his grandson and asks him if heard anything.

Father: (to woman) Did Dylan hear anything?
(to 911 operator) My grandson says he heard a shot...

911: Can you ask him how long ago that was?
Father: Dylan, did you hear a shot?
Victim's son: Yes, I was still awake. About 10 minutes ago, it had to have been. I heard a car door. Mom came outside.
911: Did they see the vehicle?
Father: Did you see the vehicle?
Victim's son: No, I didn't see nothing.

Then, the father reveals information about an altercation between his daughter and White.

Father: Her and her boyfriend has been fighting.
911: What's her name?
Father: Kristy McCall.
911: Do you know her boyfriend's name?
Father: Frank White.
911: Frank - what?
Father: White. W-h-i-t-e.
911: Ok.

<https://www.wbvtv.com/story/15360307/dramatic-911-call-reveals-new-details-about-gastonia-womans-murder/>